

Bus, Truck Crash Kills Nine People

Vehicle Filled With Christmas Travelers Hits Cattle Car Driving on Wrong Side of Road

Tucson, Ariz., —(U)— Folks were laughing. Most were going home for Christmas, laden with gifts. Then about eight miles east of Tucson yesterday their scencruiser Greyhound bus collided headon with a cattle truck traveling on the wrong side of the road.

Seven aboard the bus were killed along with both truck drivers. Thirty-two others on the bus were injured, five critically.

Thirty cattle, mostly calves, were killed on impact. Their blood spilled across the highway in a river, mingling with that of dead and injured people. Some of the maimed animals had to be shot.

Highway Patrolman Jimmy Williams called it the "bloodiest accident I've ever seen."

Missed Sign

Williams said "Truck Driver James R. Stewart of Del Rio, Texas, apparently missed a 'keep right' sign where the road divided for repairs. The truck, he said, was on the wrong side when it struck the Los Angeles-to-New Orleans bus.

The double-decked truck was hauling 67 steers from Jackson, Miss., to Arlington, Ariz.

"God bless that man who told us to sit still and shut up," said Delois Gaines, 39, a restaurant worker from Los Angeles. "If it weren't for him, we probably would have hurt each other trying to get out."

Mrs. Osbelia (Osbie) Butler, 24, of Moses Lake, Wash., and Richmond, Calif., was taking her 5-year-old daughter Stella to San Antonio.

Saw a Cow

"All of a sudden I started flying through the air," said Mrs. Butler. "Then about four people fell on me. I looked up. There was a cow's bleeding head looking at me through the window."

"I could hear Stella crying. A woman was screaming. Then a man started pulling people off me."

Stella, pushed under a broken seat, was almost unscratched.

Mrs. Margaret Rodden, Johnny's mother, said she and her two sons were going to Lubbock, Texas, to be with her mother, Mrs. Beulah Easter.

"Johnny told me he wanted a drink of water," she sobbed. "He insisted he could get it himself and you know how 7-year-olds are."

Bus Swerved

Then the driver slammed on the brakes. I tried to get out of my seat to go to him, but the next thing I knew I went through a window and was caught by two men outside."

She suffered concussion and the surviving son, Charles, had a head injury.

Near Springfield, Ohio, a teenaged girl was killed and 36 persons were injured when another Greyhound bus skidded on an icy highway, overturned and rolled into a ditch.

Youth Drowns

Pewaukee —(U)— Ten-year-old Ronald Grulke of Pewaukee, drowned Sunday when he broke through the ice on the west end of Pewaukee Lake while skating with several companions. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Grulke.

City Gives Christmas to 2 Children

St. Louis —(U)— It will be a merry Christmas after all for 9-year-old David Olive and his sister, Joan, 6.

A thief broke into their home Friday night and stole $75 worth of toys, all that Mrs. Delores Olive had bought for her children. She is unemployed.

When St. Louisans learned of their plight, the picture changed. First the store where she bought the toys offered to replace them. The Government Employees Mart wired an offer of $25 worth of toys. A man brought a record player and a family sent a box of games and books. Employees of a service station sent $11 and a ticket redeemable for a Christmas turkey.

Joan had seen the box in the closet and when it was stolen, Mrs. Olive said, "she thought she must have been bad and Santa Claus came and took it back."

Woman Tells of Kennedy Support

Milwaukee —(U)— Mrs. Vel Phillips, Democratic national committeewoman from Wisconsin, Monday announced her support of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) for the party's presidential nomination.

Mrs. Phillips, a Milwaukee alderman, said she thinks Kennedy has the best approach to domestic and international issues, the best understanding of human problems and the best chance to win the election if he decides to seek the nomination.

"Each conversation I have had with Sen. Kennedy has increased my feeling that he has the great heart and imagination and the stubborn integrity that are needed to make a great president," said Mrs. Phillips.

Pilot Saves Lives of Passengers in Landing

Cumberland, Md. —(U)— It was a almost a cliff-hanger when an airliner carrying three crewmen and 31 passengers made an emergency landing during the weekend at Cumberland municipal airport.

Pilot W. E. Carneal turned the trick in a 40 m.p.h. crosswind and with only one engine, coming to a halt just 15 feet from the edge of a 60-foot cliff. No one was hurt.

The Trans World Airlines plane was on a flight from Washington to Columbus, Ohio, when one engine went dead Saturday night. Carneal couldn't contact the Cumberland field but did reach the Martinsburg, W. Va., airport, which relayed word to Cumberland to turn on its runway lights.

90-Year-Old Gives Alarm

Lima, Ohio —(U)— Six elderly or middle-aged men were killed in a fire that swept through the upper floor of the 2-story Holleran hotel here Sunday night.

The victims were identified by police as Barney McCloskey, about 50; John Phalen, about 67; Patrick Moran, about 68; Fred McCoy, about 60; Basil Kierucok, 52, and Thomas O'Day, 89. The hotel catered to railroaders and old-age pensioners.

The remains of two or three of the men were badly charred, while the others apparently were victims of the intense heat and thick smoke that permeated their rooms.

The building, on Lima's south side, is probably 60 or 70 years old, police said. While the upstairs interior where the fire broke out virtually was destroyed, firemen contained the blaze and the frame of the building remained standing. Neighboring establishments were unaffected and the fire did not spread to

Drive Opens To Start War on Ads

Government Meeting Gives 2-Day Course To Stop Fraudulents

Washington —(U)— The government today opened a drive to recruit millions of consumers in a war on false advertising and fraudulent selling.

The federal trade commission invited representatives of 47 civic, consumer and welfare groups into its first "conference on public deception" — 2-day course in how to spot phony merchandising and what to do about it.

Chairman Earl W. Kintner told the delegates that FTC's records on thousands of cases against gyp operators contain information which "the public needs and hasn't been getting."

First in Series

If this conference proves useful, Kintner said in his prepared opening statement, it will become the first in a series of meetings to which additional groups will be invited.

"We believe that the organizations and individuals here are but the vanguard of an army of thoughtful citizens willing to assist in alerting the public to tricky merchandising," Kintner said.

The consumer education campaign was conceived before the quiz show and payola scandals, but has gained impetus from these and from recent criticism of questionable TV commercials and other misleading advertising.

Officials Primed

FTC officials were primed for the sessions with reports on adroitly phrased ads which misleadingly imply medical approval or government endorsement; spurious sales at big reductions from fictitious "regular" prices; mislabeling of furs and fabrics; "bait" advertising — the offering of bargains which, when the customer comes into the store, aren't available; and other illegal tricks.

Reputable businessmen will welcome the "sharper-eyed" buyer who no longer stumbles into the traps set by the larcenous few," Kintner assured the meeting. It is galling to an honest merchant, he said, to see customers "flocking to a competitor whose bargains are as rotten as his morals."

Helps Out Firemen In Unlikely Spot

Somerville, N. J. —(U)— Frank LaMonica was a 1-man fire squad Sunday when he spotted a blaze in a building across the street from his home in Raritan borough. Without asking help, he evacuated equipment and put out the fire with hand extinguishers.

He even routed 15 reserve policemen who were having a party on the second floor of the building—the local firehouse.

Eau Claire Police Hunt Man Who Attacked Four Women

Assailant Seizes Victims During Half-Light of Saturday Morning

Eau Claire —(U)— "We've got something pretty eerie," said authorities pressing a search for the man who attacked four women in different parts of the city during the half-light of morning.

"This sort of thing, usually comes at night," Sgt. Robert Running of the police department said Sunday. "But all four attacks were early Saturday morning while it was growing light. People were out on their way to work."

Running said that none of the women was raped and that the man took a purse only from one.

Pretty Eerie

"We've got something pretty eerie," Running said. "The man sneaked up on all of them, grabbed them by the throat and threw them to the ground."

Running said the women, who were from 19 to 24 years old, said their attacker was white and about six feet tall. They could not furnish police with any further details except the similarity of the attacks. Authorities said none of the women was believed to have been seriously hurt.

The man seized one of his victims as she returned home after driving her husband to work and was putting the car in the garage, and another as she waited for a bus.

Frightened Away

A passing automobile or pedestrian apparently frightened the man away when he tried to drag one of the women into an empty lot, Running said.

"He used the element of surprise in each case," Running said. "None of the women had time to cry for help, at least someone could hear them."

Running said that the attacks occurred within a 45 minute period and because they were in different parts of the city indicated the man had an automobile. He said police also are conducting their investigation on the theory the man worked a late shift at some plant and for that reason chose early morning hours for the attacks.

Paris —(U)— President Eisenhower put in a plug today for an old friend's product, then quickly amended it.

Cautioning employees of the U. S. embassy against getting upset by adverse criticism, he told them to ignore it "and have a drink of Coca Cola — oh, oh — I mean have a soft drink."

The president explained he was amending his remark because he had been accused in the past of being commercial in his remarks. One of his good friends and frequent golfing companions is William E. Robinson, board chairman of the Coca Cola company.

Eisenhower will have to change dates with a royal visitor if Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev agrees to a summit conference the last week in April. King Mahendra of Nepal is scheduled to begin a state visit to Washington April 27, the date the allies suggested to Khrushchev that the East-West meeting start in Paris.

The White House is trying to get the monarch to visit Washington earlier.

Bronx Woman Dies Without Knowing She Gave Birth to Child

New York —(U)— Mrs. Mary Materasso, 27, died Sunday without ever knowing she had given birth to a daughter. The baby died Saturday.

Mrs. Materasso had been in a coma at Misericordia hospital for a week after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage at her Bronx apartment. Thursday doctors delivered a premature baby while the woman remained unconscious in an iron lung.

The mother and baby will be buried together on Christmas Eve.

Czech Accused of Poisoning Attempt Is 'On Vacation'

Salzburg, Austria —(U)—The Czechoslovak consulate general said that Jaroslav Nemec, accused of trying to poison staff members of the Munich office of Radio Free Europe (RFE), is on vacation and it is not known if he will ever return here.

The spokesman said Nemec would spend Christmas in Czechoslovakia.

Fisherman Finds Doctor With Skull Crashed

Raymond Dyer Higgins Never Conscious, Dies in San Francisco

San Francisco —(U)— A doctor, his skull crushed by hammer blows, was found dying near the beach by a fisherman Sunday.

Dr. Raymond Dyer Higgins, 40, deputy medical officer in charge of Marine hospital, lay face down on desolate dunes at the edge of Ft. Funston when an unidentified surf fisherman saw him about 5 p.m. and called for help.

Higgins, who came here in July from New York, died at Mission emergency hospital two hours later without regaining consciousness.

Find Weapon
Police found the bloody murder weapon, a sheet metal worker's heavy hammer, 10 feet from the body.

"He apparently put up a terrible struggle," Police Inspector Frank Gibeau said. "His clothing was all but ripped from his body."

Missing were Higgins' wallet and all other identification except his last name written in the waistband of his slacks.

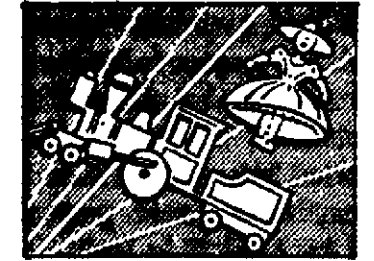

His wife, Lucy, 32, identified him late Sunday night.

She went to the police to report her husband missing after he went on his usual Sunday morning hike along the beach at 11 a. m. and did not return.

Loved Ocean
"Deep love for the ocean, the waves," led him to the spot where he was killed, Mrs. Higgins said.

Several hours after the attack, officers arrested Carl F. Roberts, a husky 35-year-old laborer, a mile from the scene and questioned him about Dr. Higgins' death. Police Sgt. Oscar Tully said, "there had been complaints of a big man prowling cars and our car spotlight picked him out." Roberts declared he was only "looking for my girl." He was booked for a vagrancy investigation.

Dr. Higgins was a native of Eastport, Maine. The specialist in surgery came here in July from the U. S. public health service hospital in New York. He was a practicing physician in Dennyville, Maine, in 1958.

6 Men Killed in Blaze That Burned Upper Floor of 2-Story Lima Hotel

Lima, Ohio —(U)— Six elderly or middle-aged men were killed in a fire that swept through the upper floor of the 2-story Holleran hotel here Sunday night.

The victims were identified by police as Barney McCloskey, about 50; John Phalen, about 67; Patrick Moran, about 68; Fred McCoy, about 60; Basil Kierucok, 52, and Thomas O'Day, 89. The hotel catered to railroaders and old-age pensioners.

The remains of two or three of the men were badly charred, while the others apparently were victims of the intense heat and thick smoke that permeated their rooms.

The building, on Lima's south side, is probably 60 or 70 years old, police said. While the upstairs interior where the fire broke out virtually was destroyed, firemen contained the blaze and the frame of the building remained standing. Neighboring establishments were unaffected and the fire did not spread to a dining room, bar and carry-out store in the first floor of the hotel building.

Cause Unknown

Cause of the blaze yet is unknown.

Reports to the police department, Patrolman Clarence Briggs related, were that O'Day, who would have reached age 90 in about a week, became aware the place was afire and ran through the upstairs hall shouting for the others. One unidentified occupant, Briggs said, made his escape out his room window over a roof and down a tree, but five never got out of their rooms.

O'Day was found at the top of the stairs, where he apparently had fallen and collapsed.

The hotel is operated by Mrs. May Muhlbaugh, whose family operate the downstairs businesses. Mrs. Muhlbaugh reportedly was at her desk in the lobby when someone told her the place was on fire. Disheartened, she was unable to recall how to telephone the fire

Measure Many Things

First Space Man Will Be Completely Wired

The payload of the first manned satellite, a human being, will be "instrumented" with nearly as many devices for measuring his physical reactions as the present satellite payloads carry for measuring properties of outer space, according to a national publication.

At least 17 different wires and instruments will be attached to the pilot's skin. They will measure his respiration rate, temperature, blood pressure, heart sounds, skin resistance, his electroencephalogram—brain wave pattern—and his electrocardiogram—the electrical activity of his heart.

In the actual satellite flights, still months in the future the information picked up by the sensing system will be radioed to monitoring spacemen's reactions to simulated space environments—are under-going full scale laboratory tests.

Indicate Troubles
The measuring instruments, called transducers, are attached to the pilot's skin because internal instruments, although more accurate, would limit his freedom of movement and also be uncomfortable.

The respiration readings, obtained from a strain gage mounted on the pilot's face mask, would tell much more than the fact that the pilot is simply breathing, and therefore alive. A pattern indicating heavy breathing would be typical during or after heavy exercise.

A rapid breathing pattern might show the pilot is having trouble getting enough oxygen.

Temperature measurements from seven devices mounted at various points on his body will detect abnormal fever or subnormal cold in the entire body, or the pilot's fingers or toes can show poor circulation of the blood—common in conditions of shock.

Blood pressure is measured by two small cuffs mounted like rings on the joints of one finger. They operate on much the same principle as the standard, but much larger, pressure device used by doctors.

Check Emotional State
External heart sounds are useful in determining the operation of the heart valves. Under abnormal acceleration or reduced gravity conditions, the valve functions can change and temporary malfunctions are possible. These are detected by a small microphone positioned over the heart.

The galvanic skin response is a measure of the direct current resistance of the skin between two electrodes attached to the body. Resistance decreases markedly with emotional changes and with reactions to unexpected external stimuli. Thus the general emotional state of the pilot and his response to an emergency can be checked.

The electrocardiogram is a standard clinical tool. Various changes in the heart's electrical activities reflect various disturbances and disorders. The electrodes will be placed on the chest and back, instead of on the arms and legs as is done in a clinic, to allow greater freedom in the pilot's movements.

The electroencephalogram provides an indication of the pilot's general alertness by determining the pattern of his brain waves. Electrodes to pick up the waves are attached to the scalp and forehead, but a suitable preamplifying device—very low noise differential, yet small, light and requiring little power—has yet to be developed.

To Your Good Health

If Shaving Causes Ingrown Hairs, Use Depilatory Creams

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: As far back as I can remember, I have always had problems with ingrown hairs after shaving. At times I have to dig them out with a needle."

"I've tried all kinds of razors, special soaps and other preparations, but the problem remains. In my job I have to meet the public and feel like an adolescent with this skin problem. Any assistance will be appreciated.—J.M.C."

There is no simple answer to this problem other than a couple of suggestions which I will offer.

The condition is known as pseudofolliculitis of the beard, and it appears in men in whom the beard hairs have a curve too much. When a hair is cut, it tends to curve and re-enter the skin and then, of course keep growing. Left to itself, such a hair will sometimes cause quite a lump, displace the hair (being curly) rolls up into a steadily larger little ball.

Skin Drawn Taut

When you shave, the skin is drawn taut, and each hair of the beard is cut off short. Then the skin tension is relaxed, the remaining stub of hair drops back below the surface of the skin, and as it grows out (with that curl or curve) the sharp edge of the hair digs into the skin.

Out of the several thousand hairs, one finds the situation just right—for it, that is, not for you. It catches in the skin, continues to curl, and forces its way inside. Then you have an ingrown hair.

When that happens, you have to dig the hair out again. You know that from experience. (I gather that you know the precautions to take. For people who are encountering this for the first time, because they are younger, I'll add some advice on what to do. First, use a sterilized needle. Second, swab the area with alcohol, to neutralize any germs lurking on the skin. Then work delicately with the needle, because deep digging may cause some scarring. Finally, give one more dab of alcohol afterward, for safety.)

Two Choices
You can't solve the problem by changing razors. Neither is there any known way of making curly hair become straight. (Nor, unhappily for the other sex, is there any way to make straight hair become permanently curly.)

There are, in short, two choices. Give up shaving and let your beard grow or use a depilatory cream, which dissolves the hair, leaving rounded edges instead of sharp ones. Of the two, I would say the latter is usually the better choice for most men. The cream should be applied every two or three days, with no shaving in between. Powdering in between uses of cream will help the appearance of the skin, and as it grows out (with that curl or curve) the sharp edge of the hair digs into the skin.

I'd say—that consulting a dermatologist (skin specialist) will be helpful. He can give you tips on how best to use the above methods.

De Gaulle Termed Split Personality Leader

Proud of France, Humble Personally, but Sees Self as Country's Spirit, Alsop Says

BY JOSEPH ALSOP

Paris — The giant, mysterious American leaders have lous and glacial figure of Charles de Gaulle towers over the allied scene here, rather in the manner of the statue of the Comendatore in Mozart's "Don Giovanni." A good many even fear de Gaulle will end by dragging the western alliance into ruin, as the statue of the commander, come to life, ended by dragging Don Juan down into hell.

It begins to be urgent to penetrate the mystery and to see the motives of the man himself. The best clue perhaps lies in de Gaulle's habit of speaking of himself sometimes in the first person and sometimes in the third.

In his superb memoirs of the last war, this peculiarity is carried so far that a single sentence describes a crowd "cheering Charles de Gaulle" and "taking my hand." A friend once asked him to explain this strange grammatical construction. He replied "simply that the people in the crowd were not cheering de Gaulle the individual. They were cheering the image of Charles de Gaulle which had come to stand for France's hope and France's freedom. Hence the third person in this passage. But the hand they shook belonged to Charles de Gaulle, the individual, all too human man. Hence, the first person in this passage."

Image and Individual
It had been a great and humbling shock, de Gaulle continued, when he, a mere brigadier general, first discovered the power of the image of himself the war was creating. Since then, Charles de Gaulle-the image had all ways been a heavy burden for Charles Marie Andre Joseph de Gaulle - the individual. There is no exact parallel for the curious mixture of personal modesty and deep, unshakable sense of mission which the foregoing story reveals. It also reveals the rea-

Gaulle speaks of a Franco-Russian understanding as po-tentially useful, not merely as a safeguard against German aggression, but also to count-er "the Anglo-Saxon at-tempt to the rebirth of France, at hegemony." De Gaulle does not look at the modern world through the same eyes with the other western leaders, until a more vigorous Ameri-If driven too far he is also capable of actions that would a profound examination of the downright horrify not merely strategic basis of the western the other western leaders but alliance. But if and when this of the alliance, but one of its also his own people, sadly overdue examination is great strengths. These facts about de Gaulle finally made, one may hope

Lawmen Divided Over Use of Dogs as Police

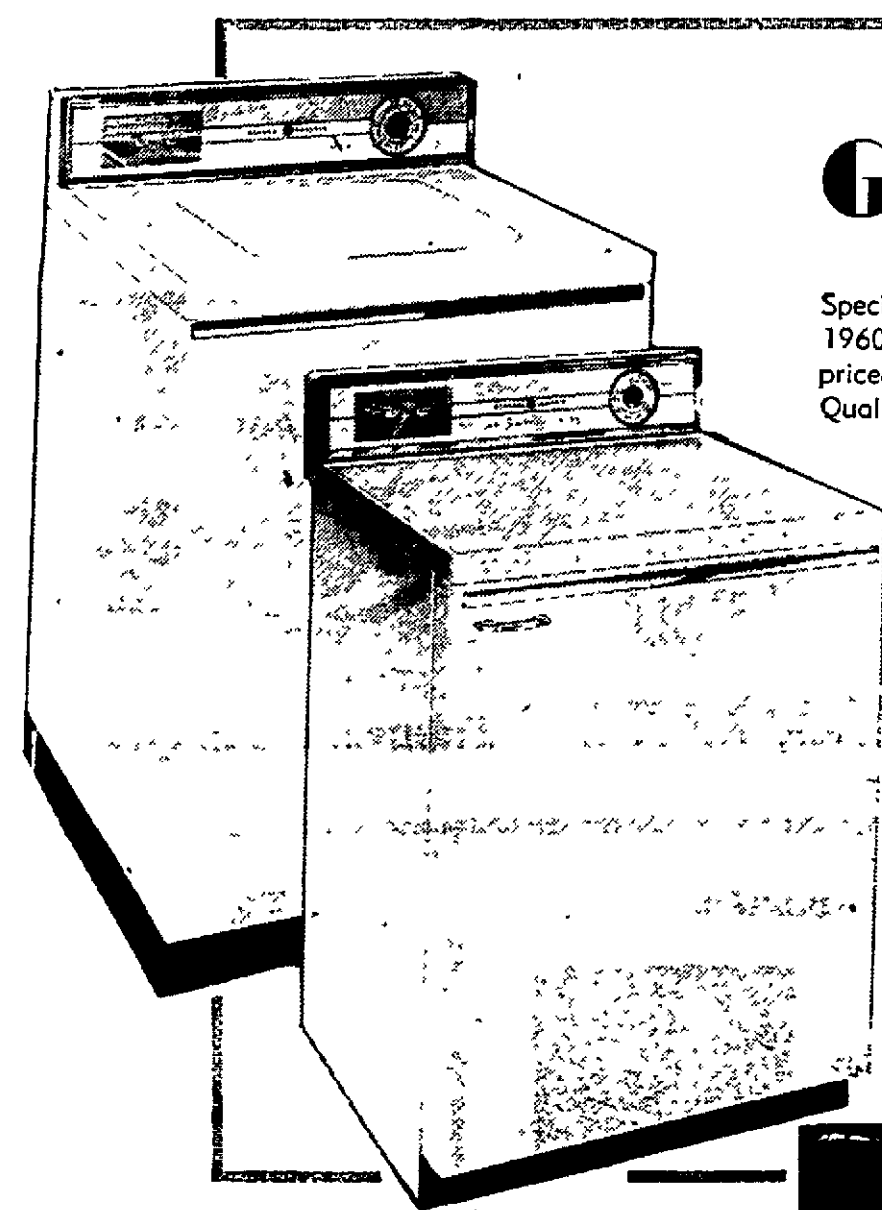

Los Angeles — Dogs as cops? California lawmen are divided over the idea. "Recruiting is difficult enough," Deputy Chief Roger E. Murdock of Los Angeles police told a state assembly subcommittee Friday. "And the prospect of being tied to a dog is no inducement to joining the police force." The subcommittee was studying a proposal that dogs be used as policemen's partners. But Bob Bender of the Sacramento police force likes the idea.

Monday, Dec. 21, 1959 Appleton Post-Crescent A6
"If properly trained, a dog can be a police officer's best friend," he said. "I might question the stability of a human partner — whether he would back me up in a crisis — but not a trained dog." Fred Reed, a trainer from Saratoga in Santa Clara county, asserted: "One dog can handle a crowd that would require several men. The mere presence of a dog can break up a riot." Committee Chairman S. C. Masterson said preliminary studies with 20 dogs show initial training cost for man or dog is about the same. Thereafter the annual cost per dog would be about $1,755 compared to $8,124 per man.

Limbless Little Girl Loves to Play Drums

Hasbrouck Heights, N.J.— Most 12-year-old girls probably don't care one way or the other about playing the drums.

But Cheryl Maloney of Honesdale, Pa., loves the drums and Sunday she'll get a new set at the Hasbrouck Heights hospital Christmas party.

Cheryl, who plays drums in her junior high school band, has been coming to the hospital off and on for years. She was born without arms and returns periodically to have new artificial limbs fitted as she grows.

so doing, whether it be the bounty hunter, the rifleman or almost any one of the gun-toters stalking nightly across the TV screen.

The majority of new toys seem slanted toward the nation's younger male population as manufacturers have come up with some tremendous trucks, trains, tractors and vehicles of types, shapes and sizes too numerous to mention. Many are beautifully detailed and scaled to size.

One real eye catcher was a firetruck set with a hydraulically operated ladder and a hose assembly that fits a garden hose connection. House-keeping problems might arise from the two enthusiastic use of this number.

Educational Toys

For the older children there are chemistry sets, telescope and microscope kits, physics labs, transistor sets and all in all, enough equipment to keep the fuses blown and the house scented by chemical concoctions for many weeks after Christmas.

Along with space toys, the hobby line for children and adults is swiftly picking up sales momentum. This field, so long dominated by plane and boat modeling kits, has found new life in ceramics of paper and plastic forms.

The big, elaborate toys are manufactured almost entirely by U.S. firms but the small items are imports from Japan, Hong Kong and Germany.

In general, splendid variety and broad price range should combine to produce many young smiling faces come Christmas morning.

biggest sellers will be the 25-inch line that markets at between $3 and $5.

The biggest news in house-keeping toys in more than a decade came out this year with the development of child-size play stoves and refrigerators. Some lines stand 3-feet tall and are adapted for electricity.

A few of the larger musical toys seem to have advanced beyond the toy stage as some miniature pianos and electric organs sell between $40 and $60.

TV's influence is readily seen in the vast arsenals carried by most stores.

Toy Manufacturers Threaten Reds' Space Age Equipment Supremacy

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Russians beware! Your space supremacy is being seriously threatened by America's toy manufacturers.

Missiles, rockets, satellites, and other space age paraphernalia of surprising technical development have taken their place on the nation's toy shelves beside the old standbys: the dolls, trains, trucks and games.

Merchants are predicting the space toys will account for a large share of the 1959 Christmas sales. Their prices range from 10 cents to $10.

One particular model, a 2-foot long, 2-stage rocket will zoom hundreds of feet into the air utilizing the thrust of pressurized water and air. It is not recommended for indoor use, unless of course, you have or wish to have high ceilings.

Through the use of plastics, toys in general are more varied and authentic looking than ever. However, one old familiar sight untouched by the impact of the space age is a box of tinkering toys.

Bigger Dolls

For little sister this year as always it's dolls, only bigger and better than ever before as the trend in dolls switched from miniature to mammoth in one short year.

Beauties standing three feet tall and selling from $20 to $25 are moving well, merchants claim. Some lines stand as tall as four feet, but the Government Should Keep Hands Off TV

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington—Television and the press have been performing an extraordinary service in bringing so quickly to the American people the pictures of president Eisenhower's trip abroad. No other generation of Americans has been able to get so promptly a visual presentation of events of such international importance. This is due largely to invention—electronic tape records voices and pictures, cable lines now transmit photographs almost instantaneously, and the airplane brings films back to America in a few hours.

But there is something else involved—the alertness of private enterprise. The competition in the press and among broadcasting companies—television as well as radio—inspired the news managers who did the planning weeks ahead of time.

Yet today there is talk of government control of the mediums of expression. There are champions of government ownership of a radio network and advocates of government dictation on how programs on even the most highly controversial questions, shall be handled by TV and radio.

Mechanical Control
The concept is advanced that the government owns the air waves and hence should control what goes out over them. It's the same old argument that, because the government owns the waters and its dams, it must own electric-power plants.

When radio came into being, it was discovered that there would be a collision of broadcasts on the air waves unless the available channels were allotted. The government set out to regulate the transmission of broadcasts through the issuance of licenses and the allocation of channels. Nobody thought at the time that this covered the prerogatives of ownership.

Unfortunately, the supreme court of the United States swallowed the so-called "liberal" doctrine and began issuing rulings that indicated wider and wider governmental powers over radio stations. Instead of constraining the language of the federal law as meaning of control over mechanical conflicts in the air, the executive agencies concerned were told to regulate radio licenses on a broader basis. The clause in the law covering "public interest, convenience and necessity" was interpreted to mean that the federal government has the power to go into program quality, qualifications of owners and sundry other questions that are never raised when government contracts are let in other fields.

Federal Education
The recent agitation over quiz shows and scandals now seems to have opened the way for the government-ownership school to call for the exercise of more federal authority. There are suggestions that the government should go into the field of education by setting up broadcasting stations with government money. Pressure groups which have been trying to get more federal funds for schools claim to be opposed to federal control of the educational systems are in favor of the extension of federal governmental authority to carry on various "educational" programs over TV and radio.

There is already law enough to punish fraud and stop misleading advertising. If the result of TV scandals is to take away from private enterprise the initiative stimulated by American competition, then the cure will prove much worse than the disease.

Congress already has interfered with the right of radio and television to use their own news judgment as protected by the first amendment to the constitution. Laws have been passed ordering "equal time" be afforded to all candidates for a public office, irrespective of whether there is news or interest among listeners in the boring words of some of the candidates. There is no surer way of ruining any medium of communication than to give the government power to tell a private enterprise how to deal with political speeches or any other program. Censorship of the theater or of books is resented by many so-called "liberals," but somehow there is a strange readiness to accept censorship of TV and radio.

Ceramic Tile Hits Record Production

Postwar Building Boom Boosts Use Of Old Time Material

BY SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Writer

New York — (U) — The post-war building spree has given an old timer its biggest sales boom.

Use of ceramic tile goes back thousands of years. But in just the last 10 new techniques and materials have brought it out of the luxury class. This and the postwar rush of building have boosted sales in the United States by 143 per cent since 1949.

The Tile Council of America says costs of production and installation have been cut about 20 per cent since the war.

The council says it represents 27 manufacturers turning out more than 90 per cent of domestic made ceramic floor and wall tile. It says many of the new techniques and materials were developed at its own research center at Princeton, N.J.

Increased Production
Department of commerce construction figures put the 1947-49 average annual production of ceramic tile at 104,800,000 square feet, and output in the 12 months ending June 30, 1959, at 235,956,000 square feet.

The Council's figures show 99,146,000 square feet turned out 10 years ago. It estimates this year's production will reach 241 million square feet. It says facilities have been expanded to bring present production capacity to about 375 million square feet a year.

Like many other manufacturers, the tile makers are seeing their newly found bonanza threatened by foreign invaders. The volume of imported tile is rising fast. The council says this year's tide of foreign ceramic building materials may capture 20 per cent of the American market.

Americans Undersold
The tile council, like similar industry groups, bewails the "exploitation of low paid labor which permits foreign producers" to undersell Americans.

Many reasons are given for the growth in use of tile here. At the end of the war domestic tile manufacturers offered about 30 different colors. Today they show more than 200. In the postwar years a trend toward diversity in size, shape and texture, offering the architect a large number of combinations, also has boosted use.

Increased production, along with the less costly materials and processes, helped bring the price down within reach of more residential and commercial building budgets. The tile salesmen also make much of its fairly cheap maintenance, which has a dollar and cents appeal to the commercial building operator.

At its Princeton research center the council developed a basic formula for a thin-set mortar, types of which are now distributed by several manufacturers.

The council says the new strength about twice that of previous mortar beds. The new ones can be applied in very thin layers. The council estimates 20 per cent of tile installations this year will use one of the new thin-set mortars.

Also helping sales has been the trend toward moving tile out of the home and onto the facades of office building and factories.

Commissioner's Son First on Recruit List, but Not by Pull

Chicago — (U) — Hugh O'Connor, 25, son of Chicago's police commissioner, was the last police recruit on the list but now he's first.

But political pull played no part in the switch.

When his father asked the civil service commission for 200 replacements, Hugh was No. 201.

Now Hugh will have to wait until the next time around. Then he'll be first in line for sure.

Cuban Firing Squads Execute 2 Prisoners

Pinar Del Rio, Cuba — (U) — Ex-Cpl. Luis Lara Crespo and ex - Sgt. Jose Morfi Reyes were executed by a firing squad at a shooting range at Rius Rivera army camp here.

Both men were sentenced to death Monday for promoting an uprising against Prime Minister Fidel Castro from hideouts in the mountains of eastern Pinar Del Rio province. They were the first to be executed in Cuba since last June.

Federal Tax Exemptions

The federal income tax law is so cluttered with exemptions and the rates are so high that most people feel there would be little for them to lose in a complete overhaul of the law. Hearings on the matter have been going on in Washington under the direction of Rep. Wilbur Mills (D-Ark.) for some time. Reports are that Rep. Mills has proposed revolutionary changes which are gaining support as time passes.

Apparently the Mills proposal is to wipe out all exemptions except the $600 allowed for each taxpayer and each dependent. After that there would be no deductions for any purpose. This simple act is supposed to add $130 billions to the taxable income of the nation. This increased taxable income would raise as much revenue with 40 per cent lower rates as is now being raised. It is proposed that the minimum tax rate be 12 per cent and the maximum 55 per cent. The present rates run from 20 to 91 per cent.

It is easy to see how lower tax rates will make a strong appeal to a great many people and also how appealing it is to look forward to a simple tax report. Few people would need to employ lawyers or accountants to make out their tax return simply because there would be very little difficulty in figuring it. Of course there is a suggestion of something unfair about it when it appears that the single person would be helped most by this proposal. This comes about because a single person under the present law has very few deductions and under the new law he therefore would lose less in the way of deductions and gain in the lower tax rates. Most wage and salary workers would be helped and so strong support for the law might come from that source. Executives would be hurt since all of the tax-free expense accounts would disappear. Home owners would be hurt while renters would be helped.

These changes have been pointed out in detail in an article in the U. S. News and World Report. The upper income married people would break about even but investors would be hurt because they would lose the long term capital gains advantage and also the possibilities of tax free interest on municipal bonds. The elimination of deductions probably would be injurious to churches and schools, to hotels and resorts and similar businesses. Likewise, cities and states would receive a setback because they undoubtedly would have to pay higher interest rates to sell their bonds.

Some business institutions would be helped by a lower tax rate which, in many instances, might make up for the depreciation allowance and entertainment expense which they now enjoy. On the other hand, such businesses as oil producers and miners would be seriously hurt by the loss of their accelerated depreciation allowances under the present law.

But it comes as quite a shock to read that retired persons would be required to pay a tax on Social Security benefits. Added personal exemptions for persons over 65 and blind persons would be wiped out by the proposed change. Income tax would apply to medical benefits and insurance benefits contributed by an employer. When that point in the proposal is reached, most people will be ready to call a halt. Obviously, deductions were introduced in the first place because there was a very real reason for them. It is quite plain that the levying of a tax on Social Security benefits and the elimination of such exemptions as those for persons over 65 years of age and for the blind cannot be very well justified.

Thus it seems likely that there will be strong opposition from such politically important groups as the aged and disabled, churches and schools, all elements of travel business including hotels and places of entertainment, from municipal officials who certainly are going to be in trouble. They will be strongly supported by those already holding tax exempt bonds, and perhaps noisiest of all opposition will come from oil and mining enterprises which have enjoyed special privileges under the present tax.

Nevertheless Rep. Mills has offered a very interesting picture of the present tax situation. It is especially interesting to note that the very complicated income tax forms which are constantly complained about are necessary only because the government has attempted to make tax paying fair by granting exemptions in a great variety of cases.

The Purpose of NATO

Sec. of State Christian Herter's warning there is much doubt the Soviet Union really is willing to negotiate on East-West problems was a good one to pull the members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization together. It has been noticeable over the 10 years of its existence that NATO is more united when there obviously is great danger from Russia.

NATO was put together when England and the United States, in particular, became alarmed about Stalin's aims for the conquest of Europe. Its purpose first was to establish some 60 divisions capable of repelling any Soviet attack with conventional weapons. At the time West Germany still was occupied and militarily impotent. France was on the verge of political hysteria and almost every other nation now a member of NATO was disarmed and economically weak.

Eventually the number of divisions was cut as nuclear weapons were developed and stockpiled. Some integration of forces and unity of weapons, particularly between the United States and West Germany, was made. But the stumbling block to such integration always has been France, whose concern for sovereignty has been matched only by its anger at the lack of backing from other NATO nations on its Algerian problem.

France never has fulfilled its military obligations to NATO and now has removed its Continental fighter force, air-warning system and one-third of the Mediterranean fleet from the NATO command. It continues to refuse to allow the stockpiling of United States controlled nuclear weapons on French soil. It is obvious this refusal is not for fear of Soviet attack but a matter of l'honneur since France wants the right to nuclear devices for herself.

But in the long run it is not France but Soviet Russia that is primarily responsible for today's rift in NATO relations. A year ago, when Khrushchev delivered his ultimatum to the West to get out of Berlin, the NATO command presented a united front. But Khrushchev's visit to the United States and President Eisenhower's prospective return trip, the renewal of talks about ways of peaceful co-existence, the "spirit of Camp David" all have served to reduce the tensions in Europe toward Russia. Perhaps they also have cut the chances of war in that area. But NATO was created to repel Russian attack or deter it in the first place. Quite obviously if member nations doubt the danger of such attack, NATO strength will falter.

France, both in its days of near chaos, and more recently under the firmness of Charles De Gaulle's leadership, has been a thorn in NATO's command. But the Algerian problem is working toward a solution probable in the next three or four years. Soviet Russia is just as dangerous today as it ever was when Stalin sat in the Kremlin. That is the fact NATO members constantly must keep in mind when the squabbles and petty rivalries come up.

Bargaining With the Devil

The compromise in the United Nations for the eleventh seat on the Security Council represents what happens in most bargaining sessions. There really is little thought given to the merits of each side; the aim is to reach a point of agreement which almost always must be somewhere in the middle.

Neither Poland nor Turkey, the two nominees for the seat to be vacated by Japan at the end of this term, could muster the required two-thirds of the vote of the General Assembly. In earlier balloting, Turkey always led, but after a recess, Poland pulled ahead. This in itself was alarming because it meant that some member nations, themselves opposed to Communism, were willing to elect a Red nation rather than continue the stalemate. This type of compromise, carried into other U.N. dealings, could be catastrophic.

There was confusion in the General Assembly as to whether non-election of a country to the eleventh seat would make the Security Council inoperative or even affect the entire United Nations. The Communist bloc played the fears carefully and also threw into the scales the demand that the seat in the future be held for Eastern Europe. This was obviously a bargaining technique but it worked. By refusing this demand, the free nations were led to believe they were gaining something by the compromise action.

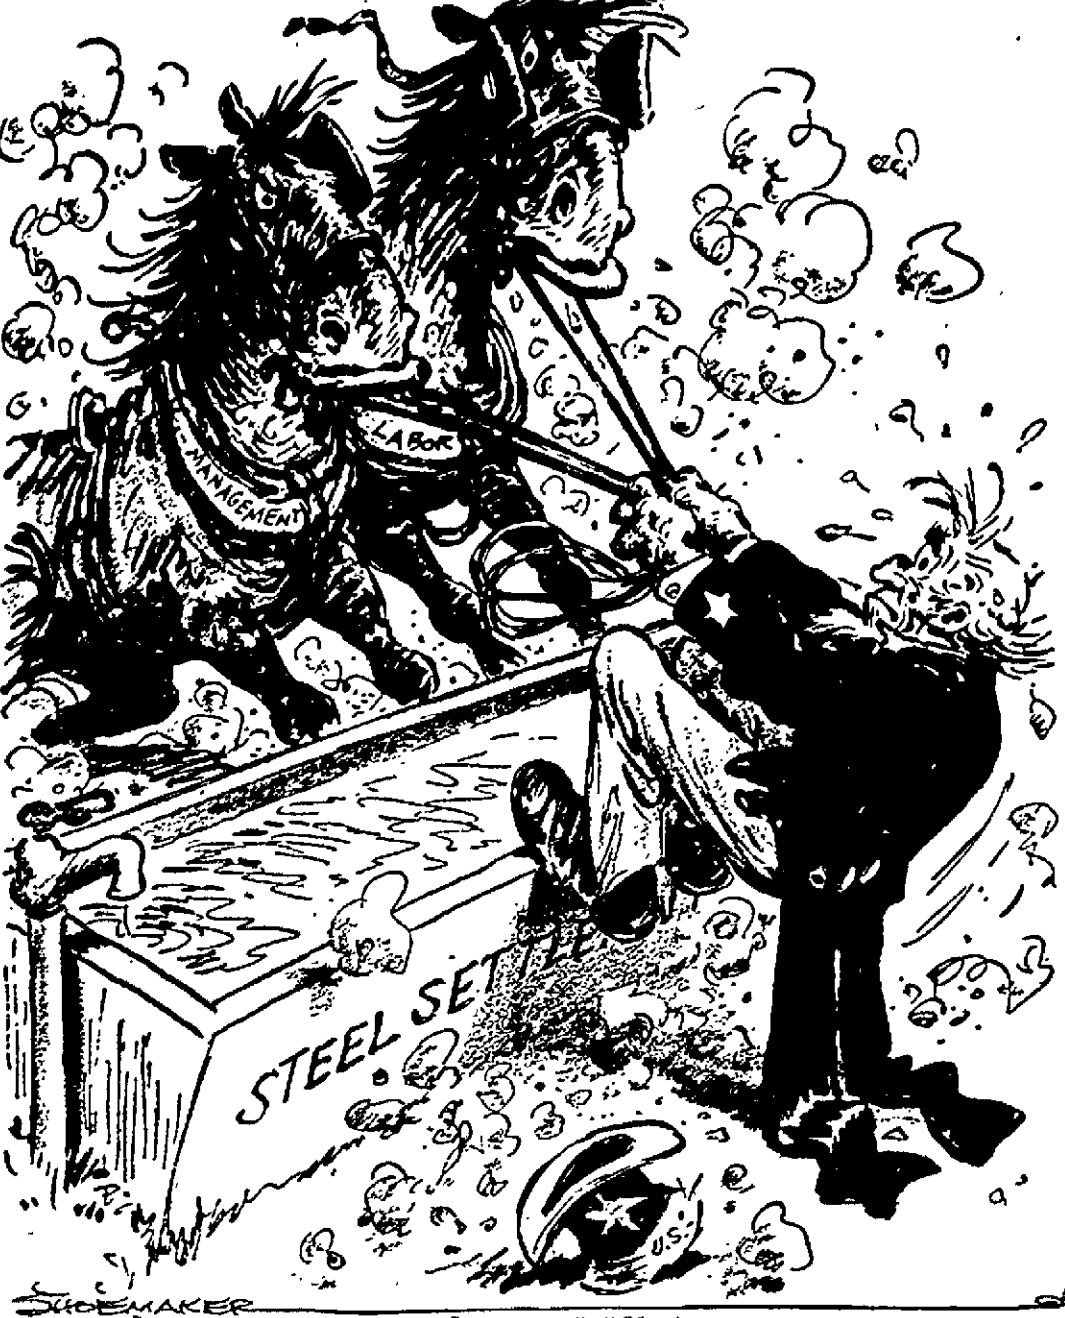

There probably is little but prestige that the Reds have gained in this maneuver. Poland will have little to say and the veto power remains intact. But the whole business should serve to warn free nations that rights and liberties can be bargained away piecemeal just as surely as they can be lost by conquest.

New Law Should Keep Wandering Husbands Home

Social security, which has many things in its favor, now has another. The man of the house who runs away, abandoning his family, has less security now thanks to a ruling by the secretary of health, education and welfare. The last available address of a missing person is now available at social security to aid in the search for those who have skipped out on their families. The use of the information is expected to save the federal government thousands of dollars a day in welfare payments by helping get fathers back home to face the bills. The availability of social security records for tracing runaways should keep more men at home in the first place. The father tempted to run out may put the temptation aside when he remembers they've got his number down at the social security office. Extra Dividend Richmond, Va. — G — E. Scheme for Nationalized Medical Care Would Cost Taxpayers Much

From The American Medical Association News

The public generally is not aware of the extent to which the medical profession gives medical care without compensation. But knowledge of this free professional service becomes important to the taxpayer in connection with the agitation which arises from time to time favoring medicine by government.

Quite aside from the quality of medical care which would be dispensed to the public under bureaucratic management, is the question of the cost to taxpayers should a scheme for nationalized medical care be adopted.

Cost of the Forand bill, for example, would be in excess of $1.8 billion a year at the outset, according to Health Insurance Assn. of America. That, in itself, is a sizeable tax load. But it wouldn't stop there. No one with any knowledge of the history of such governmental undertakings can believe it would.

Die-hard backers of socialized medicine are trying with the Forand proposal to get piecemeal what they couldn't get in an all-out attack a few years ago. Such a scheme as the Forand bill would open wide the door to nationalized or government-dominated medicine on a limitless scale. It is a perfect example of the old foot-in-the-door technique. And the eventual load to the taxpayers would be even more staggering.

An all-out nationalized medical care program also would mean that the taxpayers would have to pick up the bill for all the free medical care now being provided by the practicing physicians of America.

What this total bill would be is not known at this time, but scattered surveys indicate it would be astounding even in this era of boxcar figures.

Surveys show, for example, that the average Louisiana physician gives $3,531 a year in free medical care. In South Dakota, the average is $2,365. One large California county reports that a survey made some time ago shows that its doctors give an average of more than $6,000 each. In that one county alone the monetary value of the free medical service given by MDs totals millions of dollars.

Medical Economics magazine reports that its surveys show that doctors devote at least 10 per cent of their working hours to direct charity services, and another 10 per cent to noncharity patients who'll never pay their bills. The magazine figures that a conservative estimate of the dollar value of all medical services that physicians give away is about a billion dollars annually.

What would be the cost of this service, if there were involved all the expense of making it a government operation?

Obviously, the expense of collecting the money by taxation would be substantial. To this would be added the cost of administrative machinery, which necessarily attaches to all governmental enterprises; not to mention the abuse which occurs when public funds are the target for individual privilege.

Do the taxpayers of the U. S. want to shoulder this tax load in addition to the ever-increasing tax burden they now are carrying for what obviously would be inferior medical care?

We don't think so.

Looking Backward

Seeds of Misrule Seen in America

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Dec. 25, 1880.

Every river in Ireland is private property. If it is a fishing stream, the owner either uses it himself or lets it to sportsmen, and denies his tenant to fish in it.

Yet the tenant has to pay for it as if it were all cultivated land. The mere statement will shock the average American citizen, and arouse very general expressions of indignation against the British system which authorizes and sustains such tyranny.

But the average American should not overlook the fact that the tendency in this country is in the same direction. Capital seeks to monopolize everything without regard to individual rights, and the average American looks on with comparative indifference. "Power always is stealing from the many to the few," and if unchecked in its march will eventually transplant all the misery, wretchedness and misrule that now curses Ireland to American soil.

Will the people awake in time to the dangers that lower over them?

A contest to determine the extent to which American commerce can "go along" with the Roosevelt administration began as 90 business leaders began a "business conference for recovery."

The controversy over the question of Wisconsin's obligation to repay the federal government for relief money extended in 1934 was at a standstill that day, the final decision resting with Harry Hopkins, federal relief administrator.

The issue of the gigantic power industry and the government's attitude toward it leaped to the forefront again that day with a disclosure that Thomas N. McCarter, spokesman for a broad segment of the industry, was expected to visit President Roosevelt before nightfall.

Under the Capitol Dome Republicans Vent Wrath on NUSBAUM

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — There is something infinitely incongruous in the difficulties that have lately beset young Joe NUSBAUM, the new state commissioner of administration.

Wyngaard

It has become obvious that the Republicans in the legislature and those outside the legislature who respond to the lead of the former don't like NUSBAUM. At this moment, indeed, there is an excellent chance that the Republican senate will refuse to confirm the man for the new agency that the Democrats regard as their finest achievement in their first year in office. There is nothing so strange about that, it may be said. Other officeholders have had their troubles.

Yet NUSBAUM is the antithesis, in person, of the arrogant young and dictatorial bureaucrat some of his critics would picture him to be. He had worked around the capitol for a couple of years under the Republicans and no one particularly quarreled about him. Indeed, some of his most fierce critics of today didn't even notice him. Those who did generally liked him. He is a quiet, somewhat modest, easy-spoken fellow who looks for all the world like the assistant professor he might well have been if he had not detoured into Gaylord Nelson's camp a year ago as a kind of research assistant.

WHY? Why then this fierce and angry opposition and criticism? Why is this young fellow being pictured with such hostility and scorn?

The capitol sideline tends to become an amateur psychologist in his job, and herewith are some guesses from that observation post.

Perhaps NUSBAUM has become the central theme of the GOP attack because he is so convenient as a symbol. The new administration has put up to a dozen very young men and very highly educated men who have not trained in the school of practical politics in strategic positions. That is why the scornful descriptive "crew-cuts" has come so naturally and has stuck. In the somewhat brutal way of competitive politics it is a handy tag.

NUSBAUM also has the good fortune or bad, depending upon viewpoint, of running the agency that, by the administration's own account, is the most important thing it has done thus far. No doubt much of the Democratic campaign oratory will revolve around this achievement in efficiency and reorganized housekeeping. The opposition is quite simply trying to knock it down now, while the opportunity is at hand. It may be noted in passing that when the state auditor, the other day cast some doubt about the accuracy of its bookkeeping the GOP scored a significant round.

ERROR This reporter also has become convinced that the department of administration committed a costly blunder politically, whatever other merits its decision may have had, when it pushed out the popular conservation department from the state office building into clearly inferior, inefficient and inaccessible quarters many blocks removed from the rest of the government.

Not only was that order, stubbornly held to in the face of a considerable storm of publicity and discussion, inexplicable on the face of it as an administrative move. It was quite obviously taken without the faintest realization of its political volatility. Mr. NUSBAUM and the governor no doubt have some friendly supporters within the big conservation department. Let them ask for a confidential summary of the views of the department as a whole and they will get an earful.

The result of an awkward start in this bold new venture in administrative reform is to put NUSBAUM and his associates on the defensive almost before they have well begun their jobs. Their political difficulties may very well detract from their essential duties, even as the discomfort and the resentment of the decentralization of the conservation department staff to any reasonable man must dilute seriously its energies for its basic work. Governmental command is inextricably associated with politics and human nature and the governmental officer who ignores it is likely to suffer the consequences.

Yale Trains Housewives for Teacher Posts

From The Galt

An interesting experiment has been undertaken by Yale university to help solve the teacher shortage in public schools. Yale enrolled a group of young mothers, all of them college graduates, in a teacher training program extended over three years to permit them to continue their household duties.

Yale concludes that young mothers are better than the average beginning teacher and are more likely to remain in the profession once recruited for it.

It does seem logical to train young mothers for teaching careers — if they have the time for it. Yet it would seem that the answer to the shortage over the long term still rests with young single persons, more of whom should be encouraged to enter the teaching profession. With expanding populations, every bit of evidence points to a need for good teachers for a long time to come.

U. S. Policy in Iran Chiefly to Support Fragile Position of Shah

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

The previous article described some of the disturbing questions which beset our policy in Iran. We are conducting what is in essence a holding operation to enable the Shah's government to remain politically aligned with the anti-Soviet alliance. The Soviet Union's reply is 2-pronged. On the one hand, it is undermining the Shah's government by propaganda and by subversive infiltration. On the other hand, it is tempting the Iranian government to adopt a policy on the Egyptian model, which is to take aid from both sides and to align itself with neither.

There is no way of telling when, if ever, there will be a showdown between the Soviet policy and ours. We do know, however, that in the next eight or nine months the Iranian government will have exhausted its reserves of foreign exchange. If a financial crisis is to be averted, outside emergency help will, it would appear, have to be given.

Even with this, there will have to be some stringency in place of a rather lush expenditure of public funds. No one, not even the secret services, can surely foresee ed behind the government and where the power of the government depends, as it does in Iraq next door, on the inner politics of the army.

It would be imprudent, therefore, to be complacent about the prospects. Our government needs to examine the problem closely and with fresh eyes, and not be content to repeat the singsong of the old policy.

Unworkable Present

I would begin our reexamination with an hypothesis which though it is not yet proved, will, when it has been studied and debated, probably turn out to be sound. It is that except as a temporary emergency program, our present bilateral relationship with Iran is undesirable and in the long run unworkable. We are virtually the sole donor country. As such we incur too much responsibility, one which we cannot carry out because we are only advisers and cannot control the Iranian administration. As a result, Iran is too dependent on us, too convinced that its destiny is determined in Washington.

A way will have to be found of diffusing the responsibility and of sharing the burden of solving Iran's economic and social problems.

There are in Iran too many Americans in too many places. As one meets them, they are quite evidently earnest and hard-working, conscientious and deeply interested. In spite of their frigidities they live difficult and in some ways dangerous lives, and there is among them a missionary zeal. They are in fact the modern representatives of the noble American missionary tradition. But, their pervasive presence imposes upon this country too great a moral responsibility for the destiny of a country which we can influence only a little. An American presence on the existing scale should not be treated as permanent. It should become our purpose to diffuse in some kind of international agency the responsibility for doing the very good works which so much need to be done.

Although the words here are my own, I found the idea in the minds of several Iranians who have intimate knowledge of the relationship with America. The presence of so many American advisers, with their missionary zeal and with their American standards of political integrity, generates irritation and resentment. Iran, like many a not her underdeveloped country, is a country where, we might say, the payola is pandemic and is a way of life. It is very difficult to get things done without conforming in some degree to the customs of the country. All this is no doubt a contributing cause to the polite but quite evident disenchantment with America.

Satisfaction Impossible

The position of being virtually the sole donor and benefactor and protector is one in which it is impossible to satisfy the expectations of the recipient. It would be much better for all concerned if aid to Iran were multilateral. From what I have seen I have become convinced that all would benefit in the long run if we began to channel a larger part of our technical assistance through the United Nations. We ought also to press forward as rapidly as possible the plans for an international development association which would be associated with the stony-faced, impersonal, nonpolitical, antiseptic and indispensable institution of the World Bank.

I realize that this cannot be done overnight. But it is, I am convinced, the direction in which we ought to be moving, and probably not only in Iran but in other undeveloped countries as well.

er undeveloped countries as well.

We come now to the problem of Iranian security. In the previous article I pointed out the reasons why this is essentially an internal problem — why specifically it is the problem of the stability and durability of the Shah's government.

The notion that the way to make Iran secure is to build a Maginot line to hold back a Russian invasion until we can arrive to defend Iranian territory, is obsolete and, it is in fact nonsense. No serious person believes it. It is symbolic talk designed to justify our asking Congress to appropriate money for aid to the Shah's government. For if the Russians meant to attack Iran, they would jump right over the Iranian army, using their missiles and their airborne troops. And if Russia did attack Iran in this way, the last thing we would want to do is to join battle on the ground in Iran itself. We would fight. But we would do our fighting in some more accessible place.

Support Shah

The principal purpose of our support of Iran is not to prepare for a world war, but to uphold the Shah's government which is aligned with us. For reasons which I have been indicating in these articles, we cannot be certain that our policy will work for the indefinite future. There is much that is fragile and precarious in the whole situation, and we must prepare ourselves for the uncertainties of the future. What we must do is to prepare in our minds a policy upon which we can, if necessary, fall back. I am not suggesting that we change our policy. But I do suggest that we should be thinking about an acceptable alternative to it.

There is in principle no doubt what the alternative is. If our present policy of aligning Iran against its big neighbor breaks down, there are two possibilities. Iran can become a satellite of the Soviet Union. Or it can become an uncommitted and unaligned state in which, as in Egypt and as in India, economical and technical aid is taken both from the west and from the Soviet Union.

Quite evidently, if the time comes when Iran cannot be held as a western outpost and client, the independence of Iran and the interests of the west in Iran will best be secured by a policy of military neutrality and of political and economic nonalignment.

I was much interested in the opinion of a very experienced foreign diplomat with whom I discussed this question. Ideally, he said, the best solution would be neutrality on the Austrian model, that is, to say, neutrality with an international treaty to which the great powers subscribe. There warned me, however, that Iran is not Austria, and that neutrality is a highly sophisticated policy for a country which is in such an early stage of its political development.

Middle Course

This was an impressive judgment, and it may well be true. But if the American policy of treating Iran as a client state should break down, and since the alternative of Iran as a Soviet satellite is altogether unacceptable, it may become necessary to experiment with a middle course, which is that of a neutralized state.

What could be done here is a question which no one can answer until he knows whether the Eisenhower venture will in fact lead to a truce in the cold war and to some accommodation of our political rivalry with the Soviet Union. For the time being, however, we can, I think, say that while our policy in Iran is fragile, and while we must be prepared for surprises, Iran is a secondary theater in the power politics of the globe.

The international pressures around Iran are not now acute. The Soviet Union is bound to keep seeking ways ofousting us as a military presence, much as we would be bound to seek ways to out-the Soviet Union if it had a large military mission in Mexico. But the Soviet Union knows that our military mission in Iran is not a military base and that as long as we do not set up missiles in Iran, there is no military threat.

Moreover, the resources of Iran, chiefly its oil, are not vitally interesting to the Soviet Union. With the discovery of oil in French Africa and in Libya, that is to say, west of the Suez canal, the oil of the Middle East is no longer a matter of life and death for Europe. There has been a new turn in world affairs which will affect the European concern about the Middle East.

There are, therefore, grounds for thinking that the prospects, though they are uncertain, are not necessarily too tragic.

Christmas Shopping Has Erratic Pattern

Some Stores Say Business Is Up; Others Report Downward Trend; Expect Busy Week

Christmas buying was a bit ahead of last year at this time, erratic in the Fox Cities last week, store owners and managers reported today. Some stores reported business up as much as 20 per cent over the same week last year. Other stores reported business is at about the same level as last year, or just slightly below. One department store manager noted the huge Monday-after-Thanksgiving boom was counted in November, rather than December, as it was last year. "That could have had some effect," he said. Generally, department store business at about the same level as last year at this time, with a few stores reporting their returns up 1 to 2 per cent, other reporting business down 1 or 2 per cent from last year. Totals for December probably will not be as high as last year, managers indicated. Sports shops and clothing stores all report an increase and expect another this week. One men's clothing store owner said sales were 20 per cent

Intruders Enter Establishments in Freedom, Medina

Burglars obtained an undetermined amount of cash and other loot in four Outagamie county break-ins Saturday night, according to the sheriff's department. Vance Garvey, who operates Geurts Service station and a sheet metal shop in Freedom, said both establishments were entered. An undetermined amount of money, ammunition, cigars, and candy were taken from the station. No loss has been determined, as yet, at the sheet metal shop. Entry in both cases was made by breaking windows. Joseph Geenen, operator of Geenen's store in Freedom, said thieves broke the latch off a rear door of the store. The loss is not determined. Hugo Sturm, owner of a self-service bait shop at Medina, told the sheriff's department a steel box which contained about $5 was opened and the money taken. Lawrence Bartenstein, Oshkosh, said his cottage on County Trunk M, three miles north of Hortonville, was broken into but nothing was taken. Entry was gained by knocking off a hasp and lock and breaking the glass. The cottage is on a fur farm.

Hunters Meet In Heavy Woods; One Injured

New London — Douglas Wolfe, 23, 513 Oshkosh street, is in New London Community hospital today receiving treatment for a wound suffered when his hunting party met another party in the heavily wooded area owned by Walter Everts in the town of Lebanon Saturday near here. Wolfe was struck in the eyelid by an air rifle pellet fired by LeRoy Schoening, 22, of 323 E. Pine street. The pellet glanced off the eyelid, bruising the skin and causing bleeding inside the eye. Wolfe was hunting with his brother Larry, 20. He told Undersheriff Jack Algiers they were about 100 yards away from Schoening when Wolfe was struck. They fell to the ground and fired a .22 calibre rifle into the ground in front of Schoening to warn him of their presence. Schoening said he had fired at a squirrel about halfway up a tree.

Former Wisconsin Telephone company employees with a total of 178 years of service turned out to honor Robert Errington, Kimberly, second from right, who retired after serving 37 years as a repairman. The group held a dinner at Van Abel's in Hollandtown. From left are Patrick Burns, Kaukauna, a repairman at Kaukauna, 32 years; Carl Thomas, Green Bay, assistant general plant manager at Milwaukee, 44 years; George Worchesek, Appleton, commercial representative; 22 years; Stevens Slattery, Appleton, plant assistant, 43 years; Errington; and Albert Knoll, Appleton, lineman, 37 years. Including Errington, 215 years of service were represented in this photo. All men now are retired.

Price Dip in Beef Cattle Expected in '60

Madison — A beef cattle price dip is expected in 1960 with lower-grade slaughter stock absorbing most of the downturn. That's the prediction of Glen C. Pulver, a University of Wisconsin agricultural economist. Pulver says a currently large inventory of slaughter steers and heifers will have a depressing influence on a market that has held quite steady during 1959. With the larger slaughter potential, Pulver claims market availability will determine future beef prices to a greater degree. He figures the best bet for new season profits will come in the lightweight, short-fed, better quality cattle. Air Conditioning Installed 100 Years Ago in Capitol

BY JOHN H. AVERILL

Washington — The desk used by the speaker of the house of representatives is one of the world's smallest elevators.

Did you know the U. S. capitol building got its first air conditioning system exactly 100 years ago? It worked, too.

Or that a bakery, equipped to provide bread for up to 3,000 soldiers, once flourished in the maze of tunnels that honeycomb the capitol basement?

These are samples of a mass of information capitol employees are eager to pass along. Here's what one of them had to say about the early air conditioning:

Air Conditioning

"There were some great engineers back in those days. Well, they built some stone stacks. You can still see them on the capitol grounds. They ran pipes from the stacks down under the building where steam-powered blowers sucked air in from outside and across a chamber filled with ice. From there, another blower forced the cold air into other pipes that led to various rooms in the capitol and it came out through registers. Some still are in use."

According to this historian, that early-day air conditioning system could keep the capitol temperature at an even 70 degrees, even during the most blistering July day.

Bakery Ovens

Another gave this account of the early bread ovens:

"Did you know Union troops were quartered in the capitol rotunda during the Civil war? At one time as many as 2,500 took their meals there. Some time during the war, from six to eight big bread ovens were built down in the basement."

Records indicate these ovens could turn out bread for 3,000 men a day.

What about that desk elevator? Very simple.

When the house chamber was remodeled in 1850, house officials decided that since speakers often have to read from heavy documents, some provision should be made for both tall and short speakers.

So, a 22 by 36 inch section of the speaker's desk was put on an elevator mechanism. By a touch of a button he can raise that section as high as 18 inches above the rest of the desk. Another flick returns it flush with the desk.

However, since both Democrat Sam Rayburn of Texas and Republican Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts — the only men to serve as speaker since 1850 — are both extremely short, as far as is known the elevator has never been used.

ed today the latest proposals by Chinese Premier Chou En-lai — made public yesterday — tighten the deadlock rather than offer a hope of settlement. The language of Chou's letter — accusing Prime Minister Nehru of being "unfair" — taking a big step backward — are hardly designed to encourage a settlement, this informant said.

Gloria Chorus Inspired Greatest Composers to Pen Christmas Carols

"And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of heavenly hosts, praising God and saying: Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, good will to men." Luke II, 13-14

BY HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

On the plains above Bethlehem the shepherds listened in wonder and delight to the singing of the world's first Christmas carol.

The great gloria chorus, proclaiming the birth of the Savior, rang out over the frost-jeweled valleys and caught a never ending echo in the ancient Judean hills.

The hills echoed it to the mountains, and the mountains sang it to the stars. Out across the chasm of centuries it carried, a strain of unsurpassed beauty that time could not still. It whispered urgently in the ears of composers. It burst forth from the hearts of poets. Men of all ages and climes heard it in infinite variations.

Handel's 'Messiah'

George Frederick Handel, a poor barber's son who wanted

ed all his life to write great music, heard it in the loneliness of his London flat in the year 1741.

"I did think I did see all heaven before me, and the great God Himself," he described his moment of sublime inspiration. Bankrupt, broken in health and spirit, he locked himself indoors with his dream for 22 days, seldom eating or sleeping, and emerged with his greatest oratorio, "The Messiah," clutched in his paralyzed left hand.

Charles Wesley, the poet laureate of Methodism, heard it on his way to church on Christmas morning, 1739. The joyful clanging of the bells seemed to him like silver tongues of angels singing a welcome to the Christ child. His "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," written almost on the spot, remains to this day one of the most popular of all Christmas hymns.

Birth of 'Silent Night'

The Rev. Joseph Mohr heard it one Christmas eve in the Austrian Tyrol while returning from a sick call. He was a newly ordained priest assigned to St. Nicholas church, Oberndorf, a parish so poor that the church mice could find nothing better to eat than the bellows of the organ. Their choice of fare saddened the young priest, because it meant there would be no Christmas music.

Pausing to rest on his way down a mountain, Father Mohr was struck by the beauty of the snow covered peaks, soft blue in the star light but glowing here and there with the torches carried by his parishioners on the way to midnight mass.

"Silent night, holy night All is dark, save the light."

The words rushed to his mind. Hurrying to the home of his friend Franz Gruber, the local schoolmaster and church organist, the priest begged a melody to fit his simple words. In less than an hour, Gruber scored the exquisite poem for guitar and two voices.

"We will die, you and I," Gruber told his wife, "but this song will never die." That Christmas morning in 1818, with Father Mohr playing the Italian guitar and singing tenor to Franz Gruber's rich bass, "Silent Night" first burst forth upon the world.

Voices of Angels

From the dawn of Christianity, men have borrowed tongues of angels to serenade the new born Savior.

Pope Telesphorus in 129 A. D. exhorted his flock to sing together the "Gloria in Excelsis Deo," the Latin translation of the angel song recorded in Luke's Gospel. St. Jerome mentions the use of carols in the fifth century.

"Adeste, Fidelis," possibly one of the oldest hymns and next to "Silent Night" the most universal, is believed to have been the chant medieval monks intoned while moving through the darkness of their cloisters to sing the office on Christmas morning. Other authorities, however, attribute it to John Francis Wade, a music copyist who in 1740 lived at Douay, France, with a group of exiled English Catholics.

Origin Unknown

Still others credit to St. Bonaventure, an associate of St. Francis of Assisi, the humble friar who introduced the custom of the Christmas crib at Greccio, Italy, in 1223, using live animals for his stable figures. Because the crowds who came to see this striking nativity scene were asked to join in singing, Francis is often called the father of the modern Christmas carol.

Sailors about the time of Columbus' first voyage to the new world began the morning watch on Christmas day by singing "I Saw Three Ships Assailing," an unusual carol that pictured Christ and Mary arriving by sea at landlocked Bethlehem.

"Good King Wenceslaus," a carol of Swedish or German origin, chronicles the devout

China Raps NATO Plan

Terms It Tool of U. S. to Gain Time 'For Another War'

Tokyo — Broadcasts from red China today attacked the 10-year plan for strengthening NATO, declaring it was a United States attempt to gain time for war.

Peiping newspapers predicted the United States would have a difficult time getting the cooperation of its allies in spite of the approval given the plan in Paris Thursday by the NATO foreign ministers.

The U. S. - proposed 10-year plan depends on "more money and men from its allies to be put under U. S. command to serve the policy of Wall Street for a new war," the Kwang-ming daily declared in a commentary reported by the official New China News agency.

Not Settled "But," it added, "the proceedings of the meeting indicate that it will not be smooth sailing for the United States to carry out its schemes. The U. S. - French dispute has not been settled and the struggle for power among Britain, France and West Germany has disturbed the so-called unity of the military bloc."

The newspaper linked the NATO measure with President Eisenhower's good will tour, which, it said, took him mostly to military allies of the United States. The purpose of the Eisenhower trip, it said, is to cement the ties "and fasten still more countries onto the U. S. war chariot."

Second Atlas Covers Full Flight Range

Cape Canaveral, Fla. — An Atlas intercontinental range missile registered its second successful full-range flight, streaking 6,325 miles to a target off the south Atlantic island of Ascension.

The launching came just one year after another Atlas was fired into orbit and broadcast President Eisenhower's famous Christmas peace message.

The air force announced last night's Atlas achieved all its test objectives and dropped a dummy warhead on an ocean target as planned. The last time an Atlas flew its full range was on Nov. 28, 1958.

Several other Atlases have successfully covered courses ranging up to 6,000 miles.

doings of a 10th century duke of Bohemia who was known for his generosity on St. Stephen's day, the day after Christmas.

'God Rest Ye Merry'

"God Rest Ye Merry, Gentlemen," traditionally the first carol heard in London on Christmas mornings, is believed to be of Welsh origin. Mozart borrowed the melody for a duet for violin and piano. Charles Dickens' Ebenezer Scrooge had a different reaction. When the carolers bent down at his keyhole to regale him with this cherished favorite, he grabbed his ruler and drove them off.

Down through the ages men of all walks of life added their voices to the angel chorus. Carols have been penned by such diverse authors as Sir Walter Raleigh, Mary Queen of Scots, Francis Scott Key, Johannes Brahms (whose immortal "Lullaby" was written as a Christmas hymn), St. Francis Xavier, Martin Luther, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, Pope Pius IX and Harpo Marx.

The last mentioned, although a comedian by trade, composed the beautiful music for "Guardian Angels," a carol popularized by the late Mario Lanza and now sung in many churches.

Tomorrow: "Joy To The World."

his breathing apparatus froze shut. Stephen Austin, 13, also of Green Bay, attempted to share his equipment with Mielke. Austin was hospitalized.

They were members of a 9-man party Sunday searching for the body of Gregory Fischer, 3, missing from his New London home since Nov. 19. The divers had made several other searches of the river bottom in the last month.

Working with Mielke and Austin under the ice was Cyril Besanson, 37, Green Bay. He signaled for helpers on shore to pull the three of them out of the water and found that only he was attached to the life line. The others started floating down stream.

Dan LaCount, 17, route 2, Pulaski, went through a new hole in the ice and pulled Austin out. New London firemen pulled Mielke out with a pike pole. Austin was rushed to New London Community hospital. Mielke was pronounced dead at the scene.

Accidental Shooting
Waupaca County Coroner Dr. Sam Salan ruled the shotgun death of James Coughlin accidental.

Donald W. Hirte, -25, 628 Franklin street, Oshkosh, Coughlin's hunting companion, told police Coughlin tripped and accidentally discharged his shotgun while they were returning from rabbit hunting about seven miles southeast of Waupaca about 9:45 a.m. Saturday.

Undersheriff Jack Algiers said Coughlin's gun butt plate was broken in three pieces. The shot from the 20-gauge gun struck Coughlin's lower cheek and lodged in his skull. The Kaukauna accident occurred about 10:15 a.m. Donald and James were in the Murphy stone quarry when Donald kicked some stones away from the base of a huge rock. The rock, about 2-feet square and about a foot thick, fell, pinning him to the ground.

Ran For Help
He told James he could not breathe and the 10-year-old ran to their home, about a half mile away, for help. Elmer Vandenberg, 1418 Green Bay road, saw Mrs. Biese rushing to the quarry and followed her. Norbert Donnermeyer, 528 W. Eighth street, was called from the Thimpany Pulp and Paper company mill.

They started prying the rock off Donald while Mrs. Tovia Keinonen, 1501 Florence street, drove to the police station to get more help and summon the ambulance and a doctor. The boy was pronounced dead on arrival at Kaukauna Community hospital.

He was born Aug. 24, 1950, at Appleton and was a second grader at Holy Cross Catholic school, Kaukauna. Misfortune plagued him. When he was 2 his father accidentally drove their car over his legs. When he was five he developed rheumatic fever and last year he was struck by a car and underwent a spleen operation because of the accident.

Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Tuesday at Holy Cross Catholic church with burial in the parish cemetery. Friends may call at the Fargo Funeral home, Kaukauna, after 7 p.m. today. The rosary will be said at 8 p.m. today.

Besides his parents, he is survived by four brothers, Thomas, James, Peter and John, and four sisters, Susan, Anita, Mary and Margaret, all at home, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Biese, Kaukauna, and Mrs. Anna Thein, Kimberly.

Cadet Captain
The victim of the New London accident was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Mielke, Green Bay, and a senior at Premontre High school, where he was a cadet captain of the ROTC.

Cadets from Premontre will serve as honorary pallbearers at the funeral services at 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Agnes Catholic church, Green Bay. Burial will be in the Allouez cemetery. Friends may call after 7 p.m. today at the Blaney Funeral home, Green Bay, where the rosary will be said at 7:30 p.m. today and tations to the Soviet leader, ruled out the participation of divided Germany, red China and India.

Eisenhower said goodbye to Paris after a brief meeting today with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, French President Charles de Gaulle and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. He flew to Madrid.

The ceremonies of his departure from Paris were unusually brief. Mounting the steps of his orange-nosed jet liner, after the playing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and "The Marseillaise," he turned and said "goodbye."

French television cameras were set up to record a farewell address and an American official had written a speech for him, but the president decided to make his going away as simple and informal as possible.

He arrived at Orly field by helicopter. French Premier Michel Debre hurried across the field to bid him farewell.

Fail to Agree
White House Sec. James C. Hagerty said the "president thinks the accomplishments were fine" at the 4-power western summit. In his private talks with French President de Gaulle, however, the president apparently failed to win de Gaulle over to the American view that French air forces should be integrated into the NATO command.

The communique from the Big Four reaffirmed the Tuesday and at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

The Waupaca hunting accident occurred near the Hutton cemetery. It is believed Coughlin stumbled on the town road and attempted to break his fall with his gun.

Coughlin Obituary
He was born July 20, 1902, at Beardsley, Minn., and lived for 35 years at Oshkosh, where he was a laborer at the Kickhafer Motor company.

Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Mary Catholic church, Oshkosh, with burial in Calvary cemetery, Oshkosh. Friends may call after 3 p.m. Tuesday at the Fiss and Bill Funeral home, Oshkosh, where the rosary will be said at 8:15 p.m. today.

He is survived by his wife, a daughter, Mrs. Arthur Gow, Des Moines, Iowa; a brother, Lee of Corvallis, Ore.; four sisters, Miss Jane Coughlin and Mrs. Ethel Nelson, both of Rochester, Minn.; son, both of Rochester, Minn.; and Miss Rose Coughlin and Mrs. George Wells, both of Duneden, Fla.; and two grandchildren.

west's determination to yield no basic rights in divided Berlin. It "reaffirmed the principles set forth in a 4-power communique of the 14th of December, 1958, and the declaration of the North Atlantic council of the 16th of December, 1958."

These documents, pledging to defend Berlin against Soviet aggression, represent a return to early western positions in the Geneva foreign ministers conference this year.

Earlier Deadline
That conference ended in deadlock after the west proposed concessions to get an interim settlement in Berlin. These concessions now apparently are out. They included a trimming of forces and some curbing of propaganda in Berlin, and treating with the Russians on the subject of communication lines.

Hagerty said Eisenhower, however, felt there is ample room for discussing any and all problems involving Berlin.

Hagerty also said the idea for the series of summit meetings does not commit the next American president. The April meeting likely would be the only such meeting in 1960, since the U.S. presidential campaign will get under full steam next summer.

The western view limiting the conference to the Big Four powers was made in instructions which the ambassadors make ordinarily to the Soviet Union.

U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson was told to make it clear to the Soviets that any "observers" at the summit—a role played by East and West Germany in the Geneva foreign ministers conference this year—would be "inappropriate."

This conformed to the wishes of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Open Session
The Eisenhower note to Khrushchev made plain the president wants a wide-open summit meeting where discussions can range far. Ambassador Thompson was cautioned to give the Russians a hint that the United States wants a formal agenda. The letter said the meeting should "consider international questions of mutual concern."

It also endorses the idea of a series of summits with the words that the big powers should "meet together from time to time in each other's countries to discuss main problems of attaining peace and stability in the world."

President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Macmillan and French President De

Gaulle wound up their talks by charting the steps to be taken to the summit that Khrushchev has long been clamoring for.

Will Keep Rights
West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer also attended the weekend western summit meeting, although he will not be at the conference table with Khrushchev.

1. To quiet West German fears the big three gave Adenauer assurances that the allies are determined to hold on to their war-won occupation rights in West Berlin.

2. They agreed to press for the opening of disarmament talks by the 10-nation east-west commission before the proposed summit conference—a move that could serve as a test of Soviet intentions.

Late March was talked of as a likely starting time. Originally the commission had been expected to meet in February. De Gaulle's proposal for a self-determination referendum in Algeria after peace is re-probably not be ready then.

3. De Gaulle accepted an invitation to visit the United States in April only days in advance of the contemplated Paris summit meeting. By then, the French president will himself have been host to Khrushchev and formed a personal opinion of the Soviet leader.

Suggests Series
4. Eisenhower suggested the possibility of a series of sum-

Girl Says Mother Put Her on Vehicle In Miami; Goes 1,000 Miles Alone

New York — (AP) — The dainty little girl with white ribbons in her hair sat quietly in the big bus watching all the holiday travelers hurrying by in the station.

"Weren't you going to New York?" the driver asked her. "Yes, sir," she replied.

"Well, this is New York," he told her.

The driver escorted her into the station but apparently no one had come to meet her. Some policemen talked with the pretty little girl Saturday, and she told them all she knew. Her mother, she said, had put her on the bus in Miami, Fla., and told her:

Live With Daddy
"You're going to live with your daddy in the Bronx."

She told the policemen her name was Evelyn and she was 5 years old. She didn't know much about last names.

In her hands, she clutched two envelopes. One was a note from Mrs. William R. Wilkinson of Rochester, N. Y., who had befriended the child and ridden as far as Washington with her. The note was addressed to Evelyn's father:

"I got on the bus with your little girl and I gave her something to eat. I don't know what she would do as she had not one cent of money. I think it's a crime to send such a small tot, as she is, on such a long journey by herself."

She's a nice little girl."

Birthday Card
The other envelope contained a birthday card with a Miami Beach address. It was dated Oct. 7, 1959, and inscribed:

"To dear Evelyn — your dear daddy, Bing. Happy birthday, 5-year-old."

The birthday card was a clue for police. They immediately contacted Florida authorities, who checked the address that was on the card.

Then Miami police sent back the Bronx address of Evelyn's daddy.

Father Found
Jung (Bing) Leen, 47, a Chinese laundry worker, was notified by police here to come to the children's shelter.

Evelyn ran into his arms. "Hello, daddy," she cried.

Then Jung bundled her up and took her home. He told newsmen he had no idea she was coming to him.

Yesterday, he purchased a winter coat for her and a pink Christmas tree. Together, they decorated the tree. Jung said he had tried all day without success to telephone his wife, Maria, a white dancer in Miami Beach nightspots.

He said Evelyn had been with her mother in Florida since last January. Despite the mystery of exactly how her 1,000-mile journey started, Jung said: "This is the best Christmas present I could have."

Policeman Aids Mother Of 2 Infants

Fort Worth, Tex. — (AP) — Hope mingled with tears of appreciation today in the eyes of Marie Mackey because a policeman was touched by her plight.

Policeman R. I. Haddix went to the Korean war bride's apartment Sunday after alarmed neighbors reported the incessant crying of children.

"It was terrible," said Haddix. He found the tiny mother cuddling two whimpering little girls, Beverly, 2½, and Judy, 1½. The babies were only underwear. Marie's husband had been gone four days.

"They hadn't eaten for two days," said Haddix. "She was just resigned to die with her girls."

So Haddix went to a grocer. He had $3.82. The grocer matched it. A customer pitch-in, and Haddix left with $10 worth of food.

Police radios buzzed. A captain told his men to give money for his usual present to Marie Mackey and her girls. A cop bought a Christmas tree. Patrolmen took up money in local barrooms. Radio stations took up the cry.

And Marie Mackey watched

Albert Cardinal Meyer Returns to Chicago After Rome Ceremonies

Chicago — (AP) — Albert Cardinal Meyer, archbishop of Chicago, returned home Sunday night from Rome after taking part in ceremonies in which he and seven other prelates were made princes of the Roman Catholic church by Pope John XXIII.

A crowd of about 200 were at O'Hare International airport when the new cardinal arrived on a special jet flight from Rome.

Traveling with the 56-year-old cardinal were eight American bishops and about 100 Chicagoans.

Cardinal Meyer will make his first public appearance in Chicago as cardinal when he celebrates the midnight Christmas mass at Holy Name cathedral.

Cardinal Meyer became archbishop of the Chicago archdiocese, the nation's largest with nearly two million Roman Catholics, in November, 1958. Before coming here he had been archbishop at Milwaukee, his native city, for more than five years.

The parade of gifts came into the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Somers who gave her refuge. Sunday night carolers from the First Congregational church sang of Christmas.

Santa Claus Delights Youngsters At Butte des Morts Christmas Party

Post-Crescent Photos

The Appearance of Santa Claus highlighted Sunday afternoon's children's Christmas party at Butte des Morts Golf club. Expressions ranging from wide-eyed anticipation to squirming impatience were seen on the faces of this group of youngsters as they waited for the jolly man in the red suit to call their names for a Christmas gift. In the photo at the right Scott Jabas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jabas, and Nan Schultz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Schultz, both of Appleton, look with wonder at the club's old-fashioned Christmas tree.

Neighborhood Party

Bellaire Court Plans 30th Yule Program

The 30th annual Bellaire court neighborhood party will be Christmas eve and will center around a Christmas tree at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Watson, 12 Bellaire court. Dr. R. V. Landis will be master of ceremonies.

The event will open with a torchlight parade at 6 p.m. with the bell ringers, and lamp lighters heralding the way. Bruce Smith and Roger Zahrt are the bell ringers and K. D. Hay, Dr. Stephen Konz and A. F. Sauter are the town criers.

Bell Boy Asks Query On Tipping

BY EMILY POST
Dear Mrs. Post: I am a bellboy in a large hotel in an all-year-round resort city. It happens quite often that guests who obviously have traveled very little, give me a smile and a paltry dime for dragging several bags to their rooms. Since we depend for our living chiefly upon the tips we receive, is it possible to tell these people that more is expected for such service?

Answer: The propriety of your making any comment about the insufficiency of the tips offered would be inexcusable behavior on your part. In fact, any sign of discontent would simply lead to their resentment rather than their sympathy. The hope that certain guests will over tip for the same service is about the only bright prospect that I can see in your situation. If you can skillfully show rueful disappointment, rather than ill-humor, this might help.

Borrowed Carriage

Dear Mrs. Post: Last year a neighbor offered me the use of her very beautiful baby carriage. Now that my baby is growing out of this model I soon expect to return it. I'd like to know the proper way to show my appreciation and thanks for her kindness.

Answer: The important thing is to return it in perfect condition. Just say "thank you" appreciatively, and when opportunity offers, do something for her.

Man Wants to Stimulate Economy of Own Town

Bacova, Va. — Malcolm Hirsh wants to stimulate the economic growth of his native Bath county, Va. The way he began shows he's no piker.

Hirsh purchased the entire town of Bacova, reportedly for $150,000, and has been rehabilitating it in order to attract industry.

Bacova is no crumbling ghost town. It is a neat hamlet, cradled in the western Virginia hills, with 43 houses, a church, a general store, postoffice, school and modern water and sewage systems. Why did he buy it? "No matter where I was on the globe the memories of my boyhood days in and around Bacova stayed with me," says the 37-year-old Hirsh, president of a land development company in New Jersey and a director of the firm his father, Allen M. Hirsh, Sr., founded, Lock Joint Pipe company.

Buying Bacova was relatively easy, as buying a town was. It was owned by just two men, Walter Farnsworth and Charles N. Loving of Hot Springs, Va.

Bacova was built by the Tidewater Oil company in the 1920s. Then it was a thriving village, specializing in the manufacture of barrel staves for wooden oil barrels.

About 1933, refineries began putting oil in metal drums. Bacova's star waned. Farnsworth and Loving bought the town from Tidewater Oil.

Hirsh spent his boyhood two miles away on his father's farm, where thoroughbred horses were raised.

Bacova is located in the vicinity of a proposed interstate highway. There is a ready source of power for industry. The area has year-around recreational facilities.

Bacova's 200 residents are said to be with Hirsh all the way in his drive to bolster the

Floral Decorations Easy to Make for Yuletide Season

Or Florists' Goods, Can be Used

Floral decorations for the home are a very special aspect of the festive holiday season which should not be overlooked in shopping and planning for Christmas.

With a minimum of simple materials gathered in the woods, leftover from other years and one or two new items purchased from the florist, clever arrangers can give the entire home a gala appearance with little expense.

Evergreens of spruce, pine or balsam are usually used as base for mantel arrangements or centerpieces. To add color use red poinsettias, real or artificial, twisted candles tied with shiny ribbons and trimmed with frosted pine cones or little Santa Claus or angel figurines.

While styrofoam pieces provide good anchors for holiday floral arrangements and the material can also be cut into shapes and sprinkled with glitter.

Old wax candles can be melted together and the hot wax poured into tin cans with one end removed. A piece of string is inserted for the wick and after the wax hardens, the other end is removed with a can opener. Wax drippings give the candles a professional touch and pine cones or flowers tied on with holiday ribbon complete the decorations.

Fresh Flowers — Christmas carnations with pine cones, red roses or poinsettias—make charming home decorations for family or special entertaining. Plain, large Christmas tree balls, in red, silver or a combination of both, on a bed of evergreens make a gay background for flowers.

Long, tapered candles with holly clusters at the holder's base make striking decorations for table tops and buffets and can be done in a variety of colors and combinations.

Plants of traditional red poinsettias make thoughtful thank-you gifts for special favors or holiday entertaining and floral shops always stock a huge variety — from the smallest plants to large ones with seven or eight blooms. White blossoms are especially elegant and work into holiday arrangements very well.

Other materials which are useful and attractive in centerpiece displays can be purchased at variety stores and floral shops and include fluff in different colors, angel hair, berries and numerous other items which lend a holiday appearance to flower arrangements.

A White Plastic Deer with gold hoofs and horns draws a white sleigh in this fireplace mantel arrangement made of white pine and red roses. Pine cones that have been sprayed white add to the arrangement.

Sheinwold Don't Play Your Game Into Corner

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD
U. S. Masters Team Champion

Some years ago, a friend of mine painted himself into a corner of a room and had to wait there several hours while the floor dried.

This gave the rest of us plenty of time to compliment him on his foresight and general intelligence. When we make the same sort of mistake at the bridge table, fortunately, the punishment does not last as long.

West opened the queen of hearts, and South won with the ace. Declarer led the ace of trumps and then led a small trump toward dummy.

West discarded a heart, and East captured dummy's jack with the queen. East cashed the king of hearts and then shifted to the eight of diamonds.

Declarer won in dummy with the queen of diamonds and led the nine of spades through East. When East properly played low, dummy remained in the lead. In effect, declarer had painted himself into the dummy.

Tries Clubs

South tried the clubs in an effort to reach his hand. When South led the king of clubs from dummy, West refused the trick. Declarer continued with the queen of clubs, and West refused that, too.

A third club rode to the ace, and West carefully returned the jack of diamonds.

White Pine Branches and carnations form the background for this holiday mantel decoration. A few cones painted white and twigs covered with artificial snow complete the arrangement set in a plastic base. The angel holding the two small candles is made of heavy aluminum which can be cut with a scissors.

to make sure that dummy had to win the trick.

By this time dummy was down to three diamonds. South had one diamond and two trumps. South couldn't get to his hand to draw East's last trump. He had to lead a diamond from dummy, allowing East to ruff and thus take the setting trick.

South made his mistake at the second trick. When he led the ace of spades from his hand he should have dropped dummy's nine of spades on the trick. Later, he would be able to lead the deuce of spades from dummy to finesse through East's ten. This would permit him to win in his own hand with the eight of spades and draw the last trump with the king.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one diamond, and the next player passes. You hold: S—Q 10 7 6, H—K 8 4 2, D—8 5, C—9 6 2. What do you say?

Answer: Bid one heart and hold your breath. If your partner is a flighty type, you're probably better off passing his opening bid. This is a borderline response. (Copyright, 1959)

Women Store Clerks Inflate Men's Ego, Also Wife's Wrath

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband is a bald-headed grandfather with a bay window. He looks every day of his 61 years. Recently his firm (a men's haberdashery and clothing store of excellent reputation) started a new policy. For 80 years they had only men employees. Now they've taken on three women — a common-looking trio, all under 40, with dresses so tight they look like sausage casings. They swap vulgar stories with the men, chuck them under the chin and make the old bucks think they're sophomores again. I've told my old billy-goat to remember his age and to stay away from these women. Should I go one step further and contact the higher-ups in the organization and suggest they throw the hussies out? —Grandma

12. She's large for her age and quite grown up in manner. I have reason to believe they are more deeply involved than they should be. He's told me falsehoods about where they went for the evening and many incidents have occurred which have made me suspicious. The girl's parents are separated and she lives with her grandparents. They can't do much about disciplining her. My son's father is dead and I've done my best to raise a large family. When I suggested he take out other girls he said I had no right to pick his friends. What can I do? —B.B.B.

Dear B.B.B.: You can get some outside help. Your son should not be taking out a 12-year-old. If you can't get through to him ask the football coach, the school principal, your doctor, clergyman or an uncle to talk to him. And good luck — you need it, Mother.

DEAR ANN: The letter about the teenagers who call themselves "The Antagonizers" was very timely. For the past several weeks I've been getting mysterious phone calls at 2 a.m. and later. The party on the other end hangs up.

My husband died four months ago. My two sons are away at college. It has taken all the courage I can muster to stay in the house alone. Just when I began to get ahold of myself the phone calls started. They've made a sick person out of me. It's torture to be grief-stricken and not be able to get a night's sleep. Some nights I get as many as four calls. I've considered having the phone removed but my only pleasure is the phone calls from my boys. A parent who knows his son is mixed up in such a group and considers it a "playful prank" ought to be hauled into court. The only trouble with your advice, Ann, was that you didn't make it strong enough. —Sick Woman

A formal on Roller Skates was the unusual party held Friday evening at the Waverly beach resort and roller rink. Gliding along "on wheels" are from left, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Schnese, Neenah, Donald Hove and Miss Joyce Rohe, both of Appleton.

Mother's Helper

by Helmann & Pearson

Dear Grandma: Your suggestion to the higher-ups, no matter how well intentioned, would be welcomed like a blizzard in June. They may get the notion you're trying to tell them how to run their store — perish the thought. Forget about going to the brass, and please stop nagging your billy-goat. You may give him ideas he never had before. A man of 61 isn't exactly mummified, you know.

DEAR ANN: I'm having serious trouble with my 17-year-old son. He's been going with a lovely girl who is only

The Christmas card basket overflows by this time and the cards are such beauties they should be on display. Here are quick ways to decorate with them where they weren't easy to locate before. With cellophane tape of the kind that has adhesive on both sides — now available everywhere — or with rubber cement, cards can attach invisibly to many painted and wood-finished surfaces, and will remove later without leaving marks. modern corner table which I'd still like to use between the units of my sectional sofa, although the coffee table that matches it should be replaced. Must the new coffee table be in the same style and wood because the two tables arrange so near each other? I'd rather go in for something more elegant this time.

Stand-out style for the coffee table is often just what such a furniture grouping needs. The corner table is plain enough for compatibility with a more elaborate coffee table design, and metal, marble and tile are possibilities as well as woods that harmonize rather than match.

Shah, Farah Diba Wed in Moslem Rite

BY JOSEPH E. DYNAN

Teheran, Iran — Farah Diba, the new Queen of Iran today amid hopes that she will provide a son and heir for the throne.

With radiant smiles the 21-year-old brunette with brown eyes and light olive complexion married Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi in a Moslem ritual in the Marble palace.

She thus became Queen Farah Pahlavi.

It was the first marriage for the young Iranian commoner, who until recently was a student in architecture in Paris. It was the third marriage for the shah, who at 40 still hopes for a son to succeed him.

The couple sat and stood through a Moslem ceremony and the signing of the marriage contract in the glittering Hall of Mirrors. Members of the family, members of the government and their wives and the diplomatic corps of Teheran looked on.

Blue Gown

Farah forsook the traditional white in favor of a shade specially designed by her by Yves Saint Laurent, head of the Paris House of Dior. The shade is just a bit off white in pearl grey with a slight tinge of blue—a sort of light steel color. The full-skirted satin gown was topped by a bolero-type jacket covering an evening decolletage beneath.

There was a matching veil over a diamond tiara and gloves and shoes the color of the dress. The long train was carried by six little girls—who were in traditional white.

The shah wore a full ceremonial dress of dark imperial blue trousers and a navy blue coat covered with medals.

A bright sun glistened on the snowy slopes of the Elborz mountains towering behind Teheran to give a picturesque setting for the ceremony in the big Marble palace.

The capital was in a gay, festive spirit. Flags flapped in the breeze. Many buildings were decorated with bunting and the national colors.

The shah divorced his first two wives because they failed to bear him an heir to the throne. The first wife, an Egyptian princess, bore him a daughter, Princess Shamsa.

He divorced Queen Soraya 20 months ago after a childless but obviously happy marriage. The red-haired Iranian beauty now lives in Europe.

Shah Needs Son

Speaking to newsmen yesterday, the shah explained that aside from human reasons, he is marrying Farah for reasons "of a monarchical order." Iran's constitution requires that the successor to the throne be a male, and the shah has no son.

The throne itself is ancient and rich in history—but the shah's family is not. His father, Reza Khan, was a rough army officer who seized power in 1921 and had himself crowned shah-in-shah (king of kings) four years later.

His son has been leading Iran into the modern world with land reforms and ambitious technical projects. This has set up social tensions within his kingdom, especially among the tribal leaders who remember how they were forced to knuckle under to his father.

A shah without an heir is obviously not as secure as a monarch whose line of succession is clearly fixed. The shah himself has openly acknowledged the possibility of assassination. The absence of an heir in such a situation would be an invitation to political chaos.

The marriage rites were surrounded by the ornate splendor of ancient Persia. The peacock throne itself has 12 pillars, each decorated with two gem-encrusted peacocks. It was built in the 17th century for the Indian mogul Shah Jahan, builder of India's Taj Mahal. The throne was carried off to Iran in 1739 by the Persian ruler, Nadir Shah.

The scene of the ceremony was the shah's office, known as the mosaic room. Tiny pieces of wood, ivory, gold and silver are worked into a multicolored design covering ceiling and walls.

Part of the ceremony included financial conditions—payment the bride may expect if ever divorced, as well as the groom's dowry to the bride.

Symbolic Rites

Both are symbolic. The dowry is an elaborately bound copy of the Koran and one gold coin. The separation settlement would be half a million rials. (The rial is worth little more than one American penny.) This is a mere token since Farah has already spent much more than that on her Dior trousseau.

The wedding schedule included, after the ceremony, a state banquet for 150 guests, in the Ivory room of Golestan palace, and two hours later a wedding ball for some 2,000 in the palace's glittering Hall of Mirrors, where the shah entertained President Eisenhower last week.

The massive second floor room has thousands of tiny pieces of mirror fitted together in intricate design completely covering walls and ceiling. Two huge crystal chandeliers hang from the ceiling and a Persian carpet covers the floor.

The couple will start their honeymoon in a few days on the Caspian sea. They plan a trip early next year to Pakistan and later to Europe.

"I would like to see the Olympics in Rome next year," the shah told newsmen.

Farah Diba, a 21-Year-Old commoner, today became the queen of Iran when she married Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi in Teheran. The shah, 40, divorced two previous wives, Egypt's Princess Fawzia and his former Iranian queen, Soraya, because they failed to bear him a son and heir to the throne.

Tiny Pink Birds and golden-haired angels decorate this miniature Christmas tree which has been frosted with holiday sprinkles. The little sprinkles resemble snowdrops, mistletoe and holly berries and adhere to greens, wood, glass, plastic or paper.

Yule Snow, Berries Used By Florists Available To Holiday Decorators

For the first time this Christmas you can deck the hall with boughs of holly adorned with the same realistic snow and berries that professional florists have employed so successfully the last season or two. The "makings" are all contained in a new home decorating kit introduced this year.

Tiny white plastic pellets — can corings, the kit imparts that resemble snow drops and the effect of snow-covered branches dotted with red berries. The adhesive is first sprayed on, then sprinkled with the pellets which adhere indefinitely. It is non-flammable and non-toxic so that designs can also be created on the glass panels of windows, doors and mirrors, paper tree decorations and gift wraps can be garnished, and candles, vases or dishes, and Christmas tree balls can be sprayed.

A companion product is an even larger-sized white pellet which will stick to tree branches without the use of the adhesive, or can be strung on thread like popcorn to form decorations and tree or home decorations.

Grocers Warned About Slashing Turkey Prices

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—In a second warning letter to the Wisconsin food trade, the state department of agriculture and markets has cautioned dealers against the kind of a "below cost" break in turkey prices that occurred during the Thanksgiving season.

Tradesmen are warned the law requires a 6 per cent markup above invoice cost, or replacement cost, whichever is higher.

There were many complaints about illegal price cutting during the previous holiday trading season.

Store Infirmaries Busy at Christmas

Bruise Shinbones in Yuletide Shopping

This is the season of the year when department stores are jammed with women ankle-deep in trouble. The last few shopping days before Christmas are hardest on the feet, retail store executives have found. A study correlating accident and injury reports in stores in large and middle-sized American cities reveals that the most common complaints for which shoppers seek first aid during the yuletide season are lacerated toes, twisted ankles and bruised shinbones, according to the American Foot Care Institute.

The eager Christmas shopper in lance-sharp stiletto heels is a danger to her fellow shoppers and to herself. Tangling with her in a crowded store has cost many a shopper in open-toed shoes a pair of nylons and a painfully cut toe. One misstep by a woman in high heels and she may twist an ankle and find herself in the podiatrist's office. A damaged foot can take you out of the running for a few days or a week.

To help you stand on your own two feet throughout the taxing Christmas season, the American Foot Care Institute has prepared for department stores the following recommendations:

Wear closed toe shoes for maximum protection against accident and weather.

Step out in shoes with low or medium heels — even if you wear high-heeled pumps the rest of the year.

Wear all-leather shoes for comfort, protection and full freedom of movement. A shoe with a leather sole absorbs the beating from hard pavements and gives you a balanced, sure step.

Don't make the mistake of slipping into flimsy play shoes or ballet slippers because they "feel easy" on your feet. They won't give you enough support. Beware of well-worn shoes — sides that gape and backs that are stretched mean chafing, blisters and irritation.

At the end of a long, tiring shopping day, soak your feet in warm water and relax with your feet elevated above your head. If you have shooting pains in the arch or calf, it is wise to consult your family podiatrist — foot specialist — for a check-up.

Check Safety Of Appliances For Christmas

If your last minute gift buying calls for an electrical appliance, be sure you choose one that carries the seal of electrical safety, suggest home management specialists at the University of Wisconsin. Whatever you choose—hair dryer, hand mixer or electric skillet—all should carry the seal of the Underwriters laboratory that guarantees the appliance be safe for normal use.

The seal of safety is a "UL" in a circle and goes only on appliances that have been tested and approved. You may find the seal marked on the box but be sure that the appliance itself is marked with the seal. Usually it's on the bottom of the fry pan and may be on the name plate of the mixer and hair dryer.

Check that the cord that goes with the appliance also carries Underwriter approval. A separate band fitting tightly around the cord or a paper ring will tell you that the cord is safe to use.

It's always a good idea to buy a brand that you can rely on so you can get service when you need it.

Look for temperature controls that move easily and are easy to read.

Create Subtle Television Wall

Among smart home decorators, recessing the TV set into a wall has always been a popular strategy. The obvious decorating dilemma encountered by this move is to fashion a wall that will be attractive without being distracting. Many designers have solved this problem by selecting for their TV wall one of the many neutral shades of ceramic tile. Its subtle pattern and texture creates an easy-on-the-eyes beauty that won't conflict with your television enjoyment.

Sparkling, Handcrafted stemware, elegant crystal candle holders, formal Wedgwood china, sterling silver and Belgian linen tablecloth and napkins set the traditional tone of this holiday table. Gifts such as these, by the piece or by the set, would make any homemaker proud and happy on Christmas morning.

Wide Selection

Gifts to be Treasured Found in Tableware

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A thoughtful holiday gift that reflects the spirit of Christmas for many years can be found in any store that sells china, glassware, silver or other tableware.

Here there are innumerable selections by the individual piece or set, for bride-to-be or practiced homemaker. For the person who has flatware, there are extra pieces such as dessert spoons, pickle or cocktail forks, gravy ladle or large serving spoons in the pattern of her choice.

Sterling and silver plate is available in wide choice of patterns from contoured modern design to intricately ornate pieces. A place setting makes an excellent gift for the girl who is engaged and has her silver pattern chosen but not completed.

Stainless Steel
Today there are also many American-made stainless steel sets of tableware that have a soft luster that rivals the several Swedish and German crafted patterns available in Fox Cities stores. Either types make fine "second" or every day table services and these would be a delight to any bride-to-be. Most of the stainless steel ware is in contemporary design that fits well with all types of china.

As for glassware and table china, the holiday stock is enormous. Crystal is available in delicately etched glassware, slender stemmed or tumbler styles. Some are handcrafted with simplicity as its beauty highlight, others with a more ornate look.

Handsome boxed sets include tinted shades in various sizes from fruit juice to party beverage glasses. Some have matching dessert glasses.

Another set that makes an inexpensive but welcome gift includes four, six or eight metal glasses for either hot or cold drinks. These have become popular in the last few years for entertaining or informal family use. They keep summer lemonade refreshingly cool or cocoa and chocolate piping hot on a cold winter's day.

Many China Patterns
Never have there been so many china patterns available. Attractive glazed pottery cost as little as $5.95 for a 16-piece starter set. There are imports, American makes, informal and formal sets of dishes. Some are boldly colored, others are plain in design.

Plastic ware has come out in prettier patterns than ever before with delicate designs against a plain background and with the look of china. This ware today not only has practicability, but some very fine design craftsmanship.

Seen in one store is a handsome dinnerware of white ironstone, contemporary in design. This ware is durable and may be placed in the oven without danger of crazing or chipping. It is available in a starter set or a 53-piece service for eight.

Floral designs seem to be coming back in china popularity. Delicately shaded roses are centered on dinner plate and cup of one set of American made dinnerware. Another has an apple-blossom pattern, reminiscent of the china at the turn of the cenwhile a modern shaped dinnerware with its scoop shape comes with a scattering of colorful daisies against its white background.

Peter Townsend, Belgian Beauty Wed in Surprise Civil Ceremony Today

Brussels, Belgium — Marie-Luce Jamagne, 20-year-old daughter of an Antwerp tobacco tycoon, a friend of Townsend reported.

The friend said the ceremony was performed at noon. The engagement of Townsend, 44, and Marie-Luce, his 20-year-old secretary, was announced by her mother Oct. 9. Townsend's romance with Princess Margaret broke up four years ago. He had been divorced. The Church of England forbids marriage of a divorced person so long as the other party to the divorce is living. The former Mrs. Townsend is living and Princess Margaret bowed to the church rule. Townsend conceded on Oct. 11, when he introduced his fiancée to the press that he also had a religious problem in this romance, since Marie-Luce is a Roman Catholic, which is no more tolerant of divorce than the Church of England to which Townsend belongs.

Marie-Luce is a slim, long-legged brunette whose friends call her "Mosquito." She likes horses and has been a frequent winner in jumping contests. She met Townsend at a riding club about five years ago. Townsend, since his romance with the British Princess collapsed, has been roaming the world, writing a book and making a movie. He says Belgium is his home now. On his second world tour he took Marie-Luce along as "secretary-photographer."

Today's ceremony was reported to have been a civil one performed by the Burgomaster in the suburban town hall at Watermael-Boitsfort. "There was no religious ceremony of any kind," Townsend's friend said. "It was brief. The formal ceremony took place in French. The Burgomaster briefly addressed the couple in English, wishing them happiness."

Marie-Luce, a bit of a tomboy when she was younger, had little schooling after she suffered from the shock of a V-bomb attack on Antwerp toward the end of the last war. She took acting lessons in Paris and is interested in classical ballet dancing.

Green Bay Man Wins $5,000 or Trip to Olympics

Green Bay — Robert M. Fahres, Green Bay, had one of those dream decisions to make last week. It was made no easier by the fact that he is an accountant whose business it is to add up the figures on both sides of the ledger.

Fahres had to choose between a $5,000 all-expense trip to the winter olympics for himself, his wife and daughter or $5,000 in cash. Actually, the decision wasn't too hard. He isn't overly interested in winter sports and figures he'd have to work too hard to spend that much in 10 days. Fahres won the grand prize of $5,000 in a nation-wide jingle contest. The 28-year-old accountant became interested seriously in entering contests this summer.

Pleads Innocent To Robbery Count

La Crosse — Jerome Smith, 23, of Menasha, has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to charges of robbing the Citizens Loan and Finance company here Dec. 3. Circuit Judge Lincoln Neppard ordered Smith to undergo a 60-day mental observation at Waupun's Central State hospital following Smith's testimony that he had been confined to mental institutions three times.

Today's ceremony was reported to have been a civil one performed by the Burgomaster in the suburban town hall at Watermael-Boitsfort. "There was no religious ceremony of any kind," Townsend's friend said. "It was brief. The formal ceremony took place in French. Turkey, Ham, Duckling Best Holiday Bargains

For the last-minute Christmas shopper, there are four shopping days left. But for the Fox Cities housewife who has to prepare two holidays meals in a row Thursday and Friday, there is no time to spare in stocking the yuletide larder.

Grocers' advertisements today feature turkey, ham and duckling as the best holiday meat bargains. Turkey ranges all the way from 39 to 59 cents a pound for large 14 to 24-pound birds. Smaller birds are between 49 and 59 cents. Smaller birds called "turkey ducks" (that are really ducks, not turkeys) are 59 cents a pound. Other varieties of duckling are about 45 cents a pound.

Order Immediately Butchers are taking orders for these birds now, with delivery Wednesday or Thursday. For those who want ham on Christmas, there are many bargains available. Shank halves cost as little as 35 cents a pound; butts, 45 cents. Canned hams are a trifle more, but are somewhat less work to prepare. An 11-pound canned ham costs about $6.99. $6.99.

All meat prices are considered excellent and quality generally is good. Beef prices are fairly steady, with roasts ranging from 55 cents a pound for chuck, to 89 cents a pound for rolled roasts. Pork still is the best meat bargain, however, with roasts available from 35 cents a pound.

Produce Unchanged Produce prices have varied very little since last week, with the best buy still being oranges at 33 cents a dozen for large California navel of good quality.

Cranberries—all of the government inspected and approved—range from 15 to 19 cents a pound. Pink grapefruit are excellent bargains, from 5 to 6 cents apiece.

Lettuce is about 25 cents a head; tomatoes, 35 cents a pound; celery, 19 to 29 cents a stalk; brussels sprouts, 19 to 29 cents a pound; radishes, 10 to 15 cents a bunch; cucumbers, 10 to 15 cents each. All the prices are fair for this season.

House Cranberry Committee Set Up To Aid Growers

Formation of a house of representatives steering committee to develop plans for helping the cranberry industry recover from the ill effects of the recent cranberry scare was announced today by Rep. Melvin R. Laird, Marshfield.

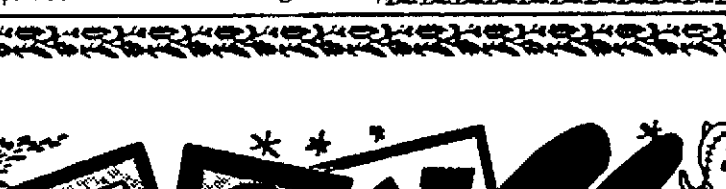

The committee will consist of all 12 congressmen from districts in which cranberries are grown. The group will meet in January immediately after congress reconvenes, elect a chairman and a secretary, and in cooperation with leaders of the cranberry industry develop plans for aiding the berry growers.

The cranberry district congressmen who have agreed to serve are Hastings Keith (R. Mass.), Joseph E. Martin, Jr. (R. Mass.), James Auchincloss (R. N.J.), Milton Glenn (R. N.J.), Walter Norblad (R. Ore.), Charles Porter (D. Ore.), Mack (R. Wash.) Pelley (R. Wash.), Lester Johnson

Real Estate Plans Good Investments

BY LOUIS J. LEFKOWITZ
Atty. General, State of New York

One of the nation's leading real estate organizations proclaims: "Real estate is everybody's business."

The truth of this slogan is evident in the heavy investment in realty throughout the nation. Insurance companies, banks, savings institutions and other agencies have billions invested in such holdings. More than 60 per cent of the country's families are home owners.

Until rather recently, the little man confined his investment to modest properties attainable within his income and capital. In recent years, however, a number of top experts devised a plan to enable him to join in investments in high-yielding and income-producing properties.

The plan is simple: A group is organized to purchase a large and desirable piece of real estate or, in some cases, partial interest in commercial properties such as a shopping center, apartment house, office building or hotel.

Either before or after actual title is taken to a property, fractional shares are offered to investors. The cost of the shares varies according to the property involved. This is now known as real estate syndication.

Under proper management, syndication thus offers another valuable investment potential for both the big investor and the little man. Thousands of persons have participated as investors in such syndicates during the last few years.

The concern of such agencies as the attorney general's office and the securities and exchange commission is not over the ethical practices of reputable and responsible agencies in the real estate syndication field. Our concern is focused solely on dishonest manipulators who seek to infiltrate this comparatively new field and reap huge profits at the expense of innocent investors.

A case the New York attorney general's office recently investigated is an example of such unethical conduct and fraud, although this story should not be considered representative of the ethics of the majority of syndicators.

In this case, a syndicate was formed to build a $2,000,000 luxury motel in Washington, D.C. It used $125,000 of its own to buy the site, then raised $436,000 from 136 investors with a promise of immediate 12 per cent interest. The $436,000 was to be kept in a trust fund to build the 200-room motel.

Instead, the funds were deposited in a general account maintained by the company in a bank on Long Island and most of the $436,000 was used for purposes other than construction of the motel for which investors thought it would be used.

Investigators found only a construction shack on the site where the motel was to have been built. More than $250,000 of assets belonging to the firm were uncovered in New York City and Puerto Rico. Today, two court-appointed receivers are studying the company's financial condition to determine how much can be salvaged for investors.

The moral of this manipulation should be clear: A little caution and investigation on the part of investors would have saved them from considerable losses and financial headaches.

Guide to real estate syndicate investment:

Leading real estate syndicators have predicted that their movement not only is here to stay, but, if anything, is destined to grow bigger and stronger.

Outstanding authorities on real estate syndication point to the fact that the movement has become big business and the group of participating investors has been expanding steadily.

The total value of all properties which have been syndicated is estimated at more than $2,000,000,000.

No reputable syndicator objects to:

1. Making a full and fair disclosure to investors of all facts relating to a promotion and purchase of a property.
2. Maintaining adequate books and records of all transactions with investors.

Appeal to Nikita Lifts Iron Curtain For Two Children

Chicago — A Chicago couple was overcome with emotion when they learned an appeal to Russian Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev had lifted the Iron Curtain and they soon will be reunited with their two children after 15 years.

Soviet officials in Moscow told the U.S. embassy the two Lithuanian children, Regina Leonas, 20, and her brother, Tomas, 17, will be sent to Chicago to join their parents some time next month.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paulius Leonas, who had made a personal plea to Khrushchev for reunion with their children when he was in Des Moines last Sept. 23, were thrilled when told of the Soviet action.

"I thought we would have to wait longer," said Leonas, 43, a real estate dealer. "This is a big shock, but oh, what a good one."

Sometimes we have to say no

Occasionally a customer asks us for some medication he's read about. And we must refuse him. The reason is that the particular medicine must be taken under a physician's supervision, and is available only on prescription. This is a safeguard to your health. As your pharmacist, we suggest you see a physician if you feel you need potent medication. We'll be happy to fill his prescription. Till then, perhaps our greatest service is saying "No."

A Mast Is Added to One of the latest model ship construction units of Bobby McKenney, 1625 S. Carver lane, Appleton. On the work table in front of Bobby are samples of just a few of the do-it-yourself models available for Christmas giving. Two are models of cars, the most popular kit.

Do-It-Yourself Kits Cover Full Range of Vintage, Modern Units Demand for Such Models Keeps Hobby Shop Stocks on Move

BY ROY VALITCHKA, II
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Youthful "do - it - yourselfers" will be "roddin" around if Santa works right this Christmas.

Best of all Santa can't miss on the latest of late do-it-yourself projects. Those who enjoy such work have already purchased a full fleet of early vintage customized model cars. Just the latest releases — possibly a '32 Ford or a '29 Flivver with its chromed block — will delight boys from 9 to 16.

"It's almost impossible to keep these models in stock," a Fox Cities hobby dealer said.

The cars come in premolded precision cast kits. All parts are made of plastic and drawn to scale of the car's oldtime real counterpart.

An average model takes several hours to construct and costs in the neighborhood of $1.98.

"It's incredible," the dealer said. "The things today are a real challenge to construct."

Most car models come with small parts to make the car look and work more realistic. Doors on some may open, hoods close and wheels turn. Do it yourself projects have an appeal to the intellectual class as well as the mechanically inclined.

Even doctors buy this item. "There is now on the market a visible man kit," the dealer said. Doctors use these models to show patients where their ailment exists.

The visible man kit is an 18-inch clear plastic model of a man's body. In separate sections all of his internal organs are left for the do-it-yourself to construct.

Each kit comes equipped with full instructions and an explanation of the organ, its function and place in the man's body. Doctor's have said the kit is quite accurate. Girls are not left out of do-it-yourself projects.

Scale plastic models of birds and horses have been selling well. Several evenings can be spent in making one of the kits.

It may have been recent horror movies or imagination, but now true scale models of insects in giant size are also available. Along with the insects are plastic construction kits of knights in armor, Indians in war costume and explorers of old.

Chinese Paper Hits Stevenson

Taipei, Formosa — A leading Chinese nationalist newspaper today criticized Adlai E. Stevenson for what it called advocating Red China's admission to the United Nations and a nationalist pull-out from the Quemoy and Matsu Islands.

The United Daily News said the recommendations were "worse than preposterous."

Stevenson said in a foreign policy outline in the latest issue of the quarterly, Foreign Affairs, that the West might consider making several concessions to promote world disarmament.

He said these "would presumably include an end to the American embargo on (communist) China's admission to the United Nations (not to be confused with diplomatic recognition)" and "the evacuation of Quemoy and Matsu."

Woman Learns Walking's Cheaper

Toledo, Ohio — Mrs. Wilma Scroggins, 30, now is a confirmed pedestrian. She told police she paid a man 75 cents to drive her home from a dry cleaning shop, only to have him speed away with clothing worth $100 when she got out.

Later the same day she went to a market, bought $5 worth of groceries, and hired another man to drive her about in search for the first man. The hunt was fruitless and the second man took her home, took $1 for the ride and drove away with her groceries.

still sell well. Less than a week goes by and an exact replica of one of the latest air force planes is on the market.

Products of do-it-yourself models are not for viewing alone, but are made to be played with, dealers say.

Not even adults escape the building field. Men will be found constructing old fashioned model electric clocks from kits and women making reed work chairs and baskets.

The latter project is an outgrowth of vocational school courses offered in scheduled classes.

"With all the boating done in the Fox Cities, it is surprising how few model boats are sold, dealers note. Maybe all the do-it-yourself boat projects are done in actual size, they laugh.

List Rules on Copyrighted, Fraudulent Advertising

Like some newspaper columns, newspaper advertising can be copyrighted.

In 1903 Justice Oliver W. Holmes, speaking for the United States Supreme court, declared that advertisements could be owned and copyrighted even without having any special literary or artistic merit.

An author, business, or agency that puts work and skill into an ad can protect it as a rule with a "general notice of copyright", which must strictly comply with the requirements of the federal copyright law.

One publisher made special road maps for an advertiser, and got them copyrighted; the court held that the advertiser couldn't sell these maps to a rival publisher. In another case a clever picture ran in a copyrighted ad. The court told a competitor he couldn't use the same picture for his ad.

Common Trade Names Most ads are "owned" by the advertiser, not the newspaper or magazine. Ads which are run to get business may also create property right in a "trade name" of great value to a business even without a copyright.

A product name itself may often be registered as a trademark. Now and then a product name, such as "cellophane", may become so well known that without proper protection it can lapse into the common language and lose its character as property.

Trying to gain from someone else's ads may well get you in trouble. It can be a crime for anyone to violate a copyright on purpose, and he may have to pay money damages covering all his profits, and any damages resulting to the copyright owner.

False or misleading ads can cause loss or suspension of certain business licenses; the post office sometimes gets rough if someone uses the mails to advertise fraudulently.

Some "puffing" is allowed. But the Federal Trade commission often stops certain advertisements if they are false or misleading, especially as to factual claims.

Fox Cities May be Part of UW Urban Problems Research

Study to Center on Milwaukee

The Fox Cities may be included in basic research into urban problems by the University of Wisconsin. Possibilities were revealed Saturday in an announcement that the Ford Foundation will underwrite a $1 million university research into urban problems of state population centers.

The announcement said much of the study program would center in Milwaukee but other phases would be conducted at Madison and "in the cluster of cities in the Fox river valley, Klotzsche said.

Dr. J. Martin Klotzsche, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee provost, who made the announcement, reported to-day that there has been no determination of what "cluster" of Fox cities would be selected.

Details in 6 Months
Application by the university to the Ford Foundation was purposely vague about what problems would be studied and where the studies would take place in the Fox valley.

In fact, he said, it will be another six months before the university itself has settled on details of the program.

The Ford grant, he explained, was made to encourage universities to assume greater responsibility in solving urban problems.

The university's application for the grant stemmed from a decision by the UW several years ago to redefine its role. Like other state land grant colleges and universities, UW has dedicated itself largely to solution of rural problems.

Urban development, phenomenon of the late 1940s and the 1950s, Ford and UW officials agree, now should get more attention from universities.

Three Ideas
Although the program has not been outlined in detail, three areas will be involved, Klotzsche said. They are:

Basic research into forces which make up an urban area and how they contribute to problems of living in metropolitan areas.

Public service through the extension division. Educating specialists in urban problems through undergraduate and graduate programs and fellowships.

These ideas would fit the traditional role of the university, that of research, public service and teaching, Klotzsche said.

Although foundation and university officials hope the program will contribute to solution of specific problems, its primary purpose is to identify the general forces contributing to urban communities — economics, cultural, political and social.

Fox Valley Regional Planner Clarence A. Hammond said today he understands the basic research data will be made available to state legislators.

It is assumed, he said, the research material will point up the need for specific enabling legislation required to permit orderly solution of urban problems.

Klotzsche said the research would be available for a wide variety of uses, including that of keeping legislators abreast of changing urban character. The study will not replace any state agency now in the urban development field.

The grant, Klotzsche said, will permit the university to attract outstanding scholars in such fields as urban history, sociology and land use and design.

Both men said it is entirely too early to tell whether the study—if it includes the Fox Cities—would have any effect on the regional master plan, now moving ahead under Metropolitan Planners, Inc., of Indianapolis.

Post Office Sets Record Work Volume

A record work volume day was recorded Thursday by the Appleton post office, according to Postmaster Francis Sumnicht.

Work volume is compiled from incoming and outgoing mail and parcel handling. This year a volume of 666,000 was recorded Thursday as compared to 602,000 last year.

Although figures on the quantity of mail handled are pulling away from last year's, Sumnicht said the post office "is in the best shape we have ever been on the handling of parcels and city mail." He said dead letters amount to only half as many as last year and there is no backlog of mail or parcels.

Public Cooperation

Sumnicht attributed the improved conditions to early mailing, good weather and the public's cooperation in addressing mail completely and supplying sufficient postage.

He said Saturday was very busy but figures are not yet complete. Friday 154,000 pieces of outgoing mail were cancelled as compared to 144,000 last year. Incoming mail totaled 243,000 pieces as compared to 170,000 last year.

Outgoing mail Sunday totaled 58,100 as compared to 50,100 last year. The total volume of outgoing mail since Dec. 6 is 1,418,000 as compared to 1,310,000 last year.

in Appleton and taught school in Milwaukee for 44 years before her retirement in 1940.

She was an Appleton High school graduate and attended college at Milwaukee Normal school. She was active in a retired teachers' association and the Eastern Star.

Funeral services will be in Milwaukee at 4 p.m. Tuesday and at the Riverside Cemetery chapel, Appleton, at 11 a.m. Wednesday.

There is one immediate survivor, a sister, Mrs. Alvina Zablaz, Coachella, Calif.

Mrs. Leslie Lamkins

Mrs. Leslie Lamkins, 65, Manawa, died in New London at 3:45 a.m. Sunday after a 3-week illness. She was born April 29, 1894, in Abbottsford.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Manawa Methodist church, with burial in the Little Wolf cemetery. Friends may call at the Booth Funeral home, Manawa, after noon today until noon Tuesday, then at the church.

Survivors include the widow; two daughters, Mrs. Robert Squires, Manawa, and Mrs. Harry Underberg, Waunatosa; one sister, Mrs. Edith Bunell, Abbottsford; and six grandchildren.

Eisch Services

Funeral services for William Eisch, Sr., 70, of 1001 W. Kamps avenue, who died Saturday, will be at 9 a.m. Tuesday at St. Pius X Catholic church. Friends may call at the Brettschneider Funeral home after 2 p.m. today. The rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today. Burial will be in St. Joseph cemetery.

High Court May Rule on Jobless Pay

Branch Plant Workers
Idled by Strike Can Be Paid, Judge Says

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The unemployment compensation rights of employees of a branch plant affected by a strike at a sister plant may be headed for interpretation by the state supreme court.

Employer groups are hoping for an appeal to the state supreme court of a Dane county circuit court decision involving an Appleton industrial plant recently, according to reports in business circles. Judge Richard W. Bardwell of the Dane county court held that the employees of the Consolidated Water Power and Paper company's Appleton mill were not part of the establishment at the main operations of the firm at Wisconsin Rapids when they were laid off due to a strike at the parent plant. They were therefore declared eligible for job insurance benefits in the court opinion that overruled the state industrial commission.

Change in Law
According to one leading employer association, the effect of the trial court rule has been to modify if not to reverse an earlier interpretation of the state supreme court and the matter ought to

Tipsy Driving Count Reduced at Request Of City Attorney

Arthur S. Cline, 60, Lake Geneva, was fined $75 and charged six points for reckless driving after City Atty. Don Jury asked the municipal court to reduce a charge of drunken driving.

Cline was arrested July 23 after city police followed his car from Wisconsin avenue and Richmond street to Wisconsin and Meade street. The patrolman charged Cline drove erratically at about five to 25 miles an hour. Cline refused to take the drunkometer test.

AAL Parking Lots Open to Public for 3 Shopping Nights

The Aid Association for Lutherans again will make its parking lots in the block bounded by Washington, Superior, Appleton and Franklin streets available to the Christmas shopping public free of charge for three evenings this week.

The lots will be open from 4:30 to 9 p.m. today, Tuesday and Wednesday, AAL President Walter Rugland said.

be clarified with a new appeal to the high tribunal. The industrial commission has not yet decided whether it will appeal the Appleton case. In 1940 the state supreme court held that two plants of the American Motors company, even though 40 miles apart, constituted a single establishment and that under the law workers thrown out of work in Milwaukee by a strike in Kenosha were not eligible for unemployment pay.

Writer Studies People's Reactions to a Disaster

Tornadoes, explosions, a tidal wave—all these disasters have happened in America and undoubtedly will happen again. Within a few seconds, a man may become a hero, a coward or a corpse. Just how Americans have reacted to these disasters is the sometimes humorous, more often shocking subject of "The Face of Disaster", by Donald Robinson.

"Face of Disaster" reports on reactions to some of more famous disasters in the United States. It also explains why, and the author ventures to say what would happen if the H-bomb were dropped. It is one of 21 new non-fiction books put on display Saturday at the Appleton public library. Nine new novels also went on display.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night when itching torture keeps one awake. No matter what you've used in the past without results — here's good news for you. Now, for the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection. In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration. The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H. Ask for Preparation H suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Absolute satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. For free trial package write to Preparation H, P.O. Box 1910, Dept. J, New York 46, N. Y. *Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

This film stars Frank Sinatra as the leader of the guerrilla band and Gina Lollobrigida in the first film she has made in Hollywood. Co-starred are Peter Lawford, Steve McQueen, Richard Johnson, Paul Henreid, Brian Donlevy and Dian Jones.

United Artists will open their 1960 season with "On The Beach," the film version of Nevil Shute's best-selling novel. Telling the harrowing story of the last few weeks following an atomic war (in 1963) this Stanley Kramer film stars Gregory Peck as a U.S. sub commander, Ava Gardner as an Australian girl who undergoes a deep change in faith, Fred Astaire, in his first non-dancing dramatic role as a scientist and Anthony Perkins as a naval officer. Donna Anderson makes her screen debut as Anthony Perkins' wife.

Biographies And 1960 also will bring a fine selection of biographical films. Columbia's "Crescent do," is the screen story of Franz Liszt, starring Dirk Bogarde in the title role and Capucine, a French model. The movie also features some 65 minutes of classical music recorded by the 100-piece Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra and the Roger Wagner Choral group.

Allied Artists will offer "Streets of Montmartre," starring Lana Turner. Filmed in Paris, this is the story of the famed model and painter Susanne Valadon, mother of the painter Maurice Utrillo. Also from Allied Artists will come the film biography of the notorious French murderer Henry Landru. Titled "Bluebeard's Ten Geomeoons," it stars George Sanders and Corinne Calvet.

Family entertainment is here in generous quantity. Of interest to all ages will be Walt Disney's film "Swiss Family Robinson," to be released by Buena Vista. Starring John Mills, Dorothy McGuire and James MacArthur and Disney's new star Janet Munro, it retells the classic novel by Johann Wyss about the family shipwrecked on a deserted Pacific isle and how they fought for survival.

Several Classics Of special interest to the girls is another Buena Vista-Walt Disney production—"Pollyanna." Based on Eleanor H. Porter's perennial best-seller of the "glad girl" whose happy philosophy changed a town, this film for youngsters stars Jane Wyman, Richard Egan, Karl Malden and introduces Hayley Mills. Of special interest to boys is another Walt Disney production, "Kidnaped," based on the classic adventure novel written by Robert Louis Stevenson.

A feature-length animated cartoon produced in Russia and adapted for American release, "The Snow Queen" is based on Hans Christian Andersen's famous fairy tale. Sandra Dee, Tommy Kirk and Patty McCormack provided the starring voices and Art Linkletter appears in a special prologue. An original new musical score was composed by Frank Skinner.

Interesting to film fans is the fact that 1960 will introduce probably more new faces than ever have been introduced in a single year. Among others, there is Elana Eden, the Israeli beauty who makes her movie debut in "The Story of Ruth;" Haya Harareet, another Israeli actress, who is introduced to the screen as Esther in "Ben-Hur," Capucine, who stars opposite Dick Bogarde in "Crescendo," ohra Lampert in "Pay or Die," Hayley Mills in "Pollyanna," and Janet Munro in "Swiss Family Robinson."

New and Old Stars Also, in 1960, some of Hollywood's newest stars get their fastest roles. This category includes Joan O'Brien, who in her very second film plays opposite Cary Grant in "Operation Petticoat." Steve McQueen, star of the TV series, "Wanted Dead or Alive," gets his first really big movie role in "Never So Few."

The emphasis this year on new faces doesn't mean that Hollywood has neglected any of the public's favorite stars. Kirk Douglas, Laurence Olivier, Tony Curtis, John Gavi-in, Yul Brynner, Fred Astaire, Gregory Peck, Anthony Perkins, Cary Grant, Charlton Heston, Dean Martin, Robert Mitchum, James Garner, Montgomery Clift, Ernest Borgnine, John Wayne, Frank Sinatra, Jerry Lewis, Maurice Chevalier, Marlon Brando—these are just the male Hollywood stars in the few movies mentioned above.

Among those representing the distaff side of Hollywood will be favorites—Lana Turner, Jane Wyman, Dorothy McGuire, Deborah Kerr, Shirley MacLaine, Kay Kendall, Elizabeth Taylor, Carroll Baker, Katharine Hepburn and Gina Lollobrigida.

Juvenile stars also will be well represented in the 1960 films—like James MacArthur, Frankie Avalon and Sandra Dee.

Stars and equipment have gone to locations all around the world. Both "On the Beach" and "The Sundowners" were filmed in Australia. "The Story of Ruth" was filmed in the Holy Land. The story of Franz Liszt, "Crescendo," was made in Germany and Austria where this famous composer lived and worked. "The Alamo" is being filmed at Texas near the historic spot where the Texans fought to the last man in their war of independence against Mexico.

Second Wolfe Novel To Be Dramatized

New York —(P) Thomas The Wolfe novel "Look Wolfe's 912-page "Of Time, Homeward Angel," adapted and the "River" will probably by Kati Fring, won the Pulitzer Broadway next season.

brought there by Roger L. Stevens of The Playwrights' company.

Actress Patsy Kelly, back in the movies after many years, gets an assist from a member of the wardrobe department and hairdresser as she prepares for her role in Warner's "The Crowded Sky." Patsy was the actress who played the part of maids, secretaries and heroines' best friend in the movies of the 1930s.

Story of Nun Not Too Good, Despite Hayes

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

New York — Wednesday night's Steel Hour was "One Red Rose for Christmas," the story of a nun who loses her faith upon the death of a beloved sister and regains it through the act of a child.

Helen Hayes brought her usual skill to a slightly unsympathetic role but little Patty Duke was too lovable as a waif who first aroused the antipathy of the mother superior.

It wasn't a bad hour's show but it wasn't an awfully good one, either.

Even though in theme and sentiment it goes nicely with the season, one dares hope that "One Red Rose for Christmas," will not be a Christmas tradition of the dramatic series.

Lennon Sisters Happy In Normal Home Life

Enjoy Being Part of Big Family, Have No Desire for Glamor, Riches

BY VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer
The four singing Lennon sisters are part of one big happy family — an even dozen, including Mom and Pop, who live in a 50-year-old Venice, Calif., house. These unusual girls are so happy, as a matter of fact, that they don't want allowances, even though they're big wage earners who have Dad to manage the payroll.
"Why do we need money?" the girls chorus, and Peggy, 18, cheerfully explains:
"We have a full refrigerator, a bulging freezer, and can invite our friends to stay for meals or as long as they like. We have plenty of clothes, so except for a little mad money, we don't need anything else."
Dad Lennon, who was in New York with the girls for a recent TV appearance with Perry Como, corroborates what they say.
"The girls are regular youngsters," he says proudly.

"They have a normal home life and no desire to be glamor girls. Eight out of 10 people we meet in this business are affected, unreal and phony, and so contrary to what we conceive a family life to be that the girls have no desire to go out with them. They spot a phony before I do."
The girls—Janet, 13, Kathy, 16, Peggy, 18, and Dianne, 20—have their own ideas of what sort of young man fills the bill for them:
He must be strong in religious faith, regardless of what faith he happens to be.
He must enjoy sports because the girls love sports and baseball and football are Mrs. Philip H. Miller, 821 S. Pierce avenue, is a great-aunt of the Lennon children. Her sister, Mrs. Minnie Lennon, their great-grandmother, lived in Appleton for many years and their grandfather, Bert Lennon, was born and raised here. He launched his newspaper career as a cub reporter for the old Daily Post while he was attending Ryan High school.

The big topics at home. (Mom and Dad play baseball with their brood.)
He must have a good sense of humor.
He must love children. (And that goes along with your sense of humor, adds Peggy.)
Dianne already has found him, Dick Gass, 22, who has lived down the block from the Lennon home for 13 years. They plan to marry sometime next summer. Dick is an army paratrooper stationed at Ft. Bragg, N. C., and is scheduled to be discharged from service June 1.
The six Lennon girls and four boys are agog at the prospect of a new baby expected soon. Dianne and Peggy help care for the youngest, aged 15 months, in between rehearsals for the Lawrence Welk show, a regular stint. Janet and Kathy attend school, and had a tutor with them on this trip, according to California law.
"The girls pay me a salary," says their young-looking father, who used to be in the wholesale milk business. "Twenty per cent of their earnings are put away to assure college educations for the boys and marriage nest eggs for the girls. Then my wife, Isabelle, and I may start a little business of our own and raise the younger generation."

'Never So Few' Better Than Most Movies

Acting Good; Film Basically Exciting War Picture

BY JACK HOLZHUETER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
"Never So Few," a MGM production starring Frank Sinatra and Gina Lollobrigida and previewed by the Appleton theater Saturday night, is a war movie that's a cut above the ordinary war movies that have glutted the market since World War II.
The extra spice is simply good acting by just about every member of the large cast, including the sneaky-appearing Japanese, who couldn't appear sneakier.
Sinatra, who doesn't croon a note in this picture, plays Capt. Reynolds, a hard-bitten softie who led the charge of North Burmese, American and English troops against the overwhelming Japanese forces invading the peninsula. Never, says the introductory paragraph, have so many been vanquished by So Few.
Sinatra spares no blood and bullets when dealing with the enemy — and almost gets himself kicked out of the army for doing so rather than obeying orders. But when he deals with Gina—that's another matter.
The picture makes an attempt to present an officer's psychology, but after a few scenes in which Sinatra appears to be making hard-to-make decisions, even this is given up, and the audience sees a basically exciting war picture.
As an example, the 300 allied soldiers completely overrun a Japanese air field, wiping out its complement of planes, pilots and ammunition, while losing only a few of their own, including one or two make make dandy death-scene material.
Sinatra in Trouble
The crux of the plot, however, involves Sinatra's leading his troops across the Chinese border to attack a small Chinese force that killed and looted a detachment of American troops. Sinatra was ordered not to harm the Chinese, but when one of them shoots his best friend—well, vengeance is too sweet.
The love interest has Miss Lollobrigida acting in the whether a show is live, taped or filmed. (The directive, happily, has banished from CBS use of the phrase "live on tape," in itself a contradiction of terms.)

"The test in each case must be whether any substantial number of the viewing audience is likely in the circumstances to be deceived or misled concerning the true nature of the program fare being offered," states the order signed by James T. Aubrey, Jr., network executive vice president, and he wants them all in effect 10 days before Christmas. To implement the directive, the network announced creation of a department of program practices, to be headed by Vice President Joseph H. Ream, who has been in charge of CBS' Washington, D. C., office.
Tidying up appears only the beginning of a much bigger cleanup job at CBS. The network also is concerned with the standards for its commercials. Under the guns of Washington, the network is re-examining its program "balance" intensively.
No decisions have been made about reshuffling programs, replacing programs and changing the current balance, declared a network spokesman.

Political D-Day Near

Rockefeller Expected to Air Plans Early in Year

BY RELMAN MORIN
New York —(AP)— D-day is approaching for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. His day of decision on whether to challenge Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the Republican presidential nomination in 1960.

Rockefeller is expected to announce his decision soon after the New Year weekend. If it is "yes," he may at the same time authorize a group of supporters, waiting in New Hampshire, to enter him in the state primary election March 8.

New Hampshire holds the nation's first primary. It may bring the first test of strength between Nixon and Rockefeller.

Many observers, eyeing Rockefeller's recent travels and tactics, believe he already has decided to try for the nomination. He says he hasn't.

"I'm simply registering impressions," he says. "When I have all the possible facts, I will make up my mind. But not before."

What he has decided, he usually adds, is that in no circumstances will he be the GOP candidate for vice president.

Wants Presidency

Without question, Rockefeller would like to be president. He has definite views on foreign and domestic problems confronting the United States. He would like to be in the White House, not merely for the honor, but to try to translate these ideas into national policy.

The governor has just returned from 5,636 miles of travel through Indiana, Missouri, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Oklahoma, Texas and Florida. A month ago, he went to California, Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

He talked with thousands of people in public receptions and closed conferences. In major speeches, he outlined his views on labor-management strife, foreign policy, national defense, Latin-American relations, and how to solve the farm problem.

Politically, he found much the same pattern everywhere — a majority of GOP officers openly favorable to Nixon for the nomination. They received him with varying degrees of friendliness, from coolness to hearty admiration. Many studied him with a calculating eye.

Rockefeller himself estimated "perhaps 70 per cent" of the GOP captains and lieutenants are for Nixon.

Nixon Favored

However, ending the last tour in Miami, Fla., he said he was "very pleased" with what he encountered on the two trips. Earlier, he said that in virtually every state he visited, he found Republicans who told him they would support him if he goes for the nomination.

Another pattern repeated itself, in some degree, in each state too.

Rockefeller was merely a name and a photograph in the newspaper to many Republicans when he came into a state. Party workers told reporters, "We know Nixon. He's often been here and we've broken bread with him. We don't know Rockefeller."

Then they saw the governor in action.

He seems to have charmed many Republicans who, prior to meeting him, felt firmly anchored to Nixon.

A Rockefeller backer in Oklahoma quoted the state chairman there as saying, after meeting the governor, "I'm still for Nixon, but I'd better stop listening to this guy."

No Second Place

Whether Rockefeller actually won any Republicans away from Nixon is almost impossible to know. But obviously he impressed a great many — and set them talking about a Nixon-Rockefeller alignment as the "dream ticket."

Apparently, they do not believe him when he says, firmly, he will not accept second place on the ticket.

But what many people said to Rockefeller indicated something more than curiosity. "I'm all for you" . . . "Hope you run" . . . "You're our next president" . . . "Get on that ticket somewhere, Governor, and we're sure winners."

Want to Win

So the question arises, "is Nixon's support within the party as solid as it looks at this early stage?" The question has to be weighed in the light of several considerations:

1. Many Republicans undoubtedly favor Nixon now, but they also want to win in 1960. What will they do if, say, Rockefeller should beat the vice president in a primary election or two?

2. As vice president, Nixon conceivably could be in the White House before President Eisenhower's term ends. Both for personal and party reasons, it might be embarrassing, then, for a GOP leader to have come out for Rockefeller as the better candidate.

3. To win the election, the GOP nominee must pull a large chunk of independent votes plus some from the Democrats. Would Rockefeller attract more of these than Nixon?

Rockefeller was smiling and he looked confident when he ended his latest exploration trip, but he was inscrutable as ever about his intentions. Does that mean he will challenge Nixon?

"Well," said a Republican leader, "after all this traveling and hard work, it will be mighty strange if he doesn't."

My uncle and grandfather got separated from us and when next we heard from them they were in South America and they told us we should come there, and we did. We stayed there, but my mother and dad thought it would be best if I had a good education while they stayed on the farm.

At that time I believed in Santa Claus and I remember being in Venezuela and I saw Santa Claus sitting in a great big chair like a kind of a throne. I talked to him and he asked me my name and what I wanted for Christmas. I told him I wanted a little sister because at that time I didn't have anybody.

Has Sister Now

Now I have a sister, Elsa. She's here with me at the Home. She's seven. Next summer we're going to visit mother and father in South America, but it's only going to be a visit. Then when I am ready for high school, I'll probably go to Austria because we all know that language and we have some friends there. I'm in eighth grade now, and Elsa's in second.

The reason we came here to America is because I have a cousin, Father Siard Haigl, who was a priest at St. Norbert college. My mother and father thought he could sort of look after us, but now he's in Santa Anna, Calif.

I know I will have a nice Christmas because I am going to Ripon to visit some friends, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rehman who we met here in DePere. Already I have had two Christmases with them and their children and I enjoyed them so much.

But I remember the last

Christmas I had with my mother and father. There, that last time three years ago, just before Christmas my father would take us riding and I always wondered why mother didn't come. She would always say she had to fix her hair or do some special thing, but she was really getting Christmas ready for us.

Then we would write letters to Santa Claus and we would put them on the window sill. In my letter I asked only for presents for my mother.

Then Christmas day came, and it was sunshiny and warm, different from the way it is here. But it was pretty just the same.

The night before — Christmas eve — dad didn't come to bed but I didn't think anything about it. Then, later that night, I heard a noise in the other room and I got out of bed and was going to see if it was Santa Claus. But mother took hold of my hand and she whispered, "Martha, let's let the angel have a few minutes to get away."

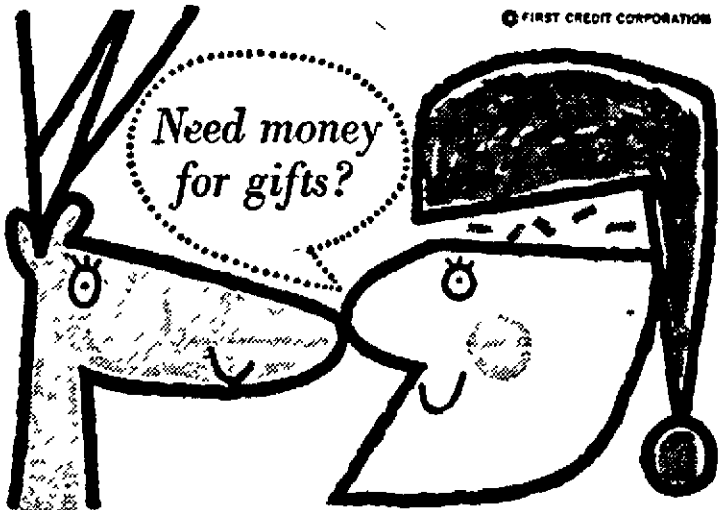

My mother has such a pretty way of saying things.

Recited a Poem

When morning came we got presents, but we couldn't open them until each of us said a little poem in Hungarian. I got a great big doll almost as big as I was and my sister got a big one, too.

Then dad said there were more presents hidden around. My sister and I looked everywhere but we couldn't find them until dad lifted us up so we could see them. They were on the window sills — some oranges and sweets and nuts and little things that were nice to have.

Crew Members of the Utopia pose with some of the items picked up on a 3-year trip around the world. Joe Swafford, left, holds a sword fashioned from black palm wood. Next is Wong Chin Chong; then Fred Peterson, who is beating a New Guinea drum; and Miss Damayanthi Dunuwille, holding a bottle fashioned from a gourd. The gourd is used by betel nut chewers to carry clacked lime, a sweetening agent.

Glad It's Over Shipbuilder Makes 3-Year Trip Around the World in Schooner

Sturgeon Bay — "It's a long, long trip." That is Capt. Fred Peterson's terse comment now that he's home after a 3-year voyage around the world on his 50-ton luxury schooner, the Utopia.

The veteran Sturgeon Bay shipbuilder and sailor isn't planning any more cruises, at least for awhile. "Although this journey was the realization of a lifelong dream," the weather-browned skipper concedes, "it is nice to have it over with."

In the three years since Nov. 17, 1956, when the captain set his sails and headed on his long voyage, he has actually spent about six months at sea. The longest single stretch of sailing was from the Galapagos to the Marquesas Islands in the South Pacific, which took 20 days.

For the first leg of the voyage down the Mississippi River to St. Petersburg, Fla., Peterson had a crew of local people. Since then an international potpourri has served as the Utopia's crew.

Finding anyone who could get away for any length of time to share the adventures aboard the Utopia was a big problem, Peterson said. Since he had planned to make the journey in leisurely, easy stages, he realized that he would have changing personnel.

"Actually, as it turned out, working with people from all over the world has been one of the most rewarding experiences of the cruise," he says. From Florida the Utopia dropped her anchor in Cuban and Jamaican ports before passing through the Panama Canal for the Galapagos Islands. Islands visited on the South Pacific crossing were the Marquesas, the Samoa, the Tutuila, Tahiti, the Society, the Tonga, the Fiji, the New Hebrides, the Yasaya and the Solomon.

The Utopia touched Dutch New Guinea, Indonesia and the Malay Peninsula and after stops at Ceylon, crossed the Indian ocean and sailed up the Red sea through the Suez canal into the Mediterranean. There Peterson visited the Island of Rhodes, Greece, Italy, Capri, Monaco, Nice, Barcelona and the Balearic Islands before passing through the strait of Gibraltar.

Tangier and Lisbon were his next ports of call and then he set sail for the Azores. The north Atlantic crossing from the Azores to Sidney, Nova Scotia, was made in 13 days and six hours. From there he crossed the gulf of St. Lawrence and was given permission to come through the new St. Lawrence seaway because of a broken chain which prevented raising of the Utopia's 14-foot centerboard. The old seaway will accommodate a maximum draft of 13 feet.

Aboard the Utopia for the final leg of the cruise were Capt. Fred's son and daughter-in-law, Robert and Joyce, who flew to Rimouski, Quebec, late in September to join the crew. Other crew members on the voyage through the seaway and the Great Lakes were Miss Damayanthi Dunuwille, a young woman journalist from Colombo, Ceylon; Wing Chin Chong, a cook from Penang, Malaya, and Joe Swafford, a student from Silver Springs, Md.

Wong boarded the Utopia at Penang, Malaya, March 5, 1959. He is a 24-year-old Chinese-Malayan who speaks six languages and five Chinese dialects. Wong plans to work his way home via ship across the Pacific ocean and has hopes of homesteading a coffee and rubber plantation in Brazil. Over 2,000 of his fellow Malaysians have emigrated to Brazil under the homesteading plan, he reported.

Miss Dunuwille, a petite Ceylonese who is 26, will return to Europe where she will be married. Her fiancé is a member of the Portuguese diplomatic corps and expects to be assigned to Aden, Saudi Arabia.

In April in the Mediterranean after the Utopia had cleared the Suez canal, the Utopia was challenged by an Egyptian gunboat. Twenty men approached in a lifeboat armed with machineguns. The incident turned out to be only a routine search and examination of papers.

Indonesian authorities threw Peterson and his crew of eight into jail when they put in at Den Pasar, Bali. They were released unharmed after five days, but the Indonesians refused to sell them any fuel oil and they were forced to cover the 1,000 miles non-stop from Bali to Singapore on half tanks of fuel and strict food and water rationing. The adventurer explained the degradation was due to local political unrest.

During the around-the-world voyage Peterson flew home three times. A business matter brought him back from Panama in June, 1957. Then, the following Christmas, he returned to spend the holiday with his family, leaving his yacht at Tahiti. Mrs. Peterson returned with him there and sailed for several months through the South seas, ending her voyage at the Fiji Islands.

Peterson also spent the Christmas of 1958 in Sturgeon Bay, flying west from Penang, Malaya.

The Utopia was designed and built by Capt. Peterson at his shipyard here in 1946. She is a mainsail schooner, 65 feet long and with an 18-foot beam and an 8-foot draft.

Peterson Holds a Fiji war club. The club is fashioned from a tree planted at birth of a male child. At 15, the youth cuts the tree, seasons the wood and makes his war club, which he carries all his life. "Very effective for cracking skulls," Peterson notes.

NFL Gets New Bid From Minneapolis

Sports POST-CRESCENT Monday, Dec. 21, 1959 Page C1

Bruhn Will Attempt To Bring Badgers Along More Slowly

Bad Weather Has Plagued Huskies Workouts Thus Far

Pasadena, Calif. — Coach Milt Bruhn planned a workout today for his University of Wisconsin football team after a day of rest for the Big Ten champion Badgers.

Bruhn indicated, however, that he was going to try and bring the team along slowly because he does not want the players to be past their peak when New Year's day and the Rose bowl contest with the Washington's Huskies arrive.

The Badgers arrived in California Saturday afternoon by chartered plane.

The Tournament of Roses queen, her court and officials of the annual spectacle were present to greet the Wisconsin team and escort the squad to their Pasadena hotel headquarters.

Hirsch Greets

Elroy "Crazy Legs" Hirsch, a former Wisconsin grid star, was one of the first to greet Bruhn and the team.

Bruhn turned the team loose Saturday night and set a midnight curfew. He decided on 10 p.m. for the remainder of the time prior to the game.

The Wisconsin coach made no secret of the fact that he felt the Badgers, at least right now, held a definite advantage over Washington because of the week of bad weather that plagued the Huskies before leaving for California. Steady rain for the week prior to Washington's arrival blocked any chance of a practice session.

Bruhn said he would use this week for major emphasis on conditioning, defensive assignments and a general polishing. The following week

Territorial Duel With AFL Grows

Minneapolis — The new pro football league was confronted in Minneapolis - St. Paul by loyalists of the National league and a man from out of the sport's frontier days.

"If the National league extends us a franchise we expect to be operating in 1960," said Ole Haugrud, Duluth sportsman and tobacco wholesaler who owned the Duluth Eskimos in the NFL more than three decades ago.

Never's Signature

With his $25,000 earnest money check to league headquarters went an application that bore the signature, among others in the combine, of Ernie Never of San Francisco, one of football's all-time greats and a member of the old Eskimos.

Haugrud's application, and the apparent encouragement it received from several NFL owners, signaled another collision between forces of the National league and the new American league over the Twin Cities territory.

The AFL evidently is set to operate here. H. P. Skoglund, part owner of the Minneapolis-St. Paul AFL team, said "We intend to go right down the line with the American league no matter what happens."

Reports that he and fellow owners might be planning a shift to the NFL themselves have no foundation, he said.

Haugrud said he has talked with seven or eight National league owners and was advised to make his application. "I was told the National league definitely will add two teams in 1960," he said.

An estimated million dollars would be needed to get an NFL team going in the Twin Cities, Haugrud said. He claimed to have enough backing from area businessmen to raise the money.

In Philadelphia, acting NFL Commissioner Austin Gonsel said the application by Haugrud's group would be considered along with others at the league meeting next month.

Springs '5' Defeats St. John In Double Overtime, 71-70

Chuters' Harland Hietpas Sets Gym Record With 34 Points

BY JIM HARP Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Little Chute—St. John High school's inability to score from the free throw line helped St. Mary's Springs of Fond du Lac to a 71-70 double overtime victory in a basketball thriller here Saturday night.

Free throw troubles plagued the Dutchmen all night but were especially costly in the first overtime period when three chances to win were wasted.

Regulation play ended in a 61-61 deadlock after the Chuters fought back gamely in the second half to overcome a Ledger lead. In the first overtime, each team scored two points. In the second extra session, Springs had the better of it by an 8-7 margin.

New Gym Record

Harland Hietpas, senior center for St. John, had the best night of his career as he set a gym record of 34 points. The 6-3 rebound ace, bagged 15 field goals and four free

Badger Quint Plays Stanford Tonight, Seeks 2nd Victory

MU Awaits Tuesday Game With Indians After Defeating UW

Milwaukee — The Marquette basketball team, 84-68 victor over Wisconsin in its latest action, will prepare for Tuesday night's game with Stanford by assuming the role of observer as the Indians play the Badgers tonight in Madison.

The Warriors won't actually watch the game, but the results will give Marquette an idea of what to expect from the West coast squad Tuesday in the arena.

The results of Saturday night's game left the Warriors with a 4-2 record, while Wisconsin is 1-5. A capacity crowd of 11,065 watched the action in the arena, and equalled the attendance record set when Marquette and Notre Dame clashed last February.

UW Battles Back

Marquette threatened several times to run away from the sophomore-dominated Badger lineup, but each time the Badgers battled back to make a game of it. After Marquette took a 14-7 early lead, Wisconsin rallied to go in front, 29-27. But Marquette began to click again and never trailed.

The Badgers also battled the Warriors for rebounds, grabbing 51 while Marquette got 57. The Warriors made most of theirs, running away from the Badgers on the fast break.

Marquette's top man was jumping-jack Walt Mangham who took 22 rebounds and poured in 23 points. Don Kojis was an excellent second man, hitting for 22 points and getting 18 rebounds.

The Warriors sank 31 of 71 shots for a .437 average. Wisconsin put in 24 of 75 for 32 percent.

In the first 3-minute overtime both teams played cautious ball. With 1:27 left Bill Keenan of Springs fouled and dropped two tosses to give the Ledgers the lead. Ten seconds later, Tom Verhagen of St. John was fouled and made the first throw and then missed the second.

With 1:09 left Verhagen was fouled again, made the first and missed the second. This tied it at 63-all.

Bengtson Says He's Happy With Packers

Defensive Coach Offered Top Job With AFL Club

Minneapolis — Officials of the Minneapolis-St. Paul club in the New American Football league want Bengtson of the Green Bay Packers as head coach. But Bengtson said he's happy right where he is.

"I'm tickled to death with the situation in Green Bay and I have no intention of leaving now," Bengtson said when asked if he would take the job.

Bengtson joined the Packers of the National Football league this year as defensive coach following nine seasons as assistant with the San Francisco 49ers.

H. P. Skoglund, part owner of the Twin Cities team, said there would not be an announcement on selection of a coach for "at least a week."

Bengtson was a tackle on the University of Minnesota's national championship team of 1934. He was an assistant at Missouri and Stanford before joining the 49ers.

Two teams of the new league have signed their coaches. New York selected Sammy Baugh, former Hardin-Simmons coach and one-time pro great, and Buffalo signed Gerard Ramsey.

Badgers' 1959 Football Success Voted State's Top Sports Story

Milwaukee — The Wisconsin's first unshared Big Ten football championship since 1912 and subsequent choice of the Badgers to represent the Western conference in the Rose bowl Jan. 1 was the top state sports story of 1959. It was the first time since the Braves moved to Milwaukee in 1953 that a baseball performance did not figure in the year's top sports event as selected by sports writers and sportscasters of Associated Press member newspapers, radio and television stations in the state.

Named as 1959's No. 2 story was the revival of the Green Bay Packers under Vince Lombardi. The Bays experienced their worst season in National Football league history in 1958, finishing with a 1-10-1 record, then under Lombardi charged back to their best finish in 14 years — a third place divisional tie on a 7-5 performance.

The year's best baseball stories moved into the voting after the top football performances of the year. In third place the sports experts placed "baseball's greatest pitching performance" — the 12 perfect innings Harvey Haddix threw at the Milwaukee Braves before losing in the thirteenth on an error, a walk and Joe Adcock's over-the-fence "double." Lew Burdette won the historic duel by an official score of 1-0.

Dressen Hired

The weeks of rumors and alarms climaxed by the hiring of the Dodgers' Charley Dressen as field boss of the Braves — a story finally smoked out and broken by The Associated Press — was the fourth choice.

Another Braves' performance — but on a more dismal note — was placed next in The AP poll. The sports experts ranked Milwaukee's loss of the National league pennant to the Los Angeles Dodgers in two straight playoff games as No. 5 in the year's events.

Administrative shakeups in the state's two major professions

Wisconsin Grid Coach Milt Bruhn (right) bends an attentive ear to one of the university's most famous alumni, Elroy "Crazy Legs" Hirsch, at Burbank, California. Hirsch, a star halfback at Wisconsin and end with the Los Angeles Rams, was on hand to welcome the Badgers when they arrived at Burbank Saturday in preparation for their Rose Bowl game with Washington Jan. 1.

27 Cage Tourneys Spice Colleges' Holiday Program

West Virginia Wins Kentucky Invitational; California Cops

By The Associated Press

The nation's cage-conscious colleges will be up to their ears in basketball during the long holiday spell starting Saturday. There will be no fewer than 27 tournaments and they will be played in every section of the country.

Greatest interest, from the fans' viewpoint, should stem from New York and Los Angeles, which will hold separate 8-team Holiday Festivals featuring some of the top quintets of the nation.

New York's Madison Square Garden boasts unbeaten Cincinnati with its great Oscar Robertson. The new Los Angeles sports arena will highlight unbeaten West Virginia, winner of the recent Kentucky Invitational, with its All-America Jerry West.

The New York Festival, eighth of its kind, starts Saturday and will extend through Wednesday, Dec. 30. The Los Angeles Festival, its first, runs from Monday, Dec. 25, through Wednesday.

Other top flight tournaments include the Far West classic at Corvallis, Ore.; Big Eight at Kansas City; Southwest at Houston; All College at Oklahoma City; Blue Grass at Louisville; Sugar bowl at New Orleans; Dixie classic at Raleigh, N. C.; Hurricane classic at Miami; and Queen City at Buffalo.

Six currently undefeated teams are entered in the two Festivals. In addition to Cincinnati, the New York unbeaten are Dartmouth and New York U. The pairings list: Manhattan (4-1) vs. St. Joseph's of Phila. (5-1), Iowa (5-1) vs. St. John's of Brooklyn (5-2), NYU (5-0) vs. St. Bonaventure (2-2).

Illinois and California, the defending national collegiate champion now riding a 21-game winning streak, join West Virginia in the Los Angeles unbeaten contestants. The pairings are Southern California (3-2) vs. Northwestern (2-2) West Virginia (8-0) vs. Stanford (3-1), UCLA (3-4) vs. Michigan (1-3), and California (5-0) vs. Illinois (4-0).

Cincinnati and West Virginia must be ranked 1-2 in the nation, followed by California, Ohio State (6-0) and Bradley (6-0). The Bearcats of Ohio smashed a highly rated Louisville team, 87-74, Saturday night. Cincinnati has a Tuesday home date with Bradley before moving to New York for the tournament.

West Virginia, whipped Kentucky, 79-70, to capture the Kentucky invitational Saturday.

California won its twenty-first straight by beating Colorado, 51-47, on Friday and 79-46 on Saturday. Utah has three games this week before competing in the Dixie classic Dec. 28. Others in that tournament include Duke, North Carolina, Wake Forest, Dayton, Holy Cross and Minnesota.

to win it with 15 seconds left as he was fouled trying to get off a shot. He missed on both tries.

With time running out, Verhagen drove down the free throw line and was fouled for the fourth straight time. The clock showed no time remaining and Verhagen had one throw coming. His shot rattled inside the rim for a moment and then dropped out bringing on the second overtime.

Hietpas Scores

Keenan's two free throws got Springs off on the right foot in the second extra period; but Hietpas tied it again with a bucket. Tom Flesch sent the Ledgers back into the lead with a driving layup and Hietpas came back with a free throw to slice the lead to one point.

Bill Born scored on a fast break for Springs to hike the margin to 69-66 and Keenan put the Ledgers seemingly out of reach with a pair of gift shots with 1:10 left.

Hietpas scored for the Chuters at :50 and he bagged another as the Dutchmen stole the ball with :15 left. On the throw-in, the Ledgers lost the ball and Hietpas' last second desperation shot dropped on the edge of the rim and fell off giving Springs the 1-point victory.

16 Of 30 Tries

In the game, St. John made only 16 of 30 free throw tries while Springs breezed along with 21 for 28. The Chuters had a field goal advantage of 27-25.

St. John moved to a 8-2 first period lead but Springs caught fire and had a 18-14 advantage when the quarter ended. At the half, it was 35-29 with Springs in front. St. John made up the 6-point difference by hitting 17 in the third period while Springs was held to 11. Each team counted 15 in the last frame.

In the final period, the Dutchmen trailed 61-57 with 32 seconds left. Hietpas dunked one at :39 and Ed Hammen sent it into overtime with a jump shot at :14.

Hammen was runnerup in scoring for St. John with 20 points. Kremer was high for Springs with 22, and Keith O'Neill bagged 16.

Bays' Attendance Up in 1959; Hutson on New Honor Team

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — The Packers' "rip-snortin'" play during the '59 season was reflected in the attendance.

Green Bay played before 527,850 fans in the 12 National Football league games. The dozen gates in '58 totaled 449,018. That's a gain of 78,832.

Attendance went up at home and on the road. The '59 team drew 189,998 at home, including 61,695 in the two games in Milwaukee, and 337,852 on the road. The '58 club pulled 167,636 at home and 281,382 on the road.

The Packers were the most improved team in the league in '59. Leaping from 1-10-1 last year to 7-5, the Packers, making their debut under Vince Lombardi, had a gain of 5 1/2 games. The Eagles improved by 4 1/2 games, jumping from 2-9-1 to 7-5.

The Rams dropped off six games—from 8-4 to 2-10. The Colts and Bears had the same finish as a year ago, 9-3 and 8-4.

Don Hutson, the Packer immortal who is a member of the National Football hall of fame, has been named to the Sports Illustrated silver anniversary All-American team.

Hutson and the 24 other winners were selected on the basis of successful living in the intervening quarter century. Sports Illustrated has found that the average starting salaries of the 25 football greats was $1,000 but now 25 years later the average income of the group is $50,000 a year—and they are working an average of 65 hours a week to earn it. Don now is in business in Racine, starting there in '51 after closing out his auto dealership in Green Bay.

"I loved football," Hutson told the magazine, "but all my life I wanted to be in business for myself and used football toward that goal."

Miss Gibson Indignant Over Segregated Seating at Match

Norfolk, Va. —(AP)— "This is trotters. Miss Gibson is on tour with the Globetrotter troupe.

After her match, she appeared calmer as she said: "There's only one difference between us — our color. Our eyes are the same; our mouths are the same."

"Do these people (the white spectators) think there is such a big difference that they have to sit by themselves?"

"I don't want to skirt the law, but there must be something wrong with the law. Just think — adults acting like this."

Virginia law requires segregated seating of spectators at public functions. The law is being challenged in a U.S. District court suit here.

BOWLING Delivery Tip

The push-and-swing delivery starts with the body fairly erect and relaxed and with weight on the heel of your right foot and left foot slightly forward. Hold the ball between waist and shoulders, at whatever position is most comfortable. From this stance let the ball swing back in the backswing and deliver it just as in the swing delivery. Push the ball straight out from your chest. Don't push upward, push straight out.

Bobcats Scalp Soos Twice Over Weekend

Share Central League Lead With Rochester

By LEE REMMEL

Green Bay — Shaking off a slow start, with the aid of wiry Jim Mattson's goaltending heroics, the Bobcats celebrated their return to the Arena by scalping the Canadian-American Soo Indians twice over the weekend.

After permitting their guests to mount a 3-1 first period lead in Saturday night's inaugural, the comebacking home forces stormed to a 7-4 victory with a pair of 3-goal bursts, then repeated in Sunday afternoon's tight finale, 4-1.

The sweep, which embellished the Bobcats' first home appearance in three weeks, was witnessed by 4,701 patrons, including 3,159 opening night and 1,542 for Sunday's televised matinee. The Green Bay icemen now have played to 19,631 in 7 home dates.

Co-Leaders Occupied

While the Central Hockey league's co-leaders were occupied with maltreating the Indians, they acquired new first place tenants—the Rochester Mustangs. Rochester dispatched the Marquette Sentinels twice, 8-6 and 11-1, to match the Bobcats' 6-3 record.

Marquette, 2-time conqueror of the Bobcats, thus dropped from the top shelf into third place. The Sentinels invaded the Arena next Saturday night for a 2-game series, closing Sunday afternoon.

The gifted Mattson, was the Bobcats' man of the hour. He was blessed with incredible reflexes, saved his colleagues from possible embarrassment in Saturday night's opener, one of the Cats' lesser efforts, and was even more spectacular in Sunday's more artistic rematch.

Peppered in the first period of the Saturday offering, his acrobatics kept the Indians within reach until his team mates, obviously off key, could collect themselves. Although the visitors went into the second period with a 3-1 lead, Mattson was screened out on one of those Soo goals and another emerged from a scramble in front of the net.

13 Other Shots

The former Minnesota All-American kicked out 13 other shots during that busy span, one a breakaway by the Indians' Dave Swick.

Mattie, who fended off 31 shots over the route, made another 30 stops in Sunday's match, including some of the most dazzling saves yet engineered in the Arena. One, on a rare penalty shot by Indian Birley Dimma in the second period, was a defensive gem.

Sharing the spotlight with Mattson were a pair of offensive heroes, Gerry Martilla and Paul Johnson. Each contributed six points to the winning cause, Martilla pulling off the hat trick in the final period to ice Saturday night's decision.

Johnson, soon to join the United States Olympic team for the 1960 winter games at Squaw Valley, Calif., led the sabbath success with three points. Martilla weighing in with a goal and an assist.

Four Assists

Defenseman Bruce Shutte, continuing to make his presence felt on attack, also chipped in with four assists during the series. Player-coach Johnny Mayasich added a goal and two assists. Dick Dougherty a pair of goals, Ron Stenlund one goal and Dick Dier an assist.

Johnson staked the Bobcats to a 1-0 lead with only 2:20 gone in the first period of the opener — but that was their first and last thrust until early in the second.

In the interim, Carl Lackey, Dick Gioia and Swick all scored for the invaders. Lackey billowing the net from a faceoff to the left of the goal. Gioia's marker, developed from a scramble in front of the net and Swick skated across from the right to whip the puck past the screened-out Mattson.

Ron Stenlund initiated the Cats' second period revival, blasting a slap shot "through" the Indians' Gene Diotte at 1:32.

Also Soloed

Dougherty also soloed, his contribution coming at 17:58, to tie the score.

Johnson shortly shot the Bobcats into the lead for the first time at 19:12, with a short jab from the right, following assists from Martilla and Larry Cronkhite, but the Indians' Carmen (Scooter) Scarfone quickly tied it up at 19:49, Dimma and Ben Cano assisting.

Martilla took it from there, ramming home a 25-footer (the winning goal) at 8:30, assisted by Shutte and Mayasich; counting again from 20-foot range after a deft pass from Shutte; and repeating at 15:59 with a rebound from the right, Johnson and Shutte assisting.

The Cats led all the way Sunday—after Mayasich drilled a rocket into the Soo cords from near the blue line at 4:03 of the first period.

Pete Elliott Appears Set For Illini Post

Cal Coach Mentions 'Strong Possibility' Of Making Move

Champaign, Ill. —(AP)— Pete Elliott, former Michigan star and football coach at California for the last three years, appears ready to take over the head coaching job at Illinois.

Elliott was interviewed in Champaign Saturday night by Illini officials and on his return to San Francisco Sunday he said there is a "strong possibility" that he will become Illinois' coach.

Elliott and Dave Nelson, head coach at Delaware, have long been regarded the top choices to succeed Ray Eliot. Eliot stepped aside at the end of the 1959 season to become assistant athletic director after coaching the Illini for 18 years.

Was Tops

Nelson, 39, a Michigan graduate who gained football fame as a strategist and helped devise the wing-T offense, was considered the top candidate a week ago. However, Nelson's name has not been as prominent the past few days.

Illinois Athletic Director Doug Mills Sunday said Elliott's interview was routine and that half a dozen other candidates have been interviewed in the same manner.

Mills has managed to keep secret the names of those interviewed, with the exceptions of Elliott and Nelson.

Elliott, 33, said his weekend meeting with Illini officials was a followup of an earlier session with Mills in Denver.

"We met to talk things over in greater detail," he said. "They got to know me and I got to know what they had in mind. Any further comment will have to come from Illinois."

Big Ten Quints Post 7 Wins In 8 Games

OSU, Illini and MSU Try to Stay Unbeaten Tonight

By The Associated Press
Ohio State, Illinois and Michigan State—the Big Ten's only undefeated basketball teams—head a seven-game card tonight against sectional opposition.

Ohio State, searching for its seventh straight victory, invades undefeated Utah while Michigan State (4-0) will be at Brigham Young. Illinois (4-0) is home against Oklahoma.

In other games, Denver is at Michigan (1-3), UCLA at Minnesota (3-2), Northwestern (2-2) at Washington, and Stanford at Wisconsin (1-5).

there will be a drop off in activity during the week. Northwestern goes against Washington again Tuesday night while Purdue and Indiana participate in the Hoosier classic in Indianapolis.

Indiana meets Butler Tuesday while Purdue takes on Notre Dame. The Big Ten representatives then switch foes Wednesday night. Michigan State will be at California Wednesday in the only other pre-Christmas action.

Banner Day
Big Ten teams enjoyed a banner day Saturday by recording seven victories in eight games. Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Iowa, Michigan State, Minnesota and Northwestern all turned in victories. Wisconsin was the only loser, dropping an 84-66 decision to Marquette.

Illinois was hard-pressed in defeating Ohio university, 85-79, and Michigan scored its first triumph with a 70-60 decision over Tennessee.

Indiana handed Detroit its first loss, 89-85, while Iowa trounced Oklahoma, 62-49, for its fourth victory in five games and Northwestern slipped past Boston university, 78-74.

Michigan State continued its successful western tour by trimming Wyoming, 82-72. Minnesota scored an 80-62 victory over Missouri's Tigers who had defeated both Indiana and Wisconsin.

Big Ten teams now hold a 33-16 over non-conference foes. Between Christmas and New Year's, seven Big Ten teams will participate in various holiday tournaments throughout the nation.

Only Ohio State, Michigan State and Purdue are not entered in tournaments but each has one game scheduled next week before the conference race opens Jan. 2.

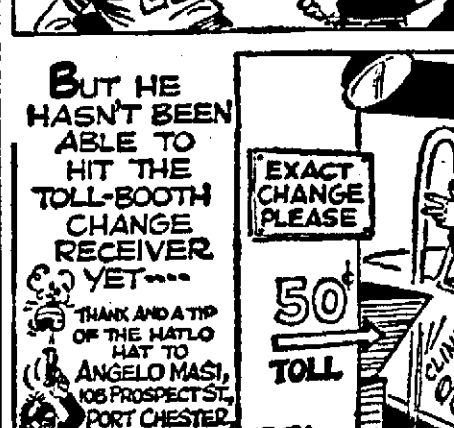

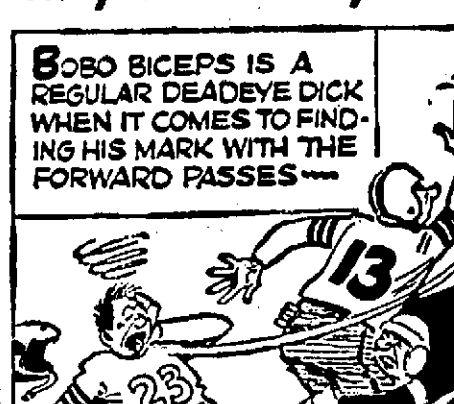

Gene Kotlarek Tops Billy Olson In Ely Meet

Ely, Minn. — Billy Olson of Eau Claire, had jumps of 96 and 94 feet Sunday for 147.2 points in Class A competition of the Ely Invitational Ski meet. Olson holds the hill record of 106 feet.

Gene Kotlarek of Duluth, won the event with leaps of 100 and 99 feet and was judged most graceful rider in piling up 151.5 points.

Olmedo Loses Opener As Pro to Lew Hoad

Sydney, Australia — Alex Olmedo has had his baptism under fire on the professional tennis circuit and, he reported today, things are bound to get better.

Lew Hoad of Australia whipped him, 4-6, 7-5, 6-2 Sunday and Olmedo, former U.S. Davis cup ace by way of Peru, showed signs of rustiness.

"I enjoyed it, though," said Olmedo. "Lew was real good and I think he's improved a lot since his amateur days."

"I would have played better, too, but it was the first big match I've played in three months. I needed the competition and should do better."

Promoter Jack Kramer, who signed Olmedo three weeks ago for a $35,000 first-year guarantee, was happy with the performance.

'Bluebonnet' Game Sets Gate Record

Houston — The infant Bluebonnet bowl's first effort is on the books and sponsors hope its only the first of many.

They point to the crowd of 55,000 which jammed all but the corner sections of the 70,000-seat Rice stadium for the Texas Christian - Clemson clash—two teams which held little immediate appeal to southeast Texans.

The attendance figure broke the bowl inaugural record of 28,000 set by the Sugar bowl in 1935—as did the Liberty bowl's Penn State—Alabama match several hours earlier.

Houston enjoyed perfect football weather with the mercury in the high 50s, clear skies and a light north wind. And Clemson enjoyed taking TCU into camp, 23-7.

Elvin Smith, president of the Greater Houston Bowl association, earlier estimated the two schools would get about $80,000 each for the day's work.

When names of hockey's future super-stars are discussed, a player sure to be included in the conversation is Bobby Hull of the Chicago Black Hawks.

In fact, many astute observers around the National Hockey league already feel that the youthful Hull has "arrived" as a super-star.

Hull, in only his third season with the Hawks, certainly has fulfilled his potential this year. The blond bomber, who will be 21 Jan. 3, collected his second "hat trick" of the campaign Sunday night in propelling Chicago to a 7-4 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs.

In other games Sunday night the New York Rangers erupted for four goals in the final period to nip the league-leading Montreal Canadiens, 6-5, and Gary Alcorn's pair of goals sparked the Detroit Red Wings to a 4-2 victory over the Boston Bruins.

Bunches 7 Goals
Chicago bunched all its seven goals in the second period. The barrage missed the league record for most goals in a period, eight, held by Detroit against New York on Jan. 23, 1944.

Hull's three goals came at 7:11, 7:36 and 16:06. This boosted the husky center's goal output to 19, one more than he scored last season. Ken Wharram also tallied twice for the Hawks.

Ed Chadwick, who replaced regular Leaf goalie, Johnny Bower, in the nets Saturday night, was the victim of the uprising.

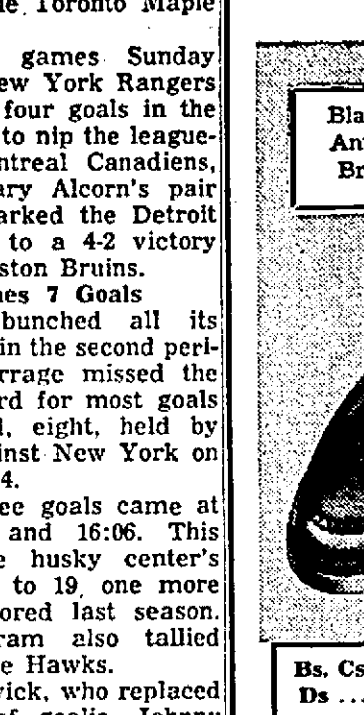

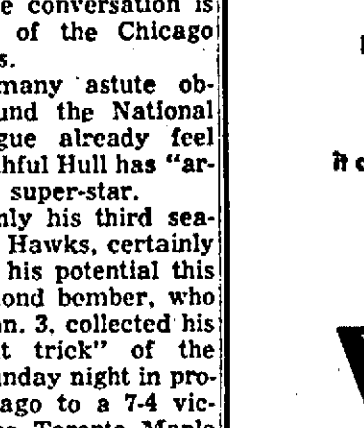

The Rangers overcame a 4-2 deficit to defeat the Canadiens for the third time. Ken Schinkel, Larry Popein and Brian Cullen—working as a line—scored in a 4-minute span to put New York in front, 5-4, and "Red" Sullivan contributed the decisive goal with his own team shorthanded.

Montreal had turned back the Rangers, 5-3, Saturday night.

Aldcorn scored twice within 27 seconds in the third stanza as Detroit came from behind to edge Boston.

The Boston Celtics and the St. Louis Hawks are making runaways of the division races in the National Basketball association.

The Celtics and Hawks posted a pair of victories each over the weekend to extend their winning streaks and pull farther away from the pack in the eastern and western divisions.

Boston stretched its victory skein to 12 Sunday night with a 132-127 triumph over the Syracuse Nats after edging the New York Knicks, 119-116, in a nationally-televised game Saturday afternoon.

St. Louis boosted its string to five by whipping the Detroit Pistons, 102-86, Sunday. The Hawks routed the Philadelphia Warriors, 102-89, Saturday night.

As a result of their weekend successes, the Celtics own a 6½ firmly in place among baseball's immortals, added to his achievements with his tenth 20-game victory season. The milestone, never reached by another major league left-hander, won ninth place among the sports stories of the year.

The story that dealt as much with a fighting heart and misfortune, as much as a baseball story, rounded out the top 19 in the AP poll.

It was the continuing story of the comeback of "Red" Schoendienst, stricken by tuberculosis after the 1958 season, returning grimly to training after surgery and finally to a baseball uniform in the closing days of the 1959 campaign. And with the redhead's de-termination to return full time to his old place at second base for Milwaukee, the Schoendienst story may not yet be over.

Consider 1st Liberty Bowl Game Financial Success

Philadelphia — The inaugural Liberty bowl football game here Saturday could be considered a financial if not an artistic success.

Unofficial figures indicate that Penn State and Alabama each is getting about $105,000. The promoters of the East's first major bowl game broke even or perhaps turned a small profit.

"Wonderful Start"
"Bud" Dudley, who with his partner, George Kerrigan, nursed the Liberty bowl from a brainstorm about three years ago to a live spectacle before 36,211 fans, was enthusiastic about the future of the event.

"It was a wonderful start, better than the first effort of such bowls as the Sugar and Orange," said Dudley. This vigorous man of ideas pointed out that the initial Orange bowl game drew less than 6,000, while the first Sugar bowl effort entertained about 25,000.

While Penn State's 7-0 victory was nothing to write home about from the standpoint of thrilling or exciting football, it did prove, at least to Dudley-Kerrigan, that a bowl game in the East is feasible.

The 1-touchdown margin was deceiving. The figures speak the truth in this one. State ran up 319 yards, 278 on the ground against the nation's fourth best defensive team.

500 Colt Fans Wait All Night To Get Tickets

Baltimore — Some 500 Baltimore Colts fans proved their loyalty by spending Sunday night in sub-freezing weather outside Memorial stadium.

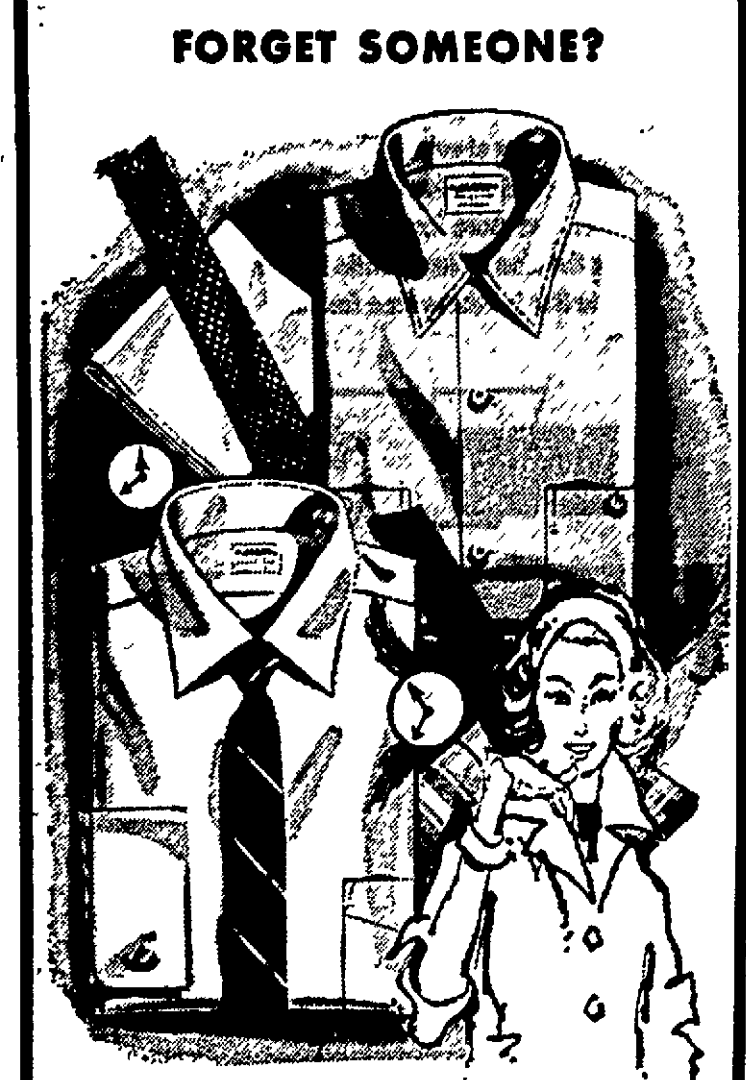

As dawn approached, the hearty group of all-night campers was joined by thousands more seeking tickets for the National Football league championship game between the Colts and New York Giants here next Sunday.

About 7,000 general admission tickets went on sale at 9 a.m. today with a limit of two to a customer.

While their fans were fighting the battle of the ticket line, the Colts rested Sunday and today. They will resume practice Tuesday. Intensive workouts are set for Wednesday on offense and Thursday on defense, and they will taper off with a light drill Friday, Christmas day.

Chilton — New Holstein. Keil and Menasha teams posted victories in Eastern Wisconsin Amateur League basketball action Saturday. New Holstein tipped Brillion, 77-66; Keil got by Valdars, 97-80, and Menasha downed Chilton, 94-44. Wednesday Hilbert had beaten Plymouth, 71-65. New Holstein and Brillion had a battle royal going for about 37 minutes when the roof caved in on the Ironmen. Brillion was leading, 62-61, with about three minutes left to play when New Holstein poured through eight straight points and 13 in all during the final minutes. Joe Depies accounted for nine of his 16 points, high for the winners, during the spurt. "Buck" Edinger topped all scorers with 31 points and Don Eddinger added 20 for Brillion. "Fritz" Lohr set a blistering scoring pace Saturday, accounting for 40 points while leading his Kiel teammates to a 97-80 overtime win over Valdars. The lead changed hands almost as often as the ball during the regulation playing time which ended with both clubs showing 82 points on the board. Valdars notched a respectable eight points during the extra stanza but the torrid winners poured through 16. Dugan had 30 points for Valdars and O'Grady, 23.

use all of the practice time available to the team but has not commented on the statement since the team's arrival.

Meanwhile, over in Long Beach and the Washington camp, Coach Jim Owens called for a session that included brushups on signal calling, defense against punt returns, ball handoff work in the backfield and a dummy scrimmage. Owens continued to express concern over the condition of his team and said the squad would be on the field for another rugged practice session today. He said Sunday's drill session was one of the better workouts for the squad. Owens limited contact work for the day to pairing off his tackles and guards against each other for some blocking.

Wisconsin Man Leads Field in Petersen Classic

Chicago — There was a dearth of high games in the first weekend of shooting in the rich Petersen Bowling classic.

Not many of the bowlers who competed in the $296,000 tourney posted scores of 1,500 or higher for eight games. The three top leaders were closely bunched. Leading was James Bucci of St. Francis, Wis., whose 1,554 total was two pins higher than the 8-game total posted by Ray F. Bellamy of Akron, Ohio. Both rolled Saturday. Ed Gajowski of Milwaukee took over third place Sunday night, two pins behind Bellamy. Don Brown of Akron held fourth place with 1,511 while Gerald Wojciechowski of Milwaukee moved into the first 10 Sunday night with a total of 1,500. The tourney, which runs through June 26, offers a $25,000 top prize.

Auto Accessories Are Useful Gifts

Trend to Station Wagons Opens Unlimited Field for Gift-Givers

A useful and lasting gift for the man or young man who seems to have everything can be found in automobile accessories. Today's trend toward more station wagons has opened an unlimited field for the gift-buyer with a problem. In addition, today's new cars have many openings for those little added accessories which make driving more pleasant for the man who has to be on the road often. The young man with his first car wants to be the envy of his crowd and flashy gadgets, usually in sparkling chrome, are a most wanted and appreciated gift. Inexpensive items For the station wagon owner there are such inexpensive items as air mattresses, side curtains or a sleeping bag. The family which has followed the nation-wide move toward vacations together will appreciate items in the camping line. In more expensive gifts, there are tent-like attachments which fit on the rear of the wagon to afford additional sleeping space. There also is the sleeping compartment which can be mounted on top of the car. Many cars are not equipped with necessary emergency items. Quite often, the owner does not take the time to get these articles and will welcome them as a gift at Christmas. Emergency items include first aid kits, small fire extinguishers, flares, special lights and reflectors which can be set up at roadside. Several items which come in many styles and designs and are of practical use for all auto owners include tissue dispensers, decorative cigarette trays, attachable waste baskets and compasses. For Young Drivers For the young driver there are any number of designs of hubcaps, exhaust extensions, mirrors for outside and in the car, license plate brackets and white-wall trims. One of the newer items which prove popular with the young set is reflector tape and liquid which the owner can apply to his car in any shape or design. Other useful items include trailer hitchers, spot lights, fog lights, luggage racks, bug screens, seat covers, floor mats and steering knobs.

For the family with a small child a baby seat may be practical. With the accent on travel and going places nowadays, there are more and more items being produced each year for convenience in the car.

Braves Open 35 Tilt Exhibition Schedule Against Phils March 12

Milwaukee — The Milwaukee Braves will play 35 spring training games, meeting all of the National League clubs and all but one of the American League teams training in Florida. General Manager John McHale announced Saturday that the exhibition schedule will open March 12 with the Braves meeting Philadelphia at Clearwater. The following day the Braves and Phillies will open the season at Bradenton. The Braves also will play four games with the Louisville farm club of the American association. After breaking camp April 4, the Braves will play six exhibitions with the Cincinnati Redlegs on the way north.

Italian Musical Comedy Writer Lombardo Dies

Milan — Carlo Lombardo, internationally known Italian composer of operettas who often teamed with Franz Lehár, died in a Milan clinic Sunday of a respiratory disorder. He was 90. Lombardo wrote and composed about 80 operettas and musical comedies. His best known works were "Cin-Cin-La," "Madame De Thebes," "Il Paese Dei Campanelli," "The Duchess of the Bal Tabarin," "Scugnizza" and "Gigolette." He composed the latter with Lehár.

Giants Resume Drills Tuesday

New York — The coaching staff of the Eastern conference champion New York Giants were the only ones at work today in preparation for Sunday's National Football league championship game at Baltimore against the Colts. Coach Jim Lee Howell gave the team its usual Monday workout. The Giants will work on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Humphrey Ends Another Tour In Wisconsin

Madison — Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, who still hasn't made his Democratic presidential candidacy official, closed another Wisconsin tour during the weekend after making these points: 1. He won't announce until January whether he will get into the race. 2. If he decides to run, he won't compete in the early New Hampshire primary but will enter the Wisconsin race in April. Humphrey repeated that the United States should extend its moratorium on nuclear bomb testing. He also said he had a plan for a permanent ban on such tests. His proposal provides for: continuation of the moratorium, inspection of all big blasts, a moratorium on smaller blasts, continued research and observation. The greatest threat to peace, Humphrey said, was the possible development of a nuclear weapon by Red China.

Thursday. They will take Christmas day off and leave for Baltimore Saturday morning for a final drill there at Memorial stadium. Howell said he did not want the team over-coached after three double practice sessions last week. All of this week's workouts will be morning-afternoon affairs, except Saturday.

Apple Legend Really Worked This Year, Crop Plentiful

There's a cheerful superstition among some folks who say that if the sun shines through the limbs of the apple trees on Christmas day, it's a sign that there will be a good crop next year. The sun must have been shining with particular vigor last Dec. 25, because this fall's crop of apples turned out to be quite a big one. But remember when it comes to apples, beauty sometimes is only skin deep. Appearance is a good guide to quality, but that won't help you wind up with 'eating' apples when you wanted apples for cooking. Be sure you have the variety that will suit your purpose. If the store hasn't labeled the apples, ask for the variety name. Delicious Popular The popular Delicious, both red and yellow, make excellent apples for eating raw. Use them for dessert and for salads and fruit cups. For a good cooking apple, try Rome Beauty. The Romes and Jonathans, used for either have an especially good reputation as bakers. They're also fine for stewing, frying, apple sauce, apple pie, and other apple cooking. Besides the red and yellow Delicious twins and the Romes, several other varieties are abundant here in the Midwest. McIntosh is another good eating apple — noted for its pleasant aroma. You'll also see plenty of Rhode Island Greenings, a cooking apple. And Jonathans, used for either cooking or eating.

Almonds, Fish Fillets Combine In This Recipe

"This is a fine year for nuts generally, and an all-time record-breaking year for almonds," the department of agriculture tells us. And on the National Fisheries Institute's plentiful list are fillets of cod, flounder, haddock and ocean perch — all, of course, available in attractive, convenient frozen packages everywhere. With both foods in good supply, a recipe combining both foods is especially timely. This one for Fish Fillets with Chopped Almonds will help to balance top-heavy budgets, and is a company dish, to be served with spiced apricots, peaches or crab apples. Fish Fillets With Chopped Almonds

Monday, Dec. 21, 1959 Appleton Post-Crescent C6
2 pounds frozen fish fillets. In cold water and removing skins. Chop coarsely. Blend with butter. Add lemon peel and seasonings. Separate fillets and arrange skin side down in a large shallow baking dish. Spread top of fish with almond butter mixture. Bake at 350 degrees 10 to 12 minutes, or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Makes six servings.

Popular Raisin In Good Supply

Handy Sweet Snack, Useful in Baking, Cereals, Salads

If you don't believe there's magic in raisins, try leaving a dish of them in your living room and see how quickly they disappear.

If you aren't convinced, put some raisins in the next batch of goodies you bake — such as cake, cookies or candies. See how fast they disappear.

The big supplies of raisins is good news, because supplies have been short and prices high during the past two years. It's good news too because raisins are rising in favor for holiday desserts, salads, sauces and stuffings.

Nutritionists of the department of agriculture offer several reasons for making good use of the abundant raisin crop. Raisins are a good source of iron and contain fair amounts of other minerals, and the B vitamins. Because they are high in natural fruit sugars, less sugar is often needed when raisins are used. And they make a handy "sweet snack" for packed lunches.

Different types of raisins

Lobster Tails Versatile Food

Among the most versatile of all foods, rock lobster tails have become extremely popular with Americans since they were introduced a few years ago.

They richly deserve this popularity because not only are they good to eat, but are economical to buy and easy to prepare. Once out of the shell, they are a no-waste food.

Bolled Lobster Tails

To boil South African Rock lobster tails, place tails, either thawed or frozen, into a large kettle of boiling water with one teaspoon salt for each quart of water. When water boils, lower heat and set timer or make note of time. Cook one minute longer than the individual weight in ounces of thawed lobster tails.

If frozen, add two minutes to boiling time. Count on one lobster tail for each serving. To serve hot, drain and take to table immediately.

can be used almost interchangeably, say home economists, but seedless raisins are generally preferred for fruit cups and salads. The sweeter, stickier, seeded raisins are most often used in cereals and in baking.

To serve cold, drain off hot water, drench with cold water. Cut through under-shell with scissors. Insert fingers between shell and meat and pull firmly. Chill and serve with homemade mayonnaise or cold Hollandaise sauce.

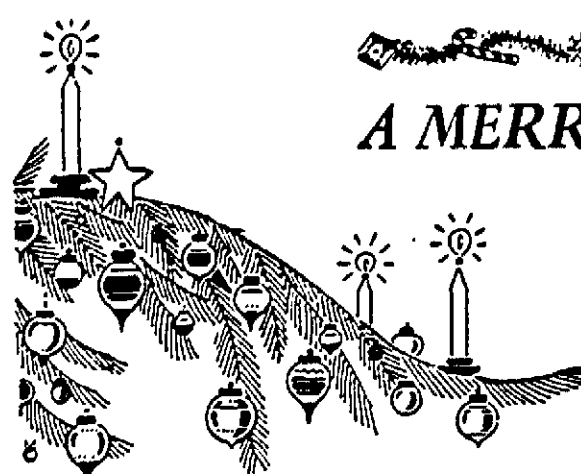

Two Chickens Dishes Canned for Babies

Baby now has the all-American favorite—chicken—in almost as many forms as Mom and Dad. Latest varieties to appear on the food store racks are two high meat dinners, chicken a la king and chicken with rice. Both come in strained and junior form.

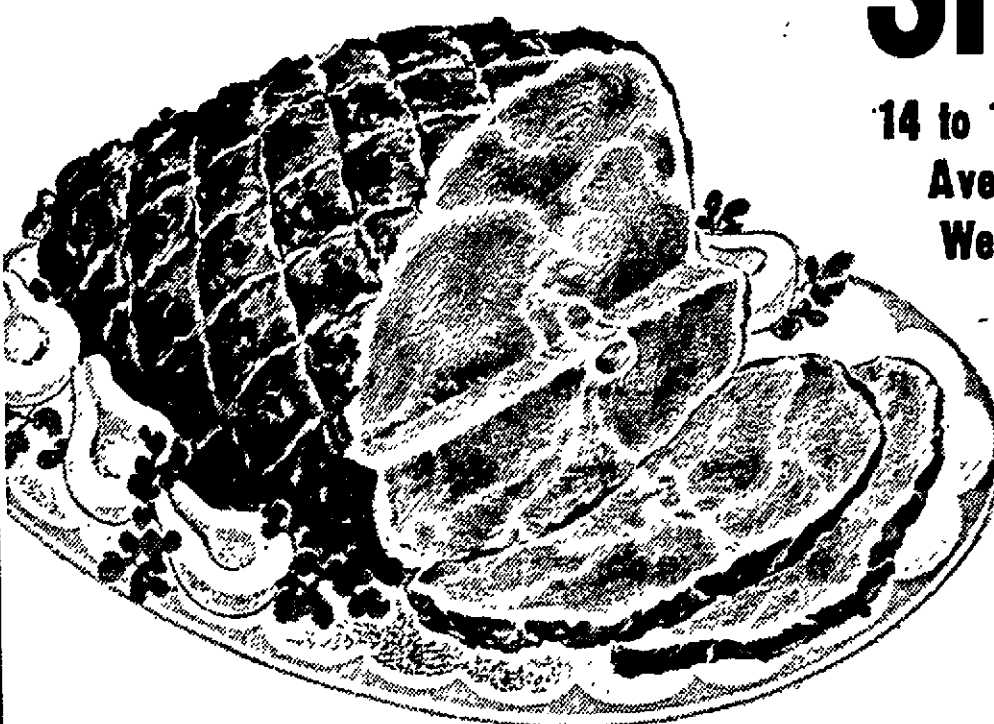

These follow the popular strained and junior high meat dinner, chicken with vegetables and strained and junior chicken, a 100 per cent meat product.

Like the adult version of chicken a la king, baby's contains plenty of chicken and rich chicken broth, non-fat dry milk, egg yolks and cornstarch seasoned with pimientos, mushrooms and onions. This grown-up flavor combination is processed to a smooth puree in the strained version; but in the junior, there is more texture.

Savory Indian Chicken Curry

Recipe From Western Cook

BY FRANK KOHLER

Indian Chicken Curry is the favorite dish of Mrs. John Opincar of Colorado Springs, who joined our Phoenix, Ariz. Republic chapter with this fine recipe as her initiation fee.

Suggested garnishes, if desired include minced green pepper, minced onion, chutney, chopped yolks and whites of hard-boiled eggs, chopped peanuts, chopped dried herring and toasted flakes of dried salt cod.

Indian Chicken Curry
 2 large onions, sliced.
 1 teaspoon turmeric.
 2 whole cardamom seeds (optional).
 1-inch long stick of cinnamon.
 2 cloves garlic, pressed.
 1 cup water.
 1 teaspoon powdered ginger.

Candied Fruit Peel Delicious Confection

Candied fruit peels are most delicious when home-made. There is no commercial product that serves the same purpose, that may be placed in the confection class.

Both orange and grapefruit peel should be covered with cold water, brought to a boil and cooked about 15 minutes until tender. Then, it should be drained and the inner white portion removed as closely as possible.

Next, cut the peel into thin strips with scissors. A sugar syrup is then prepared, the peel added, and the mixture cooked slowly until most of the liquid has evaporated.

The last step is to drain any remaining syrup and to roll the peel in confectioners' or granulated sugar. Occasionally, lemon peel is candied but it is not as tender as the others.

Candied Orange Peel
 Peel of 4 oranges
 1 cup water
 2 cups sugar

Cover peel with cold water, bring to a boil, and cook until soft. Drain and scrape out inner white portion. Cut peel in thin strips with scissors. Combine water and sugar, and cook, stirring constantly, until the sugar is dissolved. Cook until the soft ball stage (238 degrees) is reached. Add peel, and cook slowly for 20 minutes, until most of the syrup has evaporated. Drain in a coarse sieve. Roll peel, a few pieces at a time, in confectioners' or granulated sugar. Store in tightly covered container.

If a more moist peel is desired, add two tablespoons light corn syrup in making the syrup.

Grapefruit Peel
 Substitute peel of two grapefruits for the orange peel. Boil grapefruit peel 15 minutes in large amount of water. Drain and repeat three times, cooking the last time until tender.

Broilers Help Slim Waistline And Food Budget

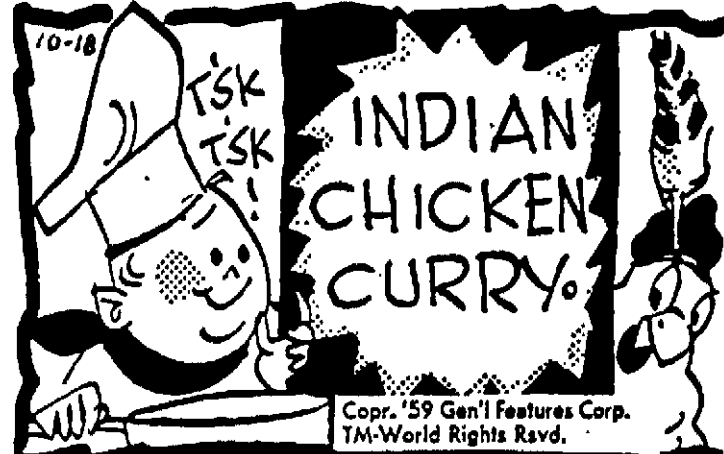

When the food budget needs slimming down, you can always rely on broiler-fryer chickens. They are delicious, economical, and one of the simplest to prepare.

Low-Calorie Broiled Chicken
 Broiler-fryers, 2 to 2 1/2 lb each, halved or quartered
 Salt, 1/2 teaspoon per broiler
 Sugar, 1/2 teaspoon per broiler
 Paprika

Pepper, optional
 Wash and drain chicken. Tuck wing tip under shoulder joint and place skin side down in broiler pan or any shallow pan. Do not place bird on a rack. Chicken should fill the pan, one layer deep, without crowding or leaving any pan area exposed. Season surface of chicken with the salt and sugar blended together; sprinkle with paprika, and if desired pepper also.

Place pan in broiler about nine inches from the heat, regulating distance or heat so that surface of chicken just begins to brown after 15 minutes of cooking. Broil slowly, 25 to 30 minutes. Turn skin side up. Baste with any accumulated pan drippings. Broil an additional 20 minutes, or until chicken is well-done, brown and crisp. When it is well-done, drumstick twists readily in thigh joint, and wing in shoulder joint.

Lunch Box Treat

time, until onion is golden. Combine garlic with water and next five items, stir to a paste, and add to the onions. Add tomatoes, stir, cover and simmer 20 minutes. Put in the chicken and add one-half cup warm water, cover, and let simmer one and one-half to two hours, until chicken is fork-tender. Add additional water in small amounts if needed. Correct the seasoning, adding salt and pepper if needed. Serve with hot cooked white rice.

Handy Advice For Christmas Cookie Bakers

If you aspire to perfection in the cookie department this holiday season, the following tips will help you.

For a rich cookie there's no need to grease the cookie sheet unless the recipe says you should.

Cookies bake best on sheets with slightly bevelled edges. Roasting pans or cake pans turned upside down may be used.

Be sure your cookie sheet is slightly smaller than your oven. For good heat circulation the sheet should not touch any side of the oven. Before baking cookies, preheat the gas oven a few minutes. The usual baking temperature for drop cookies is 350 to 375 degrees; for rolled cookies, 375 degrees. The time: eight to 10 to 15 minutes—no longer.

Crisp cookies should be stored in loosely covered containers. If they soften they can be crisped in a slow oven (300 degrees) about five minutes.

Soft chewy cookies and bars store best in tightly covered containers. Frozen cookies will thaw in about 15 minutes.

Spring Chicken All-Year Food

Poultry Industry
Has Changed Old
Seasonal Limits

The soothsayer of long ago believed he could predict the future through watching the behavior of chickens, but he probably didn't foresee "spring" chicken in December.

It wasn't too many years ago that these young tender birds were available only during the early spring months. Now, thanks to some near miracles in the poultry industry, you can enjoy them the year 'round.

Now's a good time to call on these broilers and fryers to help solve some of the problems that may pop up during these busy pre-holidays.

Top Food Value

If one of your problems is to eat well and still save money toward that Christmas shopping, you'll find these chickens are among the best food values.

And remember, chicken is more than good eating. It's a valuable source of highest quality protein suited to the diets of your entire family.

With a supply of these young chickens in your refrigerator or freezer, you can go about your Christmas shopping without worrying about what to serve the family for dinner.

One of the nicest things to do with chicken is to serve it creamed. Should the family tire of ordinary creamed chicken, try adding green peas, sweet corn, or mushroom, or serving creamed chicken on top of green spinach noodles.

Glamor Menu

Want some glamor on your dinner menu the quick way? Prepare an envelope or two of ready-to-use mashed potatoes, then turn into a deep pie plate. Whip cream with a dash of salt and fold in a goodly amount of grated Parmesan or Romano cheese; spread over the potatoes and dust with paprika. Now brown under the broiler.

A Snowy Christmas Loaf is the center of attention at this table of holiday party foods. Frosted with cottage cheese, its sandwich center is layered with three different fillings. Serve with traditional fruit cake and Holly Wreath Punch.

Thumbprint Cookies Holiday Suggestion

When you take out your thumb there's a hole for a plum. That's why they are called "thumbprint" cookies.

Preheat oven to 300 degrees. Then cream one-half cup butter with one-fourth cup brown sugar until light and fluffy. Add the yolk of one egg and one cup sifted flour. Form the dough into small balls and dip each ball into slightly beaten egg white, then into a cup of chopped walnuts.

Place on a cookie sheet and press a hole in the center with your thumb. After eight minutes of baking, press in center again and continue to bake about 10 minutes.

Cool the balls slightly, remove from cookie sheet and fill center with jam. This recipe makes about 30 cookies.

Herbed Vegetables

An easy way to add herbs to vegetables is to sprinkle in poultry seasoning to taste and toss lightly with butter just before serving.

'At Home'

Sandwich Loaf, Punch Holiday Party Menu

The holiday season is the time to get-together with family and friends—a season of entertaining. A party menu to match the festive mood includes an interesting sandwich loaf, fruit cake with a fruited hard sauce and frosty cups of punch.

Served buffet style, the food is important but not a deterrent to conversation. Here are the recipes:

Snowy Christmas Loaf

1 (2-pound) loaf sandwich bread, unsliced
6 tablespoons butter
2 cup Salmon-Olive filling
2 cup Avocado-Cheese filling
2 cup Egg-Pickle filling
14 slices cucumber
2 cup sliced radishes
1 quart creamed cottage cheese
2 cup chopped parsley
2 cup chopped nuts

Remove crusts from un-

sliced loaf of bread and cut lengthwise into five equal-sized slices. Butter each slice. Spread slices with fillings in the following order and stack: salmon-olive, avocado-cheese, egg - pickle and cucumbers and radish. Top with fifth slice. Press loaf firmly together.

Wrap in waxed paper and refrigerate until about an hour before serving time when it is "frosting." For snow frosting: mash cottage cheese with a fork and force through a sieve. Frost top and sides of loaf with mashed cottage cheese. Garnish top of loaf with chopped parsley and nuts. Refrigerate until it is to be cut.

Salmon-Olive Filling

2 cup flaked salmon
2 cup chopped stuffed olives
2 tablespoons finely chopped celery
2 teaspoon ground marjoram

3 tablespoons prepared sour cream

Combine all ingredients, mixing thoroughly.

Avocado-Cheese Filling

1/3 cup mashed avocado
1 (3-ounce) package cream cheese
1 teaspoon crumbled Bleu cheese

2 teaspoons finely chopped chives

1 teaspoon lemon juice
Dash of Worcestershire sauce

2 teaspoon salt

Blend avocado into cream cheese. Add Bleu cheese, chives, lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce and salt.

Egg-Pickle Filling

2/3 cup chopped hard-cooked eggs
2 cup chopped dill pickle
2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing

Combine all ingredients, blending well.

Pineapple-Lemon Hard Sauce

1 cup butter
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
11 cups confectioners' sugar
2 cup drained, crushed pineapple

16 slices bakers' fruit cake

Blend butter, lemon rind and confectioners' sugar until creamy. Add pineapple. Chill until cold, but not hard. Serve about 11 tablespoons of hard sauce over each slice of fruit cake.

Holly Wreath Punch

1 quart bottled cranberry juice
1 pint gingerale
Combine cranberry juice and gingerale.

Baked Apples

Baked apple is one of our best liked desserts. Give it variety with spice. A dash of edges of icing to simulate ground cloves mixed with the holly leaves. Press cinnamon sugar that is spooned into the center gives this old favorite an interesting delicious flavor.

Christmas Cookies

Christmas Wreath Cookies are made by the dozen but with no dither. Purchase packages of unfrosted ring-shaped butter cookies. Wreath green - tinted confectioners' sugar icing around each ring. With a toothpick, roughen edges of icing to simulate holly leaves. Press cinnamon sugar that is spooned into the center gives this old favorite an interesting delicious flavor.

Tell Plans for 'Commuter Express' For Earth to Space Transportation

Los Angeles — Lockheed space ship, a ballistic missile and a conventional airplane, it could be ready for service by the mid-1960s, the companies reported.

It could carry up to four astronauts — a pilot and three commuters ready to step into their "workshop in space" — and large quantities of materials. Designed for flexibility, its payload would vary from mission to mission.

Taking off from earth, it would orbit at 300 to 500 miles altitude, rendezvous with other spacecraft, transfer technicians and supplies, return safely to earth and repeat the entire operation on a routine schedule.

Called a "Space Ferry" by the Hughes-Lockheed engineering team that designed it, the system also could undertake a variety of missions, including tracking and inspection of unidentified objects in space; serve as a "space sweeper" to remove derelicts the station. He would control the vehicle by reaction jets spaced along the wing edges and by internally housed electrically-driven inertia wheels. Upon obtaining visual contact with the space station at about 500 feet, the pilot would maneuver into position, fasten the ferry onto the station and the passengers, at-tired in special space suits, would enter the space station through an airlock or simply step from the ferry to an external platform.

Return through space and entry into the earth's atmosphere is regarded by the project engineers as the most difficult problem of the entire mission.

The proposed configuration of existing airliners.

Despite current emphasis on automatic control in space systems design, Lockheed and Hughes reported that their design approach for the space ferry involves maximum use of the human pilot "as an active element" in the control of the vehicle.

"This approach leads to a less complicated and more reliable design," the two vice-presidents said. "Although fully automatic modes are provided for more critical phases of the mission, the pilot can take control of the vehicle through a manual override in case of emergency, thereby giving greater assurance of safe return of the craft to earth."

Monesmith and Wendahl also reported that the studies, financed entirely by the two companies, indicated that the ferry system would be practical and feasible around 1965.

Advancements in the ferry system include:

1. Development of aerodynamic and structural configurations capable of meeting a very wide range of operating conditions.
2. Development of electronic control systems permitting ferry to achieve pinpoint accuracy in rendezvous with orbiting systems.
3. Control of extreme temperatures during re-entry.
4. Re-usability of the system.

Government in Village to Cost $31,545 in '60

Marked Hike Over 1959 Reflected in 2 Major Categories

Little Chute — Cost of operating the village government in 1960 totals $31,545, according to the budget, compared to $19,150 in 1959.

Operation at the village hall cost $5,400 in 1959. The 1960 appropriation is $12,900. The increase will be used for remodeling the village hall to permit building of a larger police station. Plans for the remodeling are currently being studied by the state building inspector.

No bids have been received on the work but village officials estimated it will cost approximately $7,500. Second major reason for the increase is a $3,000 appropriation for industrial development in 1960. No fund was set up in the 1959 budget.

Other Breakdowns

Village board salary remained at $4,500 both years and the clerk-treasurer's salary was increased from $2,400 to $2,600 per year. League dues remained at $160 and the assessor's salary was held at $800. A $150 appropriation for this in 1959.

Weyenberg Ties School Scoring Mark by Cager

Kaukauna — The 38-point scoring effort by LeRoy Weyenberg of the Kaukauna High school cage squad ties the school record for the most single game points by a local player.

Weyenberg dropped 14 field goals and 10 of 14 free throw tries to tie James Otte who scored 38 on 16 goals and six charity tosses in a game at New London on Feb. 4, 1955. Otte fouled out in the closing minutes of that game while Weyenberg was taken out of Friday's contest with about two minutes remaining.

Otte made his effort in a losing cause as New London stalled out a 74-72 win while Weyenberg paced his mates to a 72-61 win over Neenah.

The board of review was held the same while election and voting machine expense was held at $1,000 for both years. Village attorney expense was dropped from $1,000 in 1959 to $800 in 1960. Printing and publishing costs were dropped from $540 to $500.

Auditing expense was raised from $300 in 1959 to $435 in 1960, engineering costs were raised from $2,000 to $3,500, area planning was increased from $900 to $1,000 and the miscellaneous fund shows $200 for 1960 whereas no money was allocated for this in 1959.

In Recognition of His work with Kaukauna High school athletic teams, Fred Barribeau, second from left, was presented a trophy at a special assembly program. Making the presentation is football captain Bruce Ludke while looking on are Harold Kobin, cross country coach and Bruce Vanevenhoven, cross country team captain. Barribeau resigned after this season. Kobin also received an award from the cross country team.

Combined Locks Girl Scouts Entertain Sick, Shut-ins

Combined Locks — Members of Girl Scout Troop 142 distributed Christmas cheer prior to a party and court of awards night program.

The girls visited the Moderne Convalescent home where they presented tray favors and entertained patients with Christmas carols. Ruth Voights accompanied girls on the occasion.

After leaving the home they visited shut-ins in the village, sang carols and presented them with gift wrapped cookies and homemade candies. The party was held at the home of Mrs. Sylvester Beyer, assistant leader, where gifts were exchanged and the court of awards held. Leader is Mrs. William P. Voights.

Rock and mineral badges were awarded 12 girls, 10 received good grooming badges, three received the first rank badge and 13 were presented star awards for 1-year service.

Little Chute Gets $12,552 From State

Little Chute — Mrs. Loreta Verstegen, clerk-treasurer, reports the village received checks totaling $12,552 from the state within the past few days, representing the community's share of utility tax and auto license fees.

Utility tax amounted to $7,029. There was $4,000 revenue estimated in the 1959 budget and auto license fees amount to $5,523 with a budget estimate of $5,521 for 1959.

New Boys Club Formed for Fremont Youth

Fremont — A new club for boys aged 14 or over was formed Thursday evening at the home of Evan Redemann, who will be the adviser of an Explorer club.

The boys voted dues at 25 cents weekly. Tuesday evening they will discuss plans of money making during the holiday vacation.

Suggestions include a drive to collect paper, wood cutting and building bird houses.

A welcome is extended to boys wishing to join the club. Explorer club is not associated with the local Boy Scouts, and membership will not be limited.

Meetings, one a week, will promote activities the boys decide they would like to do.

Springs Jayvees Easily Defeat Chuters, 49-37

Little Chute — Taking an early lead, St. Mary Springs junior varsity cruised to a 49-37 victory over St. John Saturday night here.

The loss gives the Chuters a 4-3 record for the season. The squad is 1-2 against Fox Valley Catholic conference opponents.

Springs jumped off to a 9 to 4 advantage in the first period and was never headed. The Ledgers added 17 markers in the second period while St. John managed nine. In the third frame Springs rolled out of reach with 18 points while the Chuters added nine.

Jerome Diedrich was high for the Dutchmen with 15 of the 37 points. Springs balanced scoring was led by Bill Pawsat with 12.

Purchasing Committee Seeks Dump Truck Bids

Kaukauna — The purchasing committee of the common council is accepting bids for two dump trucks, bids to be opened and studied at 6 p.m. Jan. 4.

Truck specifications may be obtained from the city clerk or city engineer. Bid price is to include trade allowance for two present dump trucks.

Woman Fined $5.75 for Dog Running Loose

Kaukauna — Mrs. William Rogers, route 3, Kaukauna, pleaded guilty of letting a dog run at large when arraigned before Oscar T. Jahns, justice of the peace, Friday and was fined $5.75.

Immigration Helps Canada Get Vital Skilled Workers

Ottawa — War and a bustling postwar boom have plugged the long-standing drain to the United States of Canadian youth and professional and skilled workers.

The answer: Increased immigration. Since the end of World War II, nearly 1,800,000 immigrants have been brought to Canada by a vigorous recruiting campaign in Europe.

Early immigrants to this sparsely populated country mainly were farmers who helped open the west. Today the newcomers include a large proportion of professional, skilled and semi-skilled workers.

"Immigration has built Canada," says the immigration minister, Mrs. Eileen Fairclough. "Immigrants will continue to be needed to make possible further Canadian development."

Canada still supplies the United States with more professional and technical workers than any other country. But the inflow to Canada of trained immigrants has more than filled the gaps they left.

About 685 Canadian engineers went to the United States annually in 1953-57. The number of immigrant engineers into Canada averaged 2,000 for each of the five years.

Economy Expands

During the same period, 150 doctors left annually for the United States, but 439 arrived yearly as immigrants. There were 350 teacher departures, 1,114 arrivals; for auditors and accountants the score was 225 against 458 newcomers.

Canada's expanding economy has taken much of the luster off the traditional American lure to Canadians seeking higher pay and greater opportunity.

The flow south of the border in the five years 1953-57 totaled only 141,949—a fraction of the 90,000 annual rush in the 1920s and before.

Up to 1951 Canada's population rise for a century was 95 per cent native born. While 7,100,000 immigrants arrived in that period, 6,600,000 persons emigrated, nearly all to the United States.

The postwar flood of newcomers has led native-born Canadians to worry about the possible competition for jobs, but immigration officials say only a relatively small proportion of immigrants seek employment in the open labor market.

Tremendous Effect

For example, Mrs. Fairclough said only 13,900 of the 124,851 arrivals in 1958 could be classified as workers who competed for jobs. And many had training that filled a need, especially in newly setted remote areas where many Canadians refused to go.

The effect of the immigrants on the country's economy has been tremendous, according to government figures. Since 1950 many have become employers, establishing 2,858 small businesses that provided 9,000 jobs, for native Canadians as well as for other immigrants.

Between 1950 and the end of last year they bought 3,879 farms and rented 849 others totaling $43,647,500 in value. Immigrants have made a substantial contribution to Canada's over-all wealth in another field. From 1946-1958 they brought into the country an estimated $800,000 in cash and securities and 300 million dollars in settlers' effects.

And in 1957 alone they paid about $190 million in direct taxes and saved about $148 million.

Little Chute — Mrs. Loreta Verstegen, clerk-treasurer, reports the village received checks totaling $12,552 from the state within the past few days, representing the community's share of utility tax and auto license fees.

Utility tax amounted to $7,029. There was $4,000 revenue estimated in the 1959 budget and auto license fees amount to $5,523 with a budget estimate of $5,521 for 1959.

State Troopers Receive Letters From Speeders

Newark, N.J. — It's nice to know you're appreciated.

Two state troopers on the New Jersey turnpike have received letters from motorists they ticketed for speeding thanking them.

Alan Wurtzburger of Baltimore wrote this of Trooper Michael Turso to turnpike officials.

"... I am writing not to complain (as I was obviously in the wrong) but to commend the officer who did his job and made it seem almost pleasant (if such were possible)."

Trooper Fred Marcals got this word of thanks from Victor C. Cuff of Croton, Conn.

"I appreciate the courtesy shown me by the correcting officer. Kindly notify him if possible that the speedometer was checked and it is exactly 10 miles slow."

No Shortage of Educational-Type Games in Stores

From Monopoly to Chess There's Something for Every Youngster

BY JAY REED
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

There is no shortage of educational-type games for youngsters of every age in Fox Cities stores this Christmas season.

If anything, the adult will be hard pressed to decide on one or two kinds out of the hundreds available. Trouble could come, too, when the adult finds his own interest growing in some of the boards.

From the old standard Monopoly game to intricate Chess boards, there is a game to fit the desire of every child and/or adult.

Spell-it Game

One of the new ones this year is a spell-it dial game for children from five to eight years old. Players dial letters or numbers of any object on the board. Pictures of objects correctly spelled appear in an answer window.

Another good educational game and new this year is called Scrabble, Jr. This is a copy of the traditional Scrabble board—a sort of word and picture version of the original. It is designed for 6 to 12-year-olds.

A global travel game features a globe with four cards, miniature famous landmarks, distance finders, etc.

Another game is called "Meet the President." It teaches historical facts about all our presidents and is designed for children seven years and older.

Game of States

There is a game of states which teaches the location of all states in the union, capital cities, important industries and products.

For children interested in numbers there is an arithmetic game called "13."

In Monopoly, of course, excitement mounts as players buy and sell property, build houses, run railroads. Collecting rent or mortgaging real estate adds to the fun. This game which many adults enjoy.

These Days
Dinner Party Conversation
Based on Uninformed Criticism

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

New York — One goes to a dinner party. The company is charming; the women are expensively gowned; the men are of States or any particular phase of the life of this country. In fact, they are quite willing to establish the superiority of a country which no longer permits them to live in it over our country which gives them a house room.

Russia-Worshippers

3. The third group usually consists of Russia - worshippers. Sometimes one encounters among such an occasional literate person with some measure of knowledge. Usually, the Russia worshippers fall into three general classes: Communists, fellow-travelers, left-wingers, or tourists who have been on a swift look-see of two or three Russian cities, or stylish conversationalists who are willing to go with any tide that is current. It is fun to trip such conversationalists by asking about facts that can be found in an encyclopedia, dictionary or manual. Before a fact, they flee as the devil does from holy water.

That would not be so bad were it not that there are Americans about who are willing to permit contemptuous and untruthful statements to be made about their country.

A colloquy of this nature is of recent vintage:

American female: If Nixon is elected President, I shall leave this country.

American male: I presume you prefer Khrushchev.

American female: This country is becoming decadent.

American male: You are so decadently charming.

Angry naturalized American: You ignoramus! You do not appreciate what a privilege it is to live in America. You should be grateful that you are permitted to live here.

American female: My ancestors came here in 1620.

Angry naturalized American:

can be taken; umbrage is unforgivable. But even the critic needs to know what he is talking about. The American lady, whose conversation I paraphrase, is a composite of many persons and many conversations none of which are tolerable.

The office will close at 4:15 p.m. Wednesday until 7:45 a.m. Monday.

MHS to Hold Eliminations In Forensics

Set for February; Two Contests for High School Groups

Neenah — Elimination contests will be held in February for determining Menasha High school's representatives at the Mid-Eastern conference forensic contest and the Wisconsin High School Forensic association contest.

All students in forensics have selected their topics. Forensics includes serious and humorous declamations; original and non-original orations; play reading; extemporaneous reading and speaking; and interpretive reading.

Forensics advisers are William Herziger, Miss Margaret Kelly, Miss Agnes Woodrick and Dalton Schoening. Forensics students are Ruth Nielsen, Margaret Brodzinski, Bette Holewinski, Janice Hablewitz, Sue Haber, Sandra Quick, Diane Weisgerber, John Killia, Karen Hafemeister, Nikki Rosenthal, Paula Hudson, Karen O'Brien, Gary Gooding, Dennis Leatherman, Marian Wildhagen, Joyce Bethard, Joel Kimmel, Margaret Magalski, Julie Biggers, Lee Schliem and Madeline Sipin.

street, and Lawrence L. Dunn 614 Prospect street, both of Oshkosh. Oshkosh police were notified at 12:10 p.m. of their arrest.

The men admitted to Oshkosh police they had taken the 200-pound safe from the school and had abandoned it near High Cliff. It was found in a wooded area near High Cliff by a 16-year-old hiker.

Inside the car trunk were found car radios, hub caps and miscellaneous items while on the floor of the back seat were some screw drivers, hammer and a large crowbar.

Police in an Oshkosh squad car, while patrolling shortly before 6 a.m. Saturday, saw a light colored car drive away from the school. It gave pursuit and was joined by other squad cars. It disappeared after driving over a terrace. They identified themselves to avoid an oncoming squad as Jack W. Vienola, 416 Scott car.

Neenah — Joseph A. Mattern, Menasha, was among six young men from Wisconsin ordained Sunday in Rome to the Catholic priesthood. Seventy-five students of the Pontifical North American college were ordained.

The Most Rev. Martin J. O'Connor, rector of the college and titular archbishop of Ladocia, performed the ceremony. About 200 relatives and friends from the United States attended the ordination.

Menashans at the rites were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Mattern, brother and sister-in-law; Miss Katie Mattern, a sister; and Miss Julie Lenz, friend of Miss Mattern.

Other Wisconsin ordinands were Ralph J. Gillis, Green Bay; Richard J. Skibba and William H. Whalen, both of Racine; and Robert W. Pusch and Philip Verhalen, both of Milwaukee.

Father Mattern is one of 12 children of Mr. and the late Mrs. Anthony Mattern. He was graduated from Menasha High school in 1951 and attended St. Mary college, Orchard Lake, Mich., before beginning studies at the Pontifical North American college in Rome. He starred in football, basketball and baseball at Menasha High.

Neenah — Mayor Chester Bell expressed his displeasure this morning over the fact that 23 bulbs are missing from the city's Christmas tree in front of the public library.

Bell said, "It is a sad commentary on our young people that these lights have been taken. Each year the city decorates a tree to give pleasure to the citizens and carry out the theme of the season."

"It seems a shame that some thoughtless people, for no purpose at all, remove and destroy the lights."

Bell said most of the lights were taken Friday night. A few had been missing before that but this morning the tree was stripped of all lights as high as a man could reach. The mayor said the lights will be replaced. "It will be interesting to see whether the tree will be left alone this time or if such thoughtlessness will continue," the mayor concluded.

Neenah — Mayor Chester Bell reported this morning that member communities of the regional planning commission have received copies of the contract with Schallie and Associates, planning firm.

Bell said Neenah's copy of the contract arrived this morning. The mayor said work under the new organization is expected to start in January. The new location of the planning office is 1307 N. Summit street, Appleton.

Neenah — Three men were taken off the top of a car which had gone through the ice on Lake Butte des Morts near Sunset point here at 3:22 p.m. Sunday. They were Joseph Spanbauer, Lloyd Holland, and Ed Daniels, all of Oshkosh.

Residents in the area took them off by boat. The three men were standing on top of the car which had submerged in shallow water about 50 feet off shore.

Neenah — Alvie Behnke, 57, whose father and brothers live in Neenah, died Sunday morning at Belgrade, Mont. He was born May 27, 1902 in the town of Harrison.

Survivors include the widow and two daughters in Belgrade; his father, Gust, Neenah; and two brothers, Lyman and Edgar, Neenah. Burial will be at Belgrade Wednesday.

Committee members are Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Wilson, chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ristau and Mrs. Alfred VanHarpen.

Visits in East

Menasha — Mrs. F. J. Popp, 218 Garfield avenue, left Thursday for Chicago, to join her son, George Hoffman and his family, on a visit to another son, Richard Hoffman, at New Milford, Conn.

They will be in the east two weeks.

Monday, Dec. 21, 1959 Appleton Post-Crescent D3

Christmas Cookies for Winnebago county hospital and Waupaca State hospital were made by members of Neenah-Menasha Jaycettes as part of a mental health project. The baked goods are to be used at parties at the two hospitals. At the home of Mrs. Thomas Pitz, 494 Rainbow beach, Neenah, from left are Mrs. Don Payant, Mrs. William Engel and Mrs. Pitz. In January Jaycettes members will form mental health study groups and give parties at mental hospitals.

List Hints For Cooks

Neenah — For variety in vegetable servings, slivers of crisp celery add texture contrast to green beans, wax beans and zucchini. Peas are much more interesting when combined with small onions, thinly sliced water chestnuts or tiny mushrooms. Ingredients such as slivered almond, grated cheese, chopped peanut, caraway and poppy seeds and pimento may be used with most vegetables.

Preparation of sweet-sour beets will be a success if you mix one-half cup sugar, two teaspoons cornstarch, one-half cup vinegar, one bay leaf and two whole cloves together in a saucepan and cook over a medium flame until slightly thick and clear. Then remove the cloves and bay leaf and add two and one-half cups sliced cooked beets, one-fourth teaspoon salt and a tablespoon of butter. Serve with smoked tongue or ham.

Small fry cooks will enjoy crushing vanilla wafers into fine crumbs to make one and one-half cups. Then gradually add one-half cup of melted butter to the crumbs, rubbing

Menasha Pair Spends Holiday In New York

Menasha — Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Kraft, 346 Oak street, left today for New York City, where they will spend the holidays with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Elias.

Arriving Saturday for Christmas week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Fowler, 609 Higgins avenue, Neenah, was Miss Nancy Fowler, a student at Texas Technological college, Lubbock, Texas.

Men's Fellowship Will Hold Party

Neenah — Program for the Christmas party of Retired Men's fellowship of First Methodist church will include a meditation by the Rev. L. Clarence Kelley and a film, "The Nativity."

The party will be held at 9 a. m. Wednesday in the church dining room. The party is open to all retired men.

Report Damage To Neenah Trees

Oshkosh — Damage to 35 trees owned by Charles Casperson, 228 N. State street, Appleton, located on property he owns at 1006 S. Lake street Neenah, was reported to the sheriff's office at 10:45 a. m. Sunday. Casperson estimated the damage at $350.

The trees were about 10 years old and were planted in four rows. All but five trees were cut or crudely chopped down, Casperson said. Most of the branches had been chopped off and placed in several large piles along with the tree trunks.

Fire Damages Home South of Oshkosh

Oshkosh — Fire Sunday night extensively damaged the L. A. Bauer home on Lake Winnebago, south of here. Bauer said he and his family had gone out for dinner about 5 p. m. Sunday and upon returning home at 8:23 found their house was on fire.

Because of the thick smoke, Bauer said he was unable to get into the house to save any of his possessions. Both the downstairs and upstairs were damaged. All of their belongings were lost.

Eagles Auxiliary

Menasha — Menasha Eagles auxiliary will hold its meeting at 8 p. m. Tuesday instead of the regular Thursday at Menasha Eagles hall.

Deal Marinette Squad 1st Loss 60-44 on Balanced Attack; 2 Star for Losers

CATHOLIC CONFERENCE
 St. Mary 60
 Marinette 44
 Pennington 2
 Saturday's Results:
 St. Mary 60, Marinette Catholic 44.
 Springs 71, St. John 26 (2 ovt.)

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
 Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Menasha — St. Mary's balanced attack proved superior to Marinette Catholic's 2-man operation and the Zephyrs tumbled the Cavaliers from the unbeaten class 60-44 here Saturday night.

The victory was St. Mary's third in Fox Valley Catholic conference play and gave it undisputed possession of first place. Marinette now has 2-1 with an overall 5-1 slate.

For the Zephyrs, it was their eighth straight triumph of the season (not including the reformatory game) and their 16th in conference play over a 3-season period.

Deliberate Style

St. Mary had three boys in the double figures and five with eight or more points. Marinette's tandem of Mike Donovan and Bob Pecotte contributed 23 and 15 points respectively giving them all but six of the team's total. They had all but one of the club's baskets.

The Cavaliers lean toward a deliberate type of game, not shooting unless they have a fairly sure shot. In fact, they only took 30 throws at the bucket all night, connecting on 13.

Pecotte and Donovan took all but four of the attempts. Pat Bradley and Dick Kiefer, both of whom played the entire game, each had only one try, but spent most of the evening "feeding" Pecotte and Donovan.

Zephyrs Splurge

Although the final spread was 16 points, victory wasn't that easy for the Zephyrs. With 3:21 left to play, they only had a 7-point lead. They then hit three straight baskets for a 54-41 margin and after Marinette tallied, the victors hit the next six to boost their lead to 17.

St. Mary took a 41-33 advantage into the final period, built it up to 45-33, saw it drop to 46-37 and go up to 48-37 before

All Five St. Mary Players were involved in this action or were close to it during the first period of Saturday's Fox Valley Catholic conference game against Marinette Central Catholic. Jerry Laemmrich (22) is high off the floor, battling with John Donovan of the Shamrocks. Other Zephyrs are Bill Becker (12), Pete Vanderhyden (30), Dean Schreiner (40) and Mike Herliche (32). Marinette's 21 is Dick Kiefer. St. Mary copped 50-44 for its eighth straight triumph.

St. Mary 'B' Team Loses To Cavaliers

Menasha — Marinette Catholic's jayvees halted the St. Mary win string at three by defeating the Zephyr reserves 43-32 here Saturday night. The loss was St. Mary's first in three Fox Valley Catholic conference starts.

St. Mary led 8-3 at the quarter and 18-17 at halftime. Marinette's 16-3 edge in the third period boosted its advantage to 33-23.

Corsten led the winners with 13 points. Drees and Nordost each had 10. Adrian Martin collected 11 and Bob Stumpf had nine for the Zephyrs.

Shamrocks Best St. John 44-18 in Non-League Test

Menasha — St. Patrick's downed St. John 44-18 in a preliminary to the Menasha Mac-Harlem Magician game Sunday afternoon at the Menasha High school gym.

St. Patrick led 10-8 at the quarter, 18-10 at halftime and 33-15 at the close of three periods. Jim Rather scored 11 points, Barry Conway had nine and Dave Koehn eight for the winners. Jim Walters had seven and Klutz five for St. John.

The Shamrocks meet Sacred Heart of Appleton in a Catholic Boy league tangle here tonight. The "B" game will begin at 7 p.m.

Macs Topple Chilton; Lose To Magicians

Traveling Squad Cops 72-50 Before Large Audience

Menasha — The Menasha Macs trimmed Chilton 94-42 in an Eastern Wisconsin Amateur league game here Saturday night before losing a 72-50 decision to the Harlem Magicians Sunday afternoon at the Menasha High school gym.

In notching their sixth E-WA victory in seven starts, the Menashans led 28-12 at the quarter, 54-25 at halftime and 65-31 at the close of three segments.

Goggins made 18 to pace the Chilton marksmen.

The quarter-time scores were 12-10, 39-28 and 51-36 with the Magicians ahead all the way. Greg Ropella had 16 points for the Macs and Josh Grider and Jim Satterwhite

2nd Drunk, Disorderly Charge on Same Day Brings Man $10 Fine

Neenah — Orville Rose, 53, 209 Plummer avenue, pleaded guilty of being drunk and disorderly and was fined $10 and costs by Police Justice E. P. Arpin this morning. He was arrested at 3:40 p.m. Sunday at Adams and Harrison streets, his second arrest on the same day on that charge.

He had been arrested on Western avenue at 12:01 a.m. Sunday for drunkenness and was released after forfeiting $14.20 on that charge.

Fears Attack; Youth Jumps Out of Auto

Oshkosh — An 18-year-old Appleton youth told Winnebago county sheriff's deputies he leaped from a car because he was afraid that a man with whom he had hitchhiked a ride at 1:35 a.m. today was going to sexually attack him.

The youth said he had picked up the ride in Menasha to go to Appleton. When they slowed down to turn a corner near Waverly beach, the youth said he stuck his foot onto the driver's side, slammed on the brakes, opened the door and jumped out of the car, losing his shoe in the process.

He ran to a nearby home from where the occupant took him to the Menasha police

Cafe Fracas Leads to $29 Forfeiture

Menasha — Ronald B. Casperson, 20, 212 Cedar street, Neenah, today forfeited $25 and costs for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Police Justice Arthur J. Ales accepted the fine and costs and filed the conviction.

Casperson and David Mueller, 19, 211 Smith street, Neenah, were accused of creating a brawl in Mihm's Charcoal grill, 355 Chute street, about 11:40 p.m. Friday.

The waitress, Miss Janice Mihm, ran out of the restaurant behind Casperson and Mueller, who pulled the telephone handset off its wire while she was attempting to call police.

A Menasha policeman saw the pair emerge and gave chase when Miss Mihm told him of the incident. They evaded the policeman but were picked up later in a Main street restaurant.

Police Chief Peter Clark today said Mueller had been released with a warning. He added further investigation will be made.

Girl Injured in 2-Car Accident

Chilton — Lynn Freye, 12, route 1, Menasha, was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital, Appleton, for treatment of foot and ankle injuries received in a 2-car crash Saturday. The mishap occurred at 1:15 p.m. on Highway 10, about one-fourth mile north of Waverly.

Ruth M. Freye, 36, route 1, Menasha, was unable to stop before striking the rear of a car driven by Emma L. DeCarter, 61, Rhinelander. The DeCarter car had stopped to permit an oncoming car's left turn, county police said.

Two Plead Guilty of Assault and Battery

Oshkosh — David T. Roberts, 19, of 1513 S. Jefferson street, Appleton, this morning pleaded guilty to charges of assault and battery on Anton King, town of Menasha, and disorderly conduct at the King home. Sunday night and was fined $25 and costs by Acting Municipal Judge Herbert J. Mueller on each charge.

Richard E. Ehrhott, 29, of 104 S. Lake street, Neenah, was fined $25 and costs or 15 days in the county jail this morning after he pleaded guilty of assault and battery on his father, Ernest Ehrhott, at the latter's town of Oshkosh home at 9 p.m. Saturday. He had not paid the fine up to noon today.

Reports Car Struck By Hit-Run Driver

Oshkosh — Ann S. Konop of 118 Mayer street, Menasha, reported to the sheriff's office that her car was damaged Sunday when struck by a hit and run driver on Highway 47, near the valley Fair shopping center. She said the other car hit the curb, spun around in a circle, struck her car and kept on going. She and a passenger weren't injured.

Accuse Man Of Assault

Frederick Dodge, 33, Oshkosh, Held; Delay Proceedings

Oshkosh — An Oshkosh man, Frederick A. Dodge, 33, of 1840 Sheridan street, was arraigned before acting Municipal Judge Herbert J. Mueller this morning on charges involving threatening his estranged wife and son with a gun.

Proceedings were deferred since Dodge's attorney was unable to be present this morning. Dodge is being held in the county jail under $3,000 bond.

Sheriff's deputies reported Dodge went to the home of his estranged wife Sunday morning and threatened to shoot the baby if she ran from the home to call police. She was able to get away and when police arrived Dodge threatened to shoot the son with a .22 caliber revolver.

Deputy Sheriff Fred Rasmussen, who subdued Dodge in an upstairs bedroom, said Dodge had the gun cocked and against the right ear of his son, who Rasmussen said was 3 or 4 years old.

Gun Unloaded

"I tried to talk Dodge out of doing anything but he wouldn't listen. I finally had to jump him and as I did so, Dodge pulled the trigger but the gun was empty," Rasmussen said. On Dodge's person were found 49 cartridges, the deputy reported.

Rasmussen explained that he and Deputy Sheriff Harold Peppel were called to the home in the town of Utica shortly before 11 a.m. Sunday. When they arrived they noticed Dodge in an upstairs window. They went into the house and Dodge met them at the top of the stairs with his gun in his hand. They tried to talk him into surrendering but he refused and went into the bedroom where four of the children were.

Enter Room

Rasmussen said they tried again to talk him into surrendering through a closed door. Dodge again refused so they entered the room and noticed him sitting on the bed with the gun against the right ear of his oldest son.

Sunday was Dodge's visitation day to his children. The couple have been estranged for about a month. Dodge's wife said on a previous occasion he had injured her, requiring hospitalization. She began divorce proceedings after being discharged from the hospital.

She said he smashed the door down to gain entry Sunday and pointed the gun at his wife and a neighbor woman. They fled to call the sheriff's office.

Salvation Army Fund Drive Opens

Winnecoonne — C. O. Rogers, chairman of the Winnecoonne Salvation Army Service unit committee, has announced the annual fund appeal will be conducted Dec. 16 to Jan. 13. George Barr is committee treasurer.

Future Teachers association and Future Homemakers association will carol at the homes of shut-ins Tuesday. Miss Edna Palack is in charge of arrangements.

Harvey and Kelly Hennell entertained 100 children at their annual children's Christmas party Sunday afternoon. A holiday program was given by Mrs. George Barr and Mrs. Lysond Morgan at the Tuesday Christmas party of East Winnecoonne Homemakers club at the home of Mrs. Elmer Teela. Mrs. Morgan will be hostess for the Jan. 12 meeting when Mrs. Clarence Hale and Mrs. Gordon Wentzel will be project leaders.

Neenah Fire Run

Neenah — Firemen extinguished a fire in the hay station on top of the new police station now being constructed at Walnut street and E. Doty Friday. They were called at 4:48 p.m. by a neighbor who noticed the smoke. The fire was believed caused by some children playing on top of the station.

A Mexican Style Christmas Party closed activities at Winnebago Day school before the holidays. Mrs. Lynn Cooper, who teaches Spanish at the school, is at the piano. Spanish songs were sung by pupils from the second through fifth grades while above Kim Des Marais, a fourth grader, wields a stick attempting to break the pinata which was killed with goodies.

One Organization Formed to Study Fish, Game Problems

Oshkosh — Articles of incorporation have been filed with Register of Deeds Bernice E. Fuller for three Fox Valley concerns.

Structo, Inc., with registered offices at 407 Irving Zuelke building, Appleton, will issue 400 shares of common stock at $25 a share. F. Joseph Sensenbrenner is the registered agent.

Triple "C" Union of Sportsmen, Ltd., has been incorporated to make a special study of conservation problems relating to fish and game for the best interest of Wisconsin citizens and sportsmen; to advise the public and publish such articles on questions of conservation as it may deem to be the best interest of sportsmen and the public; and to make recommendation to the state legislature and conservation department resulting from its findings and studies.

Virgil Achterberg, Neenah, is registered agent as well as one of the incorporators. Others are Walter R. Menzies, Butler, and Orville Luebke, Neenah. The principal office will be at 110 E. Wisconsin avenue, Neenah.

Harold R. Hanson and Emery L. Richard, Neenah, have incorporated the Hanson-Richard Agency, Inc., at 110 W. Wisconsin avenue, Neenah. Hanson is registered agent for the corporation which will issue 1,250 shares of common stock with no par value.

furniture was to be divided. The Berches were married July 17, 1954, in Winnebago and had no children.

Grant Divorces To 2 Women

Oshkosh — Mrs. Mildred M. Johnson, 38, Neenah, received a divorce from Larz B. Johnson, 37, Neenah, on charges of cruel and inhuman treatment in Winnebago county court Friday.

Judge Herbert J. Mueller awarded care and custody of the couple's three children to Mrs. Johnson. She also received the household furniture, $15 a week alimony and $30 a week support, and her attorney's fees. Johnson received an automobile.

The Johnsons were married in Appleton Sept. 7, 1946.

Rosemary N. Bersch, 24, Winnebago, was allowed to resume her former name, Milner, in another divorce action charging cruel and inhuman treatment Friday. Judge Mueller directed Arnold W. Bersch, 30, route 2, Omro, to pay the plaintiff's attorney's fees and the sum of $500. The Bersch were married July 17, 1954, in Winnebago and had no children.
